All love knots should be tied with a single best.

The first tennis of the season has been played on Acton courts.

Mother's Day this Sunday; many wear flowers to mark the date.

Gardens in many yards have been put in but it still seems to be rather early.

The Children's Aid Society held its annual meeting on Wednesday evening of this week.

Spring cleaning has reached the outside of many homes this week with the help of paint brushes and rakes.

Back to the season when it's so pleasant to drive around the country. Many took drives to see the blossoms on Sunday.

Fish caught both near town and up north specialized in quantity rather than quality, according to reports. None were outstandingly large.

The Legion has erected a railing in front of the Acton memorial on Mill St. The work was done under the supervision of Mike McMillan.

Although there was talk of frost on Tuesday evening, a thermometer in Acton which registers the highest and lowest points each day recorded 34 degrees as the night's chilliest.

Wellington county council has been asked to establish a museum somewhere in the county. Mrs. T. J. Hannigan of Guelph and Miss Ada Clarke of Coppringe made the appeal to council.

Members of the Rotary Club endorsed and given polo cases at their Tuesday supper meeting. W. Beatty gave the report. Several guests were present.

Everyone has likely seen on his calendar by now that the 24th of May falls on a Saturday this year. No holiday, but youngsters will be able to stay up later to watch the fireworks.

Dipping, temperatures and rising winds early this week dampened spring spirits a little. It didn't dampen them enough, though, according to the farmers. Rain is quite badly needed for the crops.

About 100 ladies from Brantford to Guelph attended the spring rally of the Guelph Association of Baptist churches in the Acton Baptist church Tuesday. About 80 enjoyed supper provided by the Acton ladies.

Representatives of Acton scouts attended a meeting of the Halton Scouts in Oakville, Thursday, May 1. Major John Steele, the new county scout commissioner, spoke briefly and slides on conservation were shown.

R. P. Bourne of Limehouse was among the group that graduated from the Royal Military College—the first group to graduate since 1948. He is also one of the group of 14 who will leave early in the summer for Korea.

Inadvertently omitted from the obituary of the late Mrs. H. Smallman last week, among the floral tributes, were the names of Mrs. Verna Louth, Georgetown and Brotherhood Workers Smith and Stone, Local 788 I.B.E.W.

WHITE SATIN GOWN, LONG VEIL WORN BY SATURDAY BRIDE

Wearing a white satin gown with a floor length veil, Eldora Mae McCauley, Acton, Ontario, was married by Rev. Father Morgan to Edward Joseph McGilloway, Acton, St. Joseph's Church, Acton, was decorated with pink and white carnations and snapdragons for the morning ceremony on May 3.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex McCauley of Acton and the groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. McGilloway of Acton.

With her gown, the bride wore a matching headpiece of satin flowers and carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Jacqueline Chew of Acton was bridesmaid, wearing a pale green gown with matching head-dress and carrying yellow roses. James McGilloway, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were Leo McGilloway, brother of the groom, and Ronald Anderson.

Four choir girls, with Miss Mulholland at the organ, provided the music.

Receiving the guests after the ceremony at the Alton Hotel, Mrs. McCauley wore a navy suit with matching hat and a corsage of pink carnations. She was assisted by Mrs. McGilloway, who chose a green silk velvet dress with navy and white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Guests were present from Acton, Alton and Guelph.

"For a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and Buffalo, the bride chose a grey suit with navy accessories with a light green coat. They will reside in Acton.

PERSONAL LIBERTY

John Stuart Mill, the great English philosopher, writing on the subject of liberty, spoke of the need for protection against "the tyranny of prevailing opinion and feeling." "There is a limit," he said, "to the legitimate interference of collective opinion with individual independence; and to find that limit, and maintain it against encroachment, is as indispensable to a good condition of human affairs, as protection against political despotism."

Honor Couple As Neighbors Gather

A pleasant evening was held in Limehouse Memorial Hall on the evening of May 7, when the friends and neighbors of Miss Inez Scott and Mr. J. Creighton gathered to wish them all the good things in life and to shower them with many and beautiful gifts.

The early part of the evening was spent in a friendly game of euchre. Prize winners were Mrs. C. Cross and Mr. R. Latimer. Mrs. D. Scott and Mr. Wilf Harding won consolations.

Mrs. E. Karn read an address to the happy couple and they were presented with many gifts. Mr. Creighton replied on behalf of his bride-to-be and himself.

Lunch was served, after which Karn's orchestra furnished music and all enjoyed an hour or two of dancing.

VACATIONING COLUMNIST MEETS ACTONIAN AT ELEUTHERA

Napier Moore, noted columnist in the Financial Post, met an Actonian on his vacation. He told in a recent article how he baffled inquirers by modestly stating he spent his holidays in "Eleuthera." ("It's an island in the Bahamas.") "On this trip (on the boat) there were only two other passengers—a small girl and a Roman Catholic priest, who carried on board a beautifully carved statue of the virgin. He said he had been on a long mission, showing the statue all over those myriad islands. . . we told him we were from Toronto, in Canada. He said, Then you know Scarborough Bluffs. That's where I come from. We told him our name was Moore — Father Patrick Moore."

"A few days later we visited the Rock Sound Club, away at the other end of the island. Pete McNab, the manager, came from Acton, Ont. and Mrs. McNab from Niagara Falls.
