

Wellington Behind In Control of Fly

Work is being done in Halton County on warble fly control, but in Wellington County, where only a couple of townships have warble fly laws in effect, considerable beef and milk is being lost each year from the prevalence of the fly among the cattle. Don A. Black, county agricultural representative, told Wellington County Council that in the nine adjoining counties—Bruce, Grey, Huron, Peel, Perth, Waterloo, Wentworth and Halton, warble fly control was found satisfactory.

Inadequacy of the control in Wellington was stressed by Mr. Black.

THE ASHBURY has a large utility room with three closets and a cabinet substitutes for a basement in this plan. It also houses the heating and laundry equipment.

A galley-type kitchen with cabinets on opposite walls allows for a large cross-lighted dining space in the kitchen. In addition, there is a double glazed picture window and a fireplace in the living room. Wardrobe closets in the bedrooms, three closets in the utility room, linen cabinet and coat closet provide for storage needs.

The first floor consists of an insulated slab on gravel fill. Exterior finish is asphalt shingle, with siding and a touch of brick in the front.

Overall dimensions are 44 feet by 27 feet, 6 inches. Area is 1,302 square feet, cubage 16,356.

INDIAN SQUAW'S PROPHECY TRUE, SEARCH ENDS AS SISTERS FOUND

An Indian squaw told Alf McPhail, formerly of this district, that he would find his two half-sisters who had been missing since 1903, and now, after 49 years, her prophecy has come true.

Mr. McPhail's two half-sisters were placed in the care of a convent in Hamilton when their mother died in Acton. The elder sister, Jennie, was born in Erin township in 1901 and the younger sister Annie in Acton in 1903. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Gibbons lived on Main St. south. Mrs. Gibbons died in 1903, and Mr. McPhail, who used to play with the two baby girls, never saw them after they were sent to a Hamilton convent for care.

In return for help with carrying out, the Manitoba squaw told Alf McPhail he would find his half-sister again. That was in 1919. In 1921, Mr. McPhail started his long search in earnest. Earlier attempts had ended in failure. The convent in Hamilton had no record of the children.

In 1950 he enlisted the aid of a Guelph lawyer, asking him to write to the company which administered the estate of the girls' mother. And this brought the long-awaited results.

The little girls were women of 49 and 50 when their half-brother saw them again just recently. Annie Gibbons now works at the House of Providence Convent in Dundas while Jennie Gibbons is at St. Mary's Hospital in Kitchener.

Others had hunted the pair a cousin had even come from the States to find them. Another came from Vancouver. Both found dead ends.

The relatives asked Mr. McPhail how ever he found the long lost girls. "I just did it," he says. The Indian squaw who foretold the event also told the young man that his head ached all the time. This was true, following an injury. She then told him it would be better and, several years later, with the help of a Winnipeg doctor, it was.

Other prophecies of the old squaw also came true. Mr. McPhail recalls.

Now he is content and is going back to Saskatchewan where he hopes to get a job on a farm.

WHO PAYS PENSIONS ?

The bad news is beginning to come from Ottawa about who will pay for the old age pensions. According to The Financial Post here's the plan: Your personal income tax jumps 2 per cent effective January 1. Corporation taxes are raised 2 per cent on the same date.

The remainder of the required contribution of $250-$260 millions (estimated initial cost of the $40 at 70 pensions) will come from earmarking for pension usage, the 2 per cent boost in sales tax put into effect last April.
