Mark Anniversary At Boston Church

Rev. W. G. Rose preached anniversary services at Boston Presbyterian church on Sunday morning and evening when the oldest Presbyterian church in Haldon county marked its 134th anniversary.

Large congregations attended both morning and evening services when special music was contributed by the choir under the direction of Crawford Douglas.

Rev. Rose recalled the early history surrounding Boston church and expressed his pleasure on returning to his first charge when he was assigned to the church in 1921. "Next Sunday will be my last in the active ministry of the church. I have been 41 years in the ministry and I like to think of this as temporary retirement," the speaker pointed out.

Taking as his text, "Reflecting as in the mirror, the glory of the Lord," Rev. Rose spoke of the importance of beholding the glory of the Lord because then we unconsciously reflect it. "The greatest bulwark of the Christian church is that God loves and God cares," he declared.

Museum, Assembly Casa Loma Toured

Tours of the Royal Ontario Museum, the Parliament Buildings and Casa Loma were highlights of the annual grade eight trip to Toronto. Over 30 pupils with Miss Dena Braida and principal G. W. McKenzie, travelled by bus to the city early Friday morning. They returned about 5.30 p.m.

At the Museum, the group heard lectures on ancient Egypt, armour and prehistoric animals. Individuals sought exhibits of particular interest during a free period.

Lunch was eaten in Queen's Park and a guided tour of the Parliament Buildings followed. Much information was given during the unhurried trip through the various rooms of interest in the building. Parliament was recessed so the pupils were unable to see a session.

After a guided tour of Casa Loma, the group returned to Acton.

Resident 34 Years Geo. Fields Dies

Resident of Acton for 34 years, George Fields passed away on Monday at the Guelph General Hospital after an illness of the past six weeks. He was 64 years of age and was born in Rutland Vermont.

He was an employee of Baxter Laboratories, but George Fields is best known in Acton for the beauty and garden work he did around town. Wherever he was employed and in all his spare time he worked with flowers and he had that touch that brought out their best charm. He was a man with a friendly smile for every one and many here will mourn with his wife and family in his passing.

A new home on the highway just east of Acton was just beginning to show the artistry of his touch.

Besides his wife he leaves one daughter and three sons: 12 year old Mrs. Don Grieser, Bill, Sydney and Jack, all of Acton.

The funeral service was held Wednesday afternoon at the Victoria Rumley and Son funeral home. Here many friends gathered to pay tribute and a wealth of floral tributes gave evidence of many friendships. The service was in charge of Rev. R. Price, rector of St. Alban's church and interment was in Fairview cemetery.

Funeralbearers were fellow employees: Newton Hurst Lloyd, Roy Fisher, Dave Drysdale, George Williams, Gordon Rognvaldson and Anthony Hufrage.
