Sending Money Away?

This Way Is Safe and Simple Too

If you are sending money away for any purpose, you want to be quite sure that it will reach its destination. Well, here's as safe a way of sending money as you can find, and one that's both simple and inexpensive.

Drop into your local branch of the Bank of Montreal, and purchase a B of M Money Order. Such money orders are payable without charge anywhere in Canada (except in the Yukon). Slip the money order into an envelope, mail it, and you can rest happy in the knowledge that you've assured the best protection at really low cost. And you know, too, that the person at the other end won't have to be bothered with any exchange charge; he'll get the full face value of the money order.

If you have to send money anywhere more rapidly than by post, have a word with Orme Hunt, the accountant at the B of M branch in Acton. He'll make sure that your funds are rushed to their destination by the B of M's special telegraphic and cable system.

"TEMPEST TOST"
By Robertson Davies

For a delightful evening with a story that's witty and most charmingly exaggerated, take home from the library Robertson Davies' "Tempest Tost". Anybody who has had a part in amateur plays will get a special kick out of the constant trials and appalling tribulations of the Saltorton Little Theatre group and the precocious, middle-aged school teacher, Hector Macklin, who takes his last fling at love and the stage at the same time unfortunately for him, the rest of the cast, and the audience. It's by no means an unfortunate casting for the readers of this recent best-seller, though.

Robertson Davies, editor of the Peterborough Examiner, naturally writes in an easy, flowing style with wit and humor avoirt together to make "Tempest Tost" a first rate piece of writing.

His popular "Diary" and "Table Talk of Samuel Marchbanks" pointed to the same attractive style, yet were actually essays. Now a volume of localized fiction is bound to find wide appeal, both in Ontario where it is located; and all through the continent wherever there are amateur theatricals, and wherever there are readers who like to smile.

HOME NURSING TAUGHT TO BLIND, DEAF BY THE RED CROSS

The Canadian Red Cross every year trains thousands of women in home nursing, enabling them to take over the care of their own families when sickness strikes in the home. In Toronto, last year a class of blind women completed the home nursing course and later embarked on another phase of Red Cross work; that of making dressings for the Blood Transfusion Service.

A class of totally deaf and hard of hearing was also formed. One of the totally deaf, on completion of her course, made a complete set of baby woollens. Among the difficulties encountered in teaching this class was a method of interpreting the instructions; an interpreter was found who made the necessary signs, and she herself took the home nursing course along with the handicapped members.

A young girl's ideal is often shattered but more often he's merely broke.

C.C.F. NATO Stand Told Association

Stanley Allen of Georgetown was elected president of the Halton County C.C.F. Association at the annual meeting of the group in Milton on April 3, in the Farmer's Hall.

Other officers are as follows: vice-president, Frank Roglater, Milton; secretary-treasurer, J. McIntosh, Nelson; organizer, Reginald Crews, Oakville.

The following committee members were also elected: Frank Parmer, Georgetown; Wm. Coleman, Acton; Mrs. M. Dinney, Burlington; Archie Service, Milton; S. D. McDonald, Bramble; John Tilt, Nelson Township.

John Alexander was elected as the member from the riding to attend the provincial council and delegates were named to attend the annual provincial convention to be held in Toronto this week. It was decided to have a candidate in the field as soon as possible.

F. Young, provincial organizer, then gave the meeting an inspiring address, pointing out that the C.C.F. had been condemned in the past for insisting that the government institute measures of social welfare, such as family allowances and unemployment insurance, but that these measures are now taken quite for granted. He said that although the C.C.F. has done a good job in this way in the past, it still had a tremendous job ahead of it and hard work on the part of individual members was needed to accomplish results in the future.

Mr. Young also reviewed the C.C.F. stand on NATO and pointed out that while Canada had spent $19 billions in fighting the last war, while still maintaining a high standard of living in this country, they had offered only $25 millions for the economic fight against Communism through the Colombo Plan. He pointed out that the only effective weapon against Communism was economic aid of this sort and that an emphasis on rearmament to the detriment of the economic aid would increase the danger of Communist expansion instead of decreasing it. He ended his speech with the quotation "Bear ye one another's burdens and so fulfill the law of Christ."

Investigation at the Brandon, Man., Experimental Farm for the past five years indicate that the average cost of baling hay in the field in the Brandon and Melita districts was $2.87 per ton. This covers all costs including wages.
