FARM NEWS

Holstein and Guernsey Breeders Prominent at C.N.E.
The 1952 C.N.E. Show of dairy cattle will go down in history as one of the hottest on record. The high temperature and humidity had both the exhibitors and their livestock with their tongues hanging out. The competition in both the Holstein and Guernsey rings was in keeping with the weather. According to the official catalogue we note that no less than 385 Holsteins and 260 Guerneys were entered. The Guernsey show was definitely the largest and the Holstein exhibit, if not the largest was very close to it. In comparison the Jersey and Ayrshire exhibits were small but the quality in both cases compensated for their lack of numbers.

Haltom was represented only in the Holstein and Guernsey rings, and consequently we will confine our report to these two breeds.
Holsteins
Here Haltom was well and worthily represented by entries of the herds of R. C. Alexander, Chas. Austin, Vernon Archer, Dr. Paul Beer, A. M. Brain and Sons, F. O. Hunter, T. H. McGee, and John Schertel of Esqueping Township, Ashville Farms Ltd., A. G. Hunter, M. C. Sherwood and Ross Segsworth, of Nelson Township; Hays Ltd., C. H. Lawrence, and J. F. Trimble, of Trafalgar Township. And what a job they did—Haltom may well proud of their "Black and White" contingent—along with those mentioned above—also include the name of W. H. Robinson, of Hornby, whose contribution as a showman was par excellence.

The highlight of the Holstein show for many is always the inter-county herd class. Each county entry consists of six animals, namely a senior bull, a junior bull, two senior females, and two junior females. In all ten counties were represented which brought together 60 head in the ring at the one time. The Haltom entry maintained their standing in former years by placing second to the perennial winners from Peel—but what a score those Peel boys got. In the opinion of goodly percentage of the ringside the Haltom entry was the best balanced and most uniform herd in the ring. But all honour to our Peel breeders, they got the judge's decision and that is what counts. Along with that they are a grand bunch of fellows and they have a lot of outstanding cattle. After all, Rosafe Farms of Brampton won the premier exhibitors award, and J. M. Fraser of Streetsville, the Premier breeders Banner. From the latter herd, Spring Farm Fond Hope was the Grand Champion bull and Spring Farm Juliette also repeated her triumphs of former years by winning the female Grand Championship—altogether they made up the winning progeny of dam.

However, to return to the awards in the county herd class—1st Peel; 2nd Haltom; 3rd Waterloo; 4th Grey; 5th Wentworth; 6th Haldimand; 7th Wellington; 8th Brant; 9th Welland; and 10th Lincoln.
Lack of space will not permit us to give a detailed list of Haltom awards—however, here are a few of the highlights: Hays Ltd. had the first prize junior yearling bull and Junior champion male, on the mona Sovereign Papoose. In the same class Ashville Farms Ltd., and Ross Segsworth were 5th and 6th respectively. A. G. Hunter had the 4th prize senior calf in a strong class with 29 entries. Junior Yearling bulls—here Haltom entries were 2nd, 3rd, and 6th for (A. G. Hunter and M. C. Sherwood) (Vernon Archer) F. O. Hunter and John Schertel. Bulls, 2 years—Browview Futurity Burke for A. M. Brain & Sons, was second to the bull which went on to the reserve grand championship.

In the aged bull class Salax Prince was second for R. C. Alexander. Three year old females, dry—here the entry of Dr. Paul Beer was third. Senior Yearling Heifers—in a class of 46 entries, R. C. Alexander, and T. H. McGee were 3rd and 4th respectively. In Junior Yearling Heifers, with 32 entries Ross Segsworth, and W. W. Thompson, were 6th and 10th respectively. Senior Heifer Calves, with 43 entries Dutchland Diamond Heifer bred by Ward Brownridge, of Hornby, was second for C. H. Lawrence. Junior Heifer Calves—Ross Segsworth was third in a large entry. The same exhibitor was 2nd in the junior herd class, while in the junior get of sire class, A. G. Hunter, R. C. Alexander, and T. H. McGee, were 3rd, 5th, and 7th respectively.

Great is Fond Hope
In addition to his grand championship award it will be of interest to learn that the offspring of Fond Hope topped no less than four of the junior classes and the first three awards in the junior get of sire class were won by the get of this great sire.

Guernsey Show
In this great show Haltom was again worthily represented by entries from the herds of Wm. G. Booth, J. L. Chisholm, and Joyce Bros., of Milton; M. T. McNabb & Sons, Geo. and J. M. Pigott, of Palermo.
It was the first venture of the Haltom boys at the Canadian National, and they really made the "big shot" step to town. An outstanding triumph for the McNabb herd was the winning of the King-haven Farms Trophy for the best group of five animals, get of one sire. The McNabb entry was sired of the farm is the equal of anything in the community. No kidding, if you enjoy seeing good pastures—it is well worth a visit.

Haltom Junior Speaker
In Middlesex
The many friends of Dave Pelletier, popular president of the Junior Farmers of Ontario, will be interested to hear that at the Annual Church Service of the Middlesex Junior Farmers on August 10th Dave was the special speaker. His subject was "Doing the best with the talents you have". We were not surprised to hear that Dave did an excellent job. In the past he has been recognized as an excellent Junior Farmer leader—a good judge of livestock—just this past week we saw him doing an excellent job of showing the entries for Ashville Farms Ltd. down at the C.N.E. He is indeed a credit to the Junior Farmers of Haltom and the Province of Ontario.
