CARROLL'S

LYNN VALLEY PEAS

SPECIAL PROCESS

2 30-OZ. TINS

29c Our Special Low Price

Special Process Peas are more like fresh Peas than any other kind. They are uniformly tender and the special process retains their fresh green color. These Lynn Valley Peas were packed for Aylmer brand, but the color does not quite measure up to the high standard set for the Aylmer label. Therefore we are able to sell this lot to you at a saving of 8 1/2c a tin—while they last.

LIMEHOUSE To Join Infantry Brigade In Korea (intended for last week)

Lt.-Col. and Mrs. Bourne are in Kingston in connection with their son's graduation from Royal Military College, Cadet Sqdn. Ldr. Robert P. (Robin) Bourne will later go to Korea to join the 25th Infantry Brigade.

Mrs. Jean Roughley of Edmonton, after several weeks with her son here, left on Monday for Chicago, where she will spend a month with her daughter before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Spitzer visited at Galt on Sunday.

Miss Shirley Wright is on a holiday in Florida.

We are sorry that Tommy Sutton is in Sick Children's Hospital with pneumonia but hope that he makes a speedy recovery.

The Wrights visited in London on Sunday.

Recent visitors:

Mr. Wm. Hall and Carol and Mrs. James Black of Dunnville with Mr. and Mrs. James Noble.

Mr. and Mrs. Weiler of Toronto with the Geary's.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Campbell and Billie of Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Trotter of Stratford, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Norton and Barbara of Acton and Mrs. Lorne Norton of Georgetown with Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Norton.

Mr. Alex Wright home from Toronto.

Mrs. Gordon Walker of London with the S. Wrights.

Miss W. Polkinghorne of Swansea with Miss Ivana.

Mrs. Whiteford of Edmonton with the Roughley's.

A meeting in connection with the Hospitalization Insurance Plan for Halton was held in Limehouse Memorial Hall last Tuesday evening with Mrs. E. Sanford as chairman. Mr. R. Heatherington was special speaker and a panel discussion followed.

Invitations had been sent to surrounding farm forums and Women's Institutes to attend. The children from S. S. No. 9 provided vocal numbers as sung at the recent festival, accompanied by their teacher, Miss Jean Ruddell. Lunch was served.

O.A.C. Haymakers Down Eisen's 6-3
(intended for last week)

O.A.C. Haymakers handed Eisen's their second straight loss of the current Eramosa District softball season with a 6-3 decision last Thursday night in an abbreviated seven-inning contest. Cold weather prompted the Acton club to commit five errors and the Haymakers made hay while the sun shined.

The loss shoved Eisen's back into an even seven mark of two wins and two losses. Tuesday's game with Rockwood was rained out. Tonight O.A.C. Aggies come here and the locals will be gunning for their third win.

"Dude" Lindsay went the distance on the mound for Eisen's, giving up eight hits, one of them a gopher ball that was tagged for a long home run. Scanlon, the Haymaker's sprightly righthand pitcher wrapped a six hit blanket around the Acton bats, spacing his hits in all innings except the second when Acton collected three runs off as many hits.

Fife Somerville led the Acton bats with two hits in three trips.

Acton Group At Guelph Area Rally

On Saturday afternoon, May 31, a large rally of all the teen-age girls' groups of the Guelph Presbyterial was held in Riverside Park, Guelph, under the direction of the secretary for girls' work, Mrs. Cleghorn of Guelph. The Daughters of Knox Presbyterian Church, Acton, attended in full strength, making this their regular picnic meeting as well.

A complete program, following the pattern of a day at camp, was arranged. There were well chosen sports and games under the direction of the Galt group, a rousing songing conducted by the Ferguson group and action stories conducted by the Preston group. All these events worked up a good appetite which was fully satisfied by the picnic supper under the supervision of the Comberville group.

Introduced by Mrs. Cleghorn, the guest speaker, Miss Isabel Scott, Deaconess of Brantford, brought the girls a most inspiring message. This was followed by a weight workshop service conducted by the Daughters of Knox, Acton, with their president, Ruth Smith, as leader.

Following the benediction, the Guelph group brought a large and pleasant rally to a close.

CANADA LEADS WORLD

Canada is the first, and still the only country in the world, to make extensive use of airplanes to transport first-class mail at ordinary postage rates. Deputy Postmaster General Walter J. Turnbull said recently,

Chronicles of Ginger Farm

Written Specially for the Acton Free Press by Gwendolene F. Clarke

A few weeks ago there was a slight hue and cry regarding the practise of sealing food containers with wire staples. I was greatly in sympathy with that objection, packages so sealed were hard to open and a staple flew while being pried open there was no telling where it had landed. But household supplies were not our only worry.

Laying mash, which now comes in paper bags was also fastened with staples—a bigger and stronger variety. One had to be very careful in prying them off in case one of the staples might accidentally drop into the laying mash. Finding a needle in a haystack would be no more difficult than looking for wire staples in a bag of laying mash. And wire staples can hardly be recommended as a good supplementary addition to the laying hens' regular ration. One staple imbedded in the gizzard of a hen could cause serious trouble.

Which reminds me... one time we had a rooster—a fine, healthy specimen of a bird, who suddenly went off his feed. He didn't appear to be sick but moped around on the roost all day. He finally recovered. Some months later the rooster was killed to provide roast chicken for our table.

When I cleaned the poor thing I found a three-inch nail stuck right through his gizzard—in much the same way as a Cupid's arrow is pictured through the heart. How the rooster ever-lived is a mystery. Small wonder it sat around on the roost.

And so, thinking of the nail, I was very glad last week to find laying mash was machine-stitched across the top instead of being fastened with staples. Now I am hoping the growers will discontinue the practise of using little staples to fasten bags of raisins, currants and other food stuffs that come to the store in bulk.

Well, we have run into telephone trouble. For months I have been carrying the telephone company's pet bull news on our phone half the time it was impossible to recognize the ring, with the result that I was always butting in on calls that were meant for other parties on the line. Finally we got our bells.

When the telephone rings it scares the life out of me also about the dogs. So we have dogs barking and the phone ringing all at the same time.

Well, that's all right in the daytime—we can get used to it. But Saturday night we were dead to the world—and of course the telephone had to ring I thought it was about two in the morning, and I knew Bob wasn't home so it isn't hard to guess what my first thoughts were. By the time I took down the receiver I was shivering. It was Daughtier—and the time was 11:30 p.m.

Still early hours for city folk but the middle of the night to us older folk down on the farm. Daughter had tried to get us earlier in the evening but couldn't get through. The call was to tell us she and a friend would be over in the morning. For the week-end we also had Partner's brother and daughter Betty, also Bob and a friend of his. Two of them are with us yet and will be until Tuesday noon. Brother Colin is busy making window screens. Nothing like putting your visitors to work!

It has been a lovely week-end—the first warm weather we have had this year. And just when we were threatening to get a small space heater. Up until now we have been too warm with a furnace.

Ontario President At Alberta Meet

Leaving Friday, June 8 for Edmonton by train is David Pelletterio, Ash, president of the Ontario Junior Farmers. He will fly back to Ontario on June 26 after attending sessions of the conference of the Junior Section of the Farmers' Union of Alberta during the 34th annual Farm Young People's Week.

The conference is being held at the University of Alberta at Edmonton. He will also visit Banff and other places of interest in the area.

Also attending the conference are Mildred Parkinson of Hillsburgh, Wellington County, and two of four Scottish delegates in Canada, Robert Thompson of Lawrence Kirk. When David Pelletterio was in Scotland on a trip two years ago, he stayed at the West Bahagarty home of Mr. Thompson. Mrs. Johnstone of Drochil Castle, West Linton, Scotland, will also attend.

going, and too cold without it. That is what happens when the house is insulated. A space heater in the living-room would just about do the trick and keep the house comfortable for in-between seasons.

Last night we had our first thunderstorm of the season, but it didn't amount to much. Not here, at least. According to radio reports there was plenty of damage along the shores of Lake Simcoe. Bob would probably run into it on his way back to camp Sunday night.

Surprising the difference a week's growth gives to the country. Alfalfa and timothy are quite a good height now and red clover is coming into bloom. Strawberries are in more plentiful supply—and do they look tempting! But I suppose potatoes will compete with strawberries for first favour in the public eye.

One day last week I had a postcard from a friend holidaying in Virginia. I was amused at the message she sent: "Wonderful time! beautiful scenery, first-class meals—but no potatoes!" Maybe someone will come along with a popular song—"Yes, we have no potatoes!" Shortage of potatoes may be inconvenient but it can hardly be called a national calamity—it may even be advantageous by eliminating some of the starch from our daily diet.

"The die has now been cast"

An American manufacturer was planning to open a plant in Canada. He considered various locations and found what seemed a likely site. He talked to a local bank manager, got facts about the community and its facilities. Some time later the company wrote to the banker:

"The die has now been cast. It is our intention to locate in S... We feel that it is well suited to our particular operation. You have been of great aid to us. Your accurate and rapid presentation of facts necessary to reach a decision was top-notch."

Such letters show how a branch bank serves not only its own depositors and other customers but how, by assisting business development, it benefits the whole community.
