

PUBLIC NOTICE

The local banks have announced their intention of discontinuing service on Saturdays and to give extended service to the public on Fridays from 4.30 to 6.00 p.m. This change to be effective on August 6th and 7th.

The effect of this change will bring local service into line with other towns of comparable size wherein Saturday closings have already been inaugurated in order to give their staffs the benefit of a five-day week such as is done in industry and the majority of business offices in the country.

In making this announcement the banks request their customers to endeavor to transact their normal banking during the regular hours of 10 to 3 from Monday to Friday inclusive. The late openings on Friday, while providing a full service, are designed primarily to take care of the industrial worker receiving a week-end pay envelope and the local merchants who are mostly affected by the Saturday closing.

EDUCATION COMES FIRST
There are many things that are important in a town, many little niceties we like to have to make our community stand out over others. But the most important of all is to have the facilities and accommodation for the education of our children.—Humboldt (Sask.) Journal.

Expert Cooks Test Tempting Recipes

Ottawa, (CP)—How should a huge, raw beef tongue be cooked into a delectable dish for the family dinner? What is the best way to prepare asparagus—stuck in a saucepan like cordwood or tie in a sheaf and stand upright in the pot? Does iodized salt really turn pickles into a soggy mass?

These are the type of questions home economists in the consumer section of the agricultural department try to answer in their test kitchens.

Purpose of "Canada's Kitchen," as it is called, is to encourage the use of Canadian food products. The economists concoct and test new and tempting recipes aimed at encouraging the housewife to use more homegrown products.

They also issue helpful hints on the best way to cook various foods and at the moment are working on the asparagus and iodized salt problems.

Canada's 1953 apple crop is estimated at 11,600,000 bushels, four per cent off last year.
