"The die has now been cast"

An American manufacturer was planning to open a plant in Canada. He considered various locations and found what seemed a likely site. He talked to a local bank manager, got facts about the community and its facilities.

Some time later the company wrote to the banker:

"The die has now been cast. It is our intention to locate in S... We feel that it is well suited to our particular operation. You have been of great aid to us. Your accurate and rapid presentation of facts necessary to reach a decision was top-notch."

Such letters show how a branch bank serves not only its own depositors and other customers but how, by assisting business development, it benefits the whole community.
