Reports Heard, Installation of Officers At Halton Presbyterial WMS Annual

The 25th Annual Meeting of the various departments presented their reports and Mission Band Awards were made by Miss B. H. P. Church of Canada was held in Trinity United Church, Burlington, last Thursday with the President Mrs. W. N. Brownridge, in the chair.

Mrs. O. G. Bush welcomed the visitors to the Trinity United church and Mrs. B. H. P. Church replied on behalf of the delegates.

The Worship Services for the morning and afternoon sessions conducted by the Bethesda Dixie and the Carlsle Auxiliaries were both thought provoking and inspiring.

Mrs. G. DeCoursey's book corner was a popular niche. She had on display many books suitable for adults and for children. Ballinford received the award of a gift book for having as an auxiliary, read the greatest number of books of a missionary character during the year.

Reports Presented During the day the secretaries of:

Hear Guest Speaker Musical numbers by the Lane Park Glee Club and the Burlington Auxiliary were enjoyed by all present.

The allocation for 1954 was announced as being $11,225. Anything in excess of this amount will go towards a Christian broadcasting station in Japan.

The guest speaker was Miss Dorothy M. Young, Home Organization Executive Secretary, Toronto. She pointed out that the study book used by the Auxiliaries during the year has given new understanding of the varied services rendered by the Church. Miss Young emphasized that although methods are different, the results are the same. The Church is fulfilling its purpose. Today the missionary attitude should be not so much one of giving as one of sharing.

HYDRO STANDARDIZATION MESSAGE

These men will be calling on you soon IF YOU LIVE IN ACTON & DISTRICT

These are Hydro's "inventory men"... the men who will soon be calling at your home or place of business to check over your electrical equipment and make a list of all items which will have to be altered or adjusted for operation on the standard 60-cycle power, shortly to replace the 25-cycle power you are using now.

You will receive a letter briefly outlining "Operation Changeover," and your part in it, on the reverse side of which is a check list of certain types of electrical appliances which must be altered before they will operate on 60 cycles. This work will be done by Hydro technicians and at Hydro's expense. We ask you to check this list against the appliances in your home or place of business and indicate on it how many you have of each... then keep it in a convenient place until our "inventory men" arrive. Remember, when "changeover" day arrives ONLY THOSE APPLIANCES OF WHICH WE HAVE A RECORD CAN BE ALTERED FOR 60 CYCLES.

FOR YOUR PROTECTION

All representatives of Hydro engaged in "changeover" work carry a special badge or identification card. For your own protection please ask for it.

Keep your list in a handy place ready for the "inventory men". Do this, and you will be doing yourself—and your Hydro—a great service.

Chronicles of Ginger Farm
Written Specially for the Acton Free Press by Gwendoline P. Clarke

It is Easter Sunday. All day long there has been a strange haze in the air and we have yet to hear the reason for it. It cannot be fog for there is a stiff breeze blowing. It cannot be dust, not after all the rain we had on Good Friday! It could be smoke, but why and where does it come from? But still, haze, smoke, or what have we, it makes no difference we can still sing the joy of Easter Day: the Easter triumph tell!

Easter is such a wonderful season. Personally I like it better than Christmas. For one thing it is not so blatantly commercialized. And I always feel that in spite of the calendar, the year begins with Easter. No matter on what date it falls we always think of events as being before Easter or after Easter.

First thing this morning I stepped outside and to greet the day I heard an oriole, a robin and bobolink. There were also two double daffodils, near enough to blooming for me to pick them for the house. In a sunny window and with their stems in warm water they soon began to open up. Always at Easter we seem to have the first spring flowers, the song birds and the re-awakening of dormant growth and the beautiful Easter music.

The underlying Easter message is full of promise and hope—so different from the everyday news items in this fast-moving atomic age. And yet I don't think the Easter week-end was observed in much in Canada as it is in England where there are many customs quite apart from the religious observance.

In the Old Country Good Friday starts with Hot Cross buns for breakfast. For a penny, two a penny, hot cross buns! It is also the traditional time for planting potatoes. In small gardens in every corner, providing the weather is fine, the home gardener will be hard at it with his spade and shovel.

On Easter Sunday there would be morning and evening attendance at church and in the afternoon a tramp through the woods in search of primroses and sweet-william violets. The womanfolk liked a new hat and suit for Easter but I don't remember any actual dress parade.

Easter Monday was said I suppose still set at bank and business holiday and was given over almost entirely to pleasure. Following hard on the heels of Lent and the solemnity of Good Friday, Easter Monday had a carefree atmosphere all its own, different from any other holiday during the year. And of course there were plenty of family gatherings.

But back to Ginger Farm. We didn't have any visitors or callers at all on Easter Sunday. Not even our grandsons. For a little while it will be impossible for Dick and Arthur to come out as they have entirely new rooms right through the house which means Daughter has been very busy. But her man worry yesterday when she phoned was "that one of the kittens had been mauled by a big police dog."

We did have one new face, fellow vacation here on Good Friday just old enough for us to realize what our David will be like a year from now. Bob and Jay were here also and what a day it was! However, after dinner nothing would do but we just all pay a visit to a big-time quarry that has recently been opened up a few miles from here. It is the most up-to-date quarry in all Ontario.

Bob of course was showing us around. At least he was showing his Dad around. I was pouring with rain, and Jay sat in the car most of the time. Bob, however, was wearing his parka and I saw him when he was in the quarry. He had a good time, and he had a good view of the quarry. He had a good view of the quarry. He had a good view of the quarry.

The amount of work on the work at this quarry is the fact that it is never finished by human hands. The work is done by machines. The work is done by machines. The work is done by machines.
