SLIPPER SATIN GOWN WORN BY BRIDE AT CITY CHURCH CEREMONY

A pretty September wedding took place September 12, Carleton Street United Church, Toronto, when Melissa Joy Annie Dearing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Dearing of Orton, was united in marriage to Alan Malcolm, son of Mrs. David and the late Robert David, Toronto. Rev. J. M. Findlay officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father at the evening ceremony, was gowned in white slipper satin fashioned with full length train and fitted bodice with high pointed neckline and lily pointed sleeves. Tiny satin buttons on the bodice and sleeves enhanced the Queen Anne style gown.

Her long-silk embroidered net veil was held in place by a pearl studded satin Juliet cap. The bride also wore a heirloom gold brooch, which was worn by her grandmother on her wedding day. Her flowers were: Madonna lilies, roses and stephanotis.

Miss Wilma Thompson was bridesmaid, gowned in lilac tulle with bouffant skirt and fitted bodice with net yolk. Her flowers were a bouquet of lilies, roses and bachelor buttons. She wore a matching floral headdress.

Little Carol Dearing, cousin of the bride, as flower girl, looked charming in a dress of yellow tulle with a mixed bouquet of flowers and matching headdress. The soloist, Miss Joyce Green, sang "The Lord's Prayer," and during the signing of the register, "O Perfect Love."

The groom was attended by his brother, Raymond David, as best man and the ushers were friends, Charles Stone and Harold Murphy. The flowers in the church were in full shades of mauve, yellow and rose gladioli.

A reception for 50 guests was held following the ceremony at "Clarendon Hall," where the bride's mother received the guests. She chose a gown of rose triple sheer, black picture hat and rose and black accessories and her corsage was pink rose buds.

The groom's mother assisted, gowned in peri-winkle blue nylon crepe, white feather hat, matching accessories and a corsage of rose buds.

The bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake, candleabra with tall white tapers and gladioli.

The bride changed to a fawn zabardine suit, brown hat and brown corsage. The couple left for a honeymoon trip to New York, Atlantic City and Virginia Beach.

ALL BULL!

Bill: "Why did you beat up that guy?"
Bob: "He insulted my girl."
Bill: "All he said was that she danced like a zephyr."
Bob: "Oh, I thought he said 'heifer'."

Y's Men Convene Around Big Bonfire

The first fall meeting of Acton Y's Men's club took the form of a wiener roast on Thursday, September 11 at the farm home of Mansell Nellis. About 30 members erected the big bonfire as Gerry Candler led a sing song with his accordion accompaniment.

The president, Forman Lawrence, asked for 100 per cent attendance at the first supper meeting and the program director Elmer Smith outlined the plans for the first regular meeting.

Carlsbad Cavern Highlight of Trip

A piece of petrified wood, hand made leather goods, booklets, colored pictures and snapshots were shown Acton Rotarians Tuesday evening as Art Padbury spoke to them on his recent trip to the Southern States and Mexico. He stated Carlsbad cavern was the most impressive place he had ever seen in his travels, with its underground stalagmites and stalactites formed through centuries.

Mr. Padbury was introduced by president Johnny Goy and thanked by David Dilla.

Two Rotarians were present from Heppeler with advice for running a fun fair.

Acton fair is gone for another year.
