County Mill Rate Lower On Increase

This Members felt this matter could be handled by the building committee when they considered plans for additional office space on the main floor.

Deputy-reeve Fred Walker inquired just what could be done about truckers hauling full loads over county roads. He said he noticed a number travelling on county roads "heaped full". Reeve Geo. Leslie, chairman of the roads committee, announced it was not compulsory to have signs posted during March and April and truckers should know they were only allowed to carry half-loads during this period.

Walter Eaves, Milton, was again appointed Weed Inspector for the county. His salary is to be $60 per hour with a car allowance of 10c a mile.

Col. J. R. Barber, Lorne Scots Regiment, spoke to council, reviewing progress of the regiment during the past year. Council approved of the annual grant to the regiment of $500 and also $500 to the Lorne Scots Band.

Accounts authorized to be paid include: hospitals, $2,185.27; Home for the Aged, $505.75; county roads, $4,167.13; printing, $108.83; county buildings, $28.41; assessment, $27.25; agriculture and reforestation, $1,400.00; finance, $5,211.77.

Council endorsed a resolution from Burlington council who were seeking to have the Conservation Act amended to include erosion of the lakeshore. Deputy-reeve Shannon pointed out considerable damage had been caused by high waters of the lake but nothing was included in the act covering lake properties. He said the act covered conservation inland but did not help those people living along the lake.

It was also pointed out by Reeve Louder, a conservation committee was already established to consider the damage caused, which was being reviewed by both the federal and provincial governments.

ROCKWOOD
Missionary Home, Addresses Meeting

Last Friday afternoon, the W.M.S. of the Presbyterian Church held their Easter thanksgiving meeting. Invitations were extended to missionary societies of the United Church and St. John's Church. The guest speaker for the occasion was Miss Nellie Anderson of Acton, who is home on furlough from British Guiana. At the conclusion of the meeting, refreshments were served.

In the absence of Rev. Fred Williamson on Sunday morning, Mr. John Milton of Guelph conducted the service in the Presbyterian Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Gratton Barry and son returned home Sunday from a few weeks holiday in Florida.

The sympathy of the community extended to Mr. John Land in the passing of his father, Mr. Hugh Land, on Sunday.

Last Wednesday evening, the Men's Club of the United Church journeyed to Guelph to spend some time looking through the Guelph Mercury plant and its various departments in connection with work of publishing a daily paper.

Following a brief address by Mr. Hammel, manager, the men were assigned to small groups under guidance of a member of the Mercury staff, through each department, with those in charge giving some description of their line of work.

One interesting feature of the trip through the plant was the linotype machines, one in particular, fitted out with recording tape and operating independently. The presses were another interesting feature in turning out the issues of the daily paper and a dark room fitted out especially for newspaper illustrations. Following the trip through the plant, all assembled in the main room and a social time was enjoyed with members of the staff.

On the return to Rockwood, lunch was served in the Sunday School room, preceded by a brief singing. This is the last meeting for the present season.

POUNDING THE SPORTS BEAT
with A. Vengeance

This is the season of the year when the "wise birds" return from the land of knock nothing, kiddie! A "wise bird" is a fellow who knows all the answers. He figures there's an angle to everything and has no hesitation in letting the world know about it. His best known habit is his proclivity to return about the time of the hockey play-offs or around world war time.

He preaches the doctrine of distrust. His favourite discourse about this time centers on the Stanley Cup play-offs and generally he has a lot to say about the Memorial Cup, the Allen Cup or any other cup, including the tea cup. His favourite cup, of course, in the interest of charity will be called the "cup of good cheer", from which he is an indulgent drinker.

Sometimes he suffers a mild re-buke as in the case of the Wings-Maple Leaf series which he called to go seven games so "both clubs could pile up the lead," but this never daunted him! When the series was finished at four games he had another angle. The Leafs figured they'd lose money if they went higher on the income tax bracket, says he. It's all put up.

With gloom he points at the Boston-Montreal series which went seven full games. "What did I tell you," he screams, "phony, all put up." He prefers to ignore the facts and huris accusations, throws epithets and trades at sport of all kinds. We are all familiar with a guy like that.

However, take a night off sometime and go down to see the Maple Leafs or any other team play. Who's sitting in the front row, cheering like mad... yep, he doggoned if it ain't Mr. "Wise Bird".

Georgetown's 120 Club, a product of the Legion in that neck of the woods wrapped up the O.M.H.A. Juvenile "C" crown this year to bring Milton its first hockey title in 1952. Coach of the club was Scotty Patterson, Raider defenseman and native of Milton. The 120 Club practically waltzed to the title, easily defeating Havelock in the finals.

Bob Rumley and Don Anderson, both of Acton, played for the champs, Bob being an all star defenseman and Don playing star goal. Bob Rumley broke a bone in his ankle when the club met Delhi so he was forced to watch most of the playdowns from the sidelines.

If Milton is to have another hockey title someone will have to prod Milton Co-ops to greater heights than they've gone in the first two games against Simcoe Gunners. The Co-ops lost both games of the best-of-seven semi-final series to date, although they deserved a win last Monday night in Milton when the Gunners took a 5-4 decision. Simcoe has woven a win skein of 21 straight games and they intend to keep right on winning. They have a fast club, most of them young and the defense is big and brawny. The Gunners are well coached and up to this writing have restricted the usually potent Milton duo of Grenke and Scattolon to their own end of the rink.

Last night in Milton a large contingent of Acton fans sat in as the Co-ops absorbed another defeat, this time to the tune of 8-5. Acton's Ben Hayliss was one of the top hands for Milton. He notched a goal to boot. The Co-ops will lick their wounds now until Tuesday when the fourth and possibly final game will be played in Simcoe.

ACTON PEOPLE AND ACTON PLACES THROUGH MANY YEARS

The post office building was erected in 1913, but the building which it supplanted has a history of more than 30 years. It now stands on the rear of the lot on Willow St. where Hotchen's Bakery is now located. At one time the first floor was a storehouse and the second floor was occupied by the Acton Oddfellows who owned the building.

Duncan Kennedy built the foundation and it was a job he was very proud of. Cameron and Fullames were the carpenters and Oliver Louler did the plastering and roughcasting. It was known as the Post Office store. The late Postmaster, James Matthews, then in his prime, had fine post office and telegraph quarters in the rear, and a commodious grocery and crockery store in front.

It was on one side of this store that the Hynds' jewellery business was established in 1877. George Hynds had completed his apprenticeship in Orangeville and with his brother Charles formed a partnership. More of the post office next week.
