BY APPOINTMENT

"The Lapp not only finds his way perfectly about his country—that is beyond dispute. He also, it is said, will set off to meet a fellow Lapp fifty miles away in a particular glade, say in two days' time—and will meet him, having exchanged no visible communication first." —Tom Hopkinson speaking in a BBC program about his visit to Lapland.

Fashion Hint

Two days till the first of summer, speaking in complete disregard of the weather and just of the calendar. And isn't summer when the children shine at their shiniest and then switch to their dirty middiest? Here's one tot all dressed for summer visiting.

Many of the little girls' dresses this summer are sleeveless, just like mother's. Should be easier to make, too. The little girls really are the best off as far as choice and fashion go—again like mother. They can have colors the rainbow never thought of, in all kinds of materials, with smocking, tiny petticoats, hairbows... so this illustration is shown especially as a break for the wee boys. This striped blazer and cap are really cute and he's not old enough yet to resent it!

Keep your fingers crossed—any junior fashion plate might decide to make a mud pie any minute.

ACTON GUESTS

ATTEND DOUBLE RING CEREMONY IN ARTHUR SAT.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church Arthur, was the scene of a pretty, double ring ceremony on Saturday, June 14, when Wilma Joan Hutchinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hutchinson, was united in marriage to Robert Joseph Childerley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Childerley, Guelph. Rev. Arthur Leggett officiated at the three o'clock ceremony.

Miss Helen Armstrong at the console of the organ, played the wedding music, and Miss Jessie Hawkins, cousin of the bride, sang "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register. Pink and white peonies with a background of ferns decorated the church.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride looked lovely in a ballerina length gown of mist white shadow lace and net, fashioned with a strapless bodice, and a cover-up jacket of lace with sweetheart neckline illusion. The very full skirt featured a lace overskirt edged with rouching, and the gathered net fell with bouffant folds. She wore a fingertip nylon veil gathered at the crown with seed pearls and carried a nosegay of red roses and lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Beulah Hutchinson, sister of the bride, was maid of honor in a ballerina length dress of mauve nylon marquisette over taffeta with a sheer strapless bodice, and curaway bolero fastened at the pointed collar. The skirt was gathered at the waist, giving a side panier effect about the straight front and back panel. She wore matching hat and shoes and carried a nosegay of roses and assorted flowers.

Miss Joan Childerley, Guelph, sister of the groom, and Miss Doreen Steele, Acton, friend of the bride, were bridesmaids in ballerina length gowns similar to the maid of honor, the former in wedgewood green and the latter in wheat yellow. They wore matching shoes and hats, and carried nosegays of roses and assorted flowers.

Miss Sharon Humphries, niece of the groom, was sweet in a ballerina length dress of mauve nylon marquisette, with matching accessories and carrying a nosegay of assorted flowers.

Andrew Nessner, Breslau, was best man and Victor Cracknell, of Guelph, brother-in-law of the groom, and Kenneth Hutchinson, brother of the bride, were ushers.

A reception for 135 guests was held in the church basement, decorated for the occasion with sweet peas and lily-of-the-valley. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake.

To receive her guests Mrs. Hutchinson wore deep mauve sheer dress trimmed with lace, blue accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. To assist her the groom's mother wore a navy sheer dress, navy accessories, a corsage of red roses.

For a wedding trip, to points north, the bride chose a white and blue nylon dress, navy and white coat, matching accessories and wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Guests were present from Niagara Falls, N.Y.; St. Catharines, Delton, Sudbury, Simcoe, Guelph, Acton, London, Norval, Grand Valley, Rockwood, Elora, Breslau, Toronto, Preston, Damascus, Fergus, Arthur.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Childerley will reside in Guelph.

The use of chemicals to control weeds on summerfallow at the Experimental Sub-station at Regina, Sask., has not been practical in most years because of resistant weeds and volunteer grain. The cultivation required to control resistant plants also controls the weeds susceptible to 2, 4-D and other chemicals.

I WAS CHURCHILL'S SHADOW by ex-Detective Inspector W. H. Thompson

While Winston Churchill is still in the public eye, with books of his own rating high on best-seller lists, another book on the statesman is not a surfeit but a valuable different angle. This intimate biography of Churchill during the war was written by his own bodyguard, W. H. Thompson.

Thompson, and Thompson only, was responsible for the prime minister's personal safety during his visits through England and Europe and during the bombing of London.

Thompson was always in the public eye himself, although the public didn't know it! He was generally a step behind Mr. Churchill, looking as if he just happened to be there to meet a friend. Yet all the time he had his hand on his gun. He worked 120 hours a week.

He knew his life, as well as British ministers' was in danger. Thompson was at conferences on the Atlantic, at Quebec, Washington, the Kremlin, Teheran and North Africa.

He was also able to assess Roos, Stalin, Smuts, Generals Montgomery and Eisenhower. And of course he has had a wonderful insight into Churchill's own personality. Personal incidents add much to the biography.

Thompson was a retired detective turned grocer when the war began. And very few grocers receive messages from prime ministers reading, "Meet Me." He had been delegated by Scotland Yard to guard Churchill for 11 years before his retirement.

"I was Churchill's Shadow" is dedicated to the author's son, who was reported missing in 1943.

As well as producing the material for such a timely biography, being Churchill's shadow had another advantage for the detective-inspector. He married Churchill's secretary.

NO REST FOR THE OLD

"All doctors know that prolonged inactivity is dangerous for old people. You see, a disused organ goes to seed. In other words, it rapidly declines. Rest is for the young; it's very unsafe to rest old people.—A surgeon speaking in a BBC program called "An Active Old Age."
