Acton High School News

By Carolyn Oakes
 Last Thursday afternoon, an assembly was held in Room 1 in which the examination exemption list was read. The girls really showed up the boys this year. Kathleen Stanley, Jean McCrea, Nancy Lambert, Ruth Smith, Betty Williamson and Barbara Turner were exempt in all subjects and so they were finished their school year.
 On Friday afternoon, an assembly was held at 1:15 and all the students and teachers were divided into four teams for some games. Joy Hotell, Isabel Ritchie, Joyce Farmer and Sheila O'Rourke were captains.
 Sheila's team won the play-off game. A lunch was served on the "A.H.S." where lots of sandwiches and each student was given a bottle of pop and an ice cream cone.
 Presentations were made of a musical powder box to Miss Gamble and a smoking stand to Mr. and Mrs. Heron, who are leaving A.H.S. and then pictures were taken.
 Thus ended school for another year, that is except for examinations.
 Monday was a school holiday and Tuesday the Lower School started writing exams. The first Grade 13 departmental examination is held on Wednesday. It is hoped that none of the Grade 13 students are superstitious because they are all writing on Friday the 13th.
 If the girls are successful in their examinations, five of the Upper School class intend to go to Normal School next year, that is Yvonne Brunelle, Lorene Rozel, Shirley Thompson, Dorothy Wame and Carolyn Oakes. June Elliott is planning to attend Ryerson Institute of Technology. I'm sure the students wish them all the best of luck.
 And so as the school year closes at A.H.S., so this column closes for the summer and next fall another student will report the news of A.H.S.
 Editor's Note: We sincerely appreciate Carolyn's co-operation during the past year in reporting the events of Acton High.

BALLINAFAD
Mrs. Rathburn Is Teacher Next Term

Mrs. Shortill, who has been teaching at Peacock School for the past six years, has been hired at Blue Mountain and Mrs. Rathburn of Hillsburgh will be the teacher at Peacock for the next term.
 There were no services here on Sunday owing to anniversary services at Melville when Rev. Duncan Foster was the guest speaker.
 Miss Agnes Gibb of Galt visited with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Gibb over the week-end.
 The Sunday School picnic was held on Monday at Stanley Park in Erin.
 Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Algar of Hamilton visited with Mr. and Mrs. Arnold McEnery on Sunday.

Mrs. J. Ellerby Heads Institutes

 Mrs. Brown told of the committee being conducted through the almost finished home for the aged in Milton, which is called "The Halton Centennial Manor." Over $500.00 was subscribed by the branches in Halton County for a gift to this home and two large radio and record players and a small radio have been purchased with this money.
 Suitable name plates have been attached to these gifts. There are albums of music also.
 Mrs. John Milton, displayed two cotton dress and accessories and told of her work as a leader with the Ashgrove and Norval girls clubs. Mrs. Ellerby spoke briefly of the leather work displayed and in which she gave classes this past year.
 Mrs. A. McKinney of Peel County judged the two entries in the quilt competition sponsored by the Salada Tea Co. They were much admired by the ladies, first prize going to Dublin W.I. and second to Limehouse W.I. Institute program had previously been submitted for competition and Mrs. Ellerby of Brampton judged them as follows: first Mountain Union W.I., second Silver-Wood W.I. and third Scotch Block W.I.
 Roll call was answered by each District Director naming an historical spot in her district.

Mrs. J. Davidson, Acton, gave a beautiful solo, accompanied by the organ, and a slight and amusing diversion occurred when her small son walked quietly into the choir loft and sat down. There were two other solos, one by Marilyn Rowland, aged 10, and one by June Elliott, aged 7, which were much enjoyed. Mrs. L. Crawford led the community singing.
 Mrs. L. Crawford thanked all who participated and she expressed the feeling of every lady when she proclaimed it a most successful District Annual.
 Flin Flin, third largest centre in Manitoba, was named after Flintstone, a character in the story, "Sunless City."

POUNING THE SPORTS BEAT

with A. Vengeance

Long weeks of practice, gruelling sessions to condition sinews and bones to the task will all be culminated on Saturday night here when the B-Fives meet the Brant-Norfolk Mohawks in their lacrosse debut. The Mohawks are heralded as one of the league's question marks. They have signed a number of first rate players but as one is sure of just how strong they are, they should meet their match in the B-Fives. The Acton club is shaping up into a well drilled unit. They've been handicapped by players working the night shift unable to report to practice but Sunday 10 men went through a strenuous work-out that had the perspiration rolling off in small rivers.
 Like all good things, however, there is a nigger in the woodpile. Streetsville has strings attached to two Acton players, John Brunski and Larry Talfer, who are better prospects, and they won't release them. In spite of attempts at some settlement the Streetsville officials shudder at the thought of losing one, let alone two of their key men.
 No of their key men.
 No desire to play for Streetsville and are determined to wear B-Hive livery this season. They are both reported to have said they would give up lacrosse this year rather than play for Streetsville. But this had no effect on the Streetsville executive. They claimed they had 13 green players this year, fellows who never played organized hockey before, and they needed these men to round out a team.

On the other hand, B-Hive brass are determined they are going to secure the release of both Krapek and Brunski and veiled hints were thrown they might play them anyway, in spite of the Streetsville refusal, leaving the decision up to the O.L.A. Saturday night will probably tell whether Streetsville's dog-in-the-manger attitude has any effect on the line-up.
 Probable starting line-up will see Norm Young in goal. He's a fast kid with his hands and he has fast reflexes, one of the essentials for a netminder. On defense Tom Howell, John Haines, Bill Louth, Zeke McCandless and Doug Townsend will handle the chores and up to date they are one of the team's strong points.
 Up front, Junior Braumant is Rover and his speed on skates is not noticeably slackened on the lacrosse field. G. Evans, John Brunski and Walt Alexander, Bob Leslie, Arnie Hesel, Bob Wilson, John Krapek, Larry Talfer, Jim Cleave, Bob Heppburn, and Al South complete the team. Coach, of course, is Mill Burrows.

We want to correct the impression some people in town have. The first regular game scheduled. A parade will form at the C.N.R. station as part of the opening ceremonies introducing lacrosse back to Acton.
 A schedule is included in this issue and you might be wise to check the team's home dates. Most of them will be played on Saturday night. Game time is 9:00 p.m.

Acton-Georgetown Combines did play Campbellville here last Saturday in spite of what this column pointed out. Campbellville won an easy 14-9 victory and subsequently took over first place in the Halton County baseball league.
 It wasn't necessarily a strong display from Campbellville that won them the game. In fact, we'd be more apt to say it was ineptness on the Combine's part, especially on the mound that cost them the decision. Spike Scott hurled the first seven innings and he had nothing but a prayer. The left-hander sent in to replace him was better, but didn't measure up to what the league is used to. Campbellville didn't show much better in the way of pitchers, parading three before Roberts, the sensational young lefty, was elected to mow a bid by the Combines in the sixth.
 Dowling and Earl Cairns both hit home runs for the Campbellville while Lloyd Robinson, smashed a ground rules double into the tree in right field for the best attempt by the Combines.

Harold Townsley played well behind the batter for the Combines as well as lashing out a couple of singles. The Campbellville boys had two or three errors but nothing to compare to the bobbles in the Combine infield. We're convinced the Combines can do much better if they have better pitching. Saturday it was woefully weak.

Wedding Catering Planned by Guild
 St. Alban's Guild held their June meeting in the Parish Hall with 26 members present and the president, Mrs. Thos Jones, presiding. The minutes of the last meeting were read by Mrs. Wilson in the absence of the secretary and the financial report was given by the treasurer, Mrs. Newton.
 Mrs. C. Nelles, convener of the supper for the men who had built the parish hall, gave a report.
 Plans to cater to two wedding receptions were discussed and also a closing party for Guild members.
 The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction and a delightful lunch was served.

Eisen's Withstand Rally To Win 7-4

Eisen's withstood a ninth inning rally by Everton Hilliers to exact a 7-4 win here Tuesday night in an Erasmus district softball fixture. A cold, biting wind of high velocity swept the diamond, keeping spectators to a minimum in addition to making fielding difficult.
 "Dudo" Lindsay was the winning pitcher, going the distance and weakening only in the ninth when Everton scored three runs. Cross hurled for Everton. He gave up four runs in the second inning, one in the fourth and two in the eighth.
 Ray Everdale and Vic Masters scored three and two runs respectively to pace the Acton team.
 Eisen—V. Masters rf, Stewart 3b, Rayliss 1b, Lindsay p, Snyder sr, Quintelle 2b, Somerville c, Lorne Masters c, Zujac cf, Everdale rf.
 Everton—Hastelle 3b, Duffield ss, Justin 2b, Stewart c, Cross p, Mellor cf, Martin 1b, Parker if, Weatherston rf, p.

ACTON PEOPLE AND ACTON PLACES THROUGH MANY YEARS

Thomas Marshall, a shoemaker was famous for his garden on Mill St. in which he often encountered youngsters sampling his produce in the fall of the year. In his old age Mr. Marshall became weak mentally. He had been away from Acton for a number of years and one day turned up unexpectedly at John Speight's shop.
 "Can you lend me a couple of dollars, John?" Unsuspectingly Mr. Speight's generous nature at once responded and the two dollars changed hands. With the characteristic civility of his mental condition, the old man spread out his red bandana handkerchief on the ground and carefully tied up the $2.
 Turning to his generous friend, Mr. Marshall said, "What's the using of having friends if you don't use them," and started off. He was never again seen in Acton.
