THE MIXING BOWL
by Anne Allan

Hello Homemakers! All the old favorites and possibly a few fruits you've never canned, may find their way into sealers this year. It is with pride and satisfaction that our perishables can be processed at home for epicurean desserts. For surer success, prepare only fresh clean fruit and use sterilized jars with new rubber rings or new metal lids with a sealing compound.

MAKE A TIP

1. Only sealers FREE from cracks, nicks and uneven edges should be used.
2. Scrub sealers and glass lids thoroughly in hot, soapy water and rinse in clear, hot water. Place sealers (topped with glass lids on a cookie sheet and sterilize in preheated oven (250 degs.) for 20 minutes. Dip rubber rings and metal lids into boiling water for about 1 minute before using.
3. Sort fruit for size and maturity. Wash small quantities at a time. Peel, store or blanch if necessary.
4. For most small fruit (raspberries, strawberries, gooseberries, cherries and diced rhubarb) prepare hot syrup and pour over cold fruit. Fill 1 cup sugar in 1 1/2 cups water for each "small" quart of fruit.
5. Pack sealers carefully with fruit. (To prevent glass cracking, place hot, empty sealers on a dry folded paper.) Then add syrup; slide the blade on a knife down the sides of each sealer to remove any air bubbles.
6. Process in the oven if you use pints or the "small" quarts. Heat oven to 275 degrees using bake or lower oven element only. Be sure that screw-top and spring top sealers are only partially sealed. Place even a half on the second shelf from bottom. Insert cookie sheet on shelf and place filled jars 3 inches apart. Work quickly so that there is not too much heat loss. Wait until temperature dial indicates the first return of 275 degrees, then start to count processing time.
7. Process pints of berries for 25 mins., qts. for 30 mins. Process pints of cherries for 20 mins., qts. for 20 mins. Process pints of plums for 20 mins., qts. for 20 mins. Process pints of tomatoes for 20 mins., qts. for 20 mins. Process pints of hot fruit juices for 15 mins., qts. for 15 mins.
- NOTE—Process filled jars in hot-water bath for 10 mins. less time.
8. After removing glass sealers of cooked fruit place on folded newspapers. When the bubbling has ceased, tighten tops or screw bands.
9. Invert jars AFTER cooled to test if screw-type do not leak. (When vacuum-type sealers are used, tap lids gently and if properly sealed they will give a clear ringing note.)
10. Wine containers with a damp cloth, then dry. Label each jar and store in a cool, dark place.

THE QUESTION BOX

Mrs. B. S. asks: Should jars of cooked berries be opened when there is an empty space between the syrup and the top of the rim?

Answer: No, do not open processed jars unless the test for leakage (when jars are cool) indicates they are not sealed. The air space above the syrup will not cause spoilage.

Mrs. R. K. asks: What has happened when syrup leaks out of jars of fruit during processing?

Answer: Syrup may ooze out of jars during processing period when the temperature is too high in the oven or when the water is not over the top of the jars in the hot water bath. Then, too, never allow filled sealers or tin cans to stand and cool before processing.

Mrs. G. A. asks: Should jars be removed from the water bath as soon as the processing time is up, or should we let them cool in the hot water.

Answer: Jars should be removed from the hot water bath or the oven as soon as the processing time is completed. We suggest tying a 2 inch wide strip of clean cotton around each jar, leaving about 2 inch end pieces which can be used to great advantage. You can use the ends to help lift jars from the hot water bath along with tongs, and when placed around the jars in the oven, the cloth will collect any boil-overs.

Mackenzie News

For inexpensive roofing, we have the new shingle roll roofing at $5.00 per square. This is roll roofing marked off in shingle pattern. Roll-beric siding is $5.00 per square and Roll-stone $6.00 per square. A square covers an area of 100 square feet. These are all useful for garages, cottages or sheds.

Why not order your winter fuel supply at summer prices. Stove and nut coal, $24.75 per ton and briquettes, $21.50 per ton.
