Sun, Stars, Ocean At Town Namesake

In Acton to-day the sun is shining brightly; perhaps some movie stars are passing through and the ocean is not very far away. This obviously is not Acton, Ontario. No, it's Acton, California, U.S.A. which is now joining Acton, London, England, in exchanging information and news with its namesake in Canada.

A letter to the postmaster this week asked:

"If there is a Chamber of Commerce in Acton, Ontario, Canada, perhaps you will turn this letter over to the organization for a reply. Or perhaps you know of someone who would take care of sending me some information. I would like some information on your city of Acton, Ontario. Something about its size, how it was named, what is the chief activity of the area, or anything else which is of interest."

"I shall appreciate anything which you can do to help me learn about Acton, Ontario. I would enclose a self-addressed stamped envelope for a reply but the U.S. postage would not do you much good!"

Sincerely,
Meryl G. Adams, Acton, California.

Information about the town—trusting Miss Adams won't be disappointed we aren't a city as she thought—is on its way to the sunnier south. This letter was given to Mayor B. D. Rachlin, who wrote a reply, including an issue of the 75th anniversary Free Press and other information.

Mayor Rachlin has asked Miss Adams to write again with more information about the Acton in California.

—Maureen McCristall was the first winner of a gold star under a new award system at the Y.M.C.A. Each month a young Y member will be chosen to receive the gold star on the main bulletin board, for efficiency, attendance, conduct and other factors, as well as skill.

—Sheila Paul, competing at the Kiwanis Music Festival in Guelph on Tuesday, receives a second (tied) for violin solo; first for a violin duet with Bert Johnston of Moorefield; second (tied) for a second violin solo and another first for a violin duet with Patsy Drön of Moorefield. Martin Bauer of Rockwood received a second for vocal solo.

—The world plowing championship will be held in Ontario next October, the provincial department of agriculture announced this week. An 11-country meeting in London, England, voted to accept the invitation of the Ontario Plowmen's Association to hold the 1953 world competition here, in connection with the international plowing match to be held at Cobourg.

Mackenzie News

School children are taking a keener interest in safety this week as they receive a firm foundation in the stop, look and listen idea. Probably a lot of adults could take a lesson from the children and cross roads more safely by crossing directly rather than cutting off the corners and "jay walking."

More and more cars can mean more and more accidents unless there is more and more caution.

With safety in mind, it would be well to order your supply of coal now. The price is going up when the present stock is exhausted and you would be safe in your saving now if you put in a winter's supply.

Remember no-jay-walking for the safety of yourself and the example of the children.
