Pool's Corner

THROUGH-THY-SPYING-GLASS
(With a slight nod to Lewis Carroll)
By Lewis Milligan

The Walrus and the Carpenter, Each with his little axe, Went looking round the market place.

"For something else to tax, 'Twould never on, they both agreed, To let the thing relax."

"It seems, we've covered everything," The Walrus said, with glee. To which the Carpenter replied, "What do you mean by 'we'?"

"Your civies!" said the Carpenter. "I have a family too; And it is growing every year,— I need more revenue. I don't see why I should not tax The sales as well as you."

"Alas, my friend," the Walrus said, "That is by law denied, Unless each article you tax Is plainly marked outside. But we might change the law so that Your sales tax it would hide."

"I have it!" said the Carpenter, Conveniently low. "A sales-turnover tax would be The very thing, I trow. The purchasers would pay, but They then would never know."

The Walrus and the Carpenter Were walking arm in arm. "I'm fixing that," the Walrus said, "It's acting like a charm. But it is up to you to keep Your people from alarm."

"I know just what you mean, my friend," The Walrus said, "and we Must put a stop at once to this Undue publicity. Are we not now at war to save Our dear democracy?"

This question stumped the Carpenter. And he tried hard to think. He looked the Walrus in the eye, And thought he saw it wink. As there was nothing more to say, They went and had a drink.

CONFETTI SHOWERS

MISS PATRICIA BAYLISS AS MANY GIFTS PRESENTED

A May bride-to-be, Patricia Bayliss was honored by the girls of Storey Glove making department with a miscellaneous shower held at the home of Mrs. Charles M. Holmes, Young St. Games and contests provided fun for part of the evening. Miss Bayliss, seated under a setting of pink and white streamers, was unexpectedly showered with confetti while a beautiful basket of gifts was being placed in front of her. After many bows and knots were untied Pat fittingly thanked everyone for her many gifts.

A bounteous lunch was then served by Mrs. F. Tournour and Mrs. A. Commando.

WOULD YOUR FARM BENEFIT FROM A FARM IMPROVEMENT LOAN?

Good machinery helps farmers increase production and cut costs. Thousands of farmers across Canada are installing such machinery today—often aided by a Farm Improvement Loan. Tractors, trucks and combines may be financed through Farm Improvement Loans. So can the improvement of farm-houses and out-buildings, clearing of land, purchase of livestock, and the installation of electricity and drainage systems.

Farm Improvement Loans are low in cost too—five per cent simple interest—and repayment can be made in easy instalments according to seasonal income.

If you feel that your farm would benefit from a Farm Improvement Loan, why not drop into the Bank of Montreal at Acton, and have a chat with Gordon Oder, the manager? He'll welcome the opportunity to discuss, in confidence, your particular plans and needs, and work out how an F.I.L. and the B of M can help you with your farm financing.
