Acton, District Weddings Attract Local Interest

Mary Buckman Wed In Hamilton Church

A wedding of interest to Acton and Hamilton residents was solemnized in St. Thomas church, Hamilton, on Saturday, September 18, when Mary Buckman, Acton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Buckman, Hartfield, Sussex, England, became the bride of Jost Jan Den Otter, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Den Otter, Hamilton.

Rev. D. Woeller performed the ceremony amid a setting of pink and white gladioli. John Buckman, brother of the bride, gave his sister away.

The bride wore an ankle length gown of white gaily lace and net. The strapless bodice featured an over-jacket of lace with brief set-in sleeves and tiny self-covered buttons to the pointed collar. The skirt was fashioned with a deep band of lace from the waist about the hips, to which full net skirts were gathered. Her fingertip veil of tulle illusion was caught to a cap of matching lace and she carried a white Bible with green ferns. Her flowers were white mums with white satin streamers.

Betty Candler, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, wore a coral, waltz length gown of nylon jersey over taffeta. She carried yellow and white carnations and mums, trimmed with green fern and net. Carol Candler, niece of the bride, as bridesmaid, was dressed in an ankle length gown of green frosted

Joanne Stout Wed In Garden Setting

In a garden ceremony at "The Cedars," home of the bride's parents, Joanne Davidson Stout, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin L. Stout, Rockwood, became the bride of Hugh Macdonald McCrie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh R. McCrie, Sarnia. Rev. John Diltz officiated.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white Chantilly lace and nylon net over satin. The bodice, accented with rhinestones, featured long sheath sleeves and the bouffant skirt fell into a train. A sugar scoop hat of lace held her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of swainsona, stephanotis and ivy centred with gardenias.

Her sister, Connie Stout was maid of honor in sage green net and satin styled with a matching stole. Janie Pettit and Carol Thomas, her cousins, were junior bridesmaids, in avocado green satin banded with rows of ribbon. They all wore dark green ivy coronets in their hair and carried white dahlias and ivy.

Wayne Brander, Sarnia, was groomsman and ushers were Tom Temple, Jr., Russ Snider, both of Toronto, Stuart Ralph, Milton, and William Johnson, Guelph.

The bride's mother received in a gown of heather rose iridescent tulle with matching accessories and a corsage of coral roses. The groom's mother assisted in a gown of capri blue lace and crepe with navy accessories and a corsage of flame roses.

Take Wedding Trip To Niagara Falls

Rev. E. E. Baskier officiated in Dublin Street United church, Guelph, when Patricia Ann Berry and Roger Edwin Harris were married. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. A. Moffitt of Guelph and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Harris of Rockwood. Gladioli formed the setting for the wedding.

The bride's uncle, James Bowman gave her in marriage. She chose a gown of net over satin. A coronet held her fingertip veil of nylon net and her flowers were a nosegay of red roses.

Miss Shirley Brydges was bridesmaid wearing a blue gown of nylon net over satin. A matching blue headdress and nosegay of gladioli completed her costume. Hugh Land of Rockwood was best man, and the ushers were Ross Alegris of Rockwood and Walter Berry, brother of the bride.

During the signing of the register, Mr. A. Lyness sang "The Lord's Prayer."

A reception of 45 guests followed at the home of the bride's mother where the table was arranged with a two-tiered cake and vases of roses.

Bride's Father, Aunt Perform Marriage

Acton United Church, tastefully decorated with multi-colored gladioli and lighted tapers, was the scene of a quiet but pretty early autumn wedding when on Friday evening, September 24 at seven o'clock, Loretta-Mae Shirley, only daughter of Rev. Eldridge A. Curry, B.A., B.D., and Mrs. Curry, became the bride of Leslie Victor Gorven, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gorven, of Toronto.

Rev. Curry gave his daughter in marriage and then performed the double ring ceremony, assisted by his sister, Rev. Erla M. Curry of the Orton, Mimosa and Marsville charges.

To the strains of Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus, played by S. Floyd Davies of Willowdale, the bridal party entered the church. The bride wore her travelling costume, a sheath dress of winter white wool, with cinnamon tone hat, which featured a finely pleated brim and noseveil. Her accessories were of the cinnamon shade and she carried a white Bible, on which rested a cluster of Johanna Hill roses and bronze and white pom pom mums with bouvardia. White streamers caught with rose buds fell from its pages.

Her matron of honor, Mrs. Peter Armitage, was gowned in a caviar grey wool street length dress with which she wore a small feathered

Autumn Wedding In Guelph Church

Sacred Heart church in Guelph was the setting for the autumn wedding of Joan Marie Billings and Daniel Porty. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Billings of Guelph and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Porty of Acton. White mums and pink gladioli were placed on the altar for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a strapless formal gown of Chantilly lace with a bouffant nylon net skirt with an attractive lily-of-the-valley pattern of sequins embroidered on the underskirt. The matching Chantilly lace jacket, with a flowing lace trimmed tulle veil was crowned with a delicately shaped seed pearl headdress. She carried a cascade of red roses.

The bridesmaids, Miss Gwen Billings, Guelph, and Mrs. Walter Porty, Acton, wore matching nylon tulle gowns fashioned with full flowing skirts and gathered bodices with tiny rhinestone studded clove leaf pattern. The shrug jackets had a similar pattern. Feathered headdresses and cascades of yellow mums completed their costumes.

Little Helen McLean, cousin of the bride, acted as flower girl wearing a pale green gown of tulle with pinafore netting. Her accessories were white and she wore a tiny bandeau of pale green and carried a nosegay of yellow sweetheart roses.

The groom was attended by Walter Porty and Wilfred Beltz and the ushers were James McGiloway and William Steffler.

The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. F. P. Kehor and wedding music was played by Miss Olivia Terrigni, Miss Victoria Valerote sang.

For the reception held for 125 guests at the Knights of Columbus

Morton-Blacklock Wedding in Milton

Grace Anglican church, Milton, was the scene of a pretty wedding recently. Lighted tapers and white gladioli adorned the altar, and baskets of pink and white gladioli were attractively arranged in the church for the marriage of Barbara Jean Blacklock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Blacklock, Campbellville, Ont., and Everett Thomas Morton, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Morton, Milton.

Rev. Norman Green performed the ceremony.

The bride entered the church on her father's arm, looking lovely in a strapless floor length gown of snowy white net over satin, featuring tiers of Chantilly lace and a long sleeved bolero of lace, its Peter Pan collar trimmed with pearls and sequins.

Her fingertip veil of tiered English tulle illusion was caught to a satin pearl trim Juliet cap. She carried a cascade of red roses.

The matron of honor, Mrs. E. Blacklock, sister-in-law of the bride, wore a floor length strapless gown of yellow nylon net over taffeta with matching bolero and hat studded with rhinestones. She carried mauve carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Morton, sister of the groom, in mauve; Miss Annie Blacklock, cousin of the bride, in pale green; Mrs. L. Collins, in deep pink; and Miss Katharine Johnson, Toronto, cousin of the bride, in powder blue. They were gowned in nylon net over tulle similarly styled to that of the matron of honor. All wore white gloves and carried cascades of harmonizing carnations.

Little Beth Currie, Campbellville, made a charming flower girl dressed in a floor length tiered gown of nylon net over white satin, with matching bolero, poke bonnet and gloves, trimmed with pink and blue rose buds. She carried a nosegay of pink and blue carnations.

Ralph Morton was his brother's best man, Jim Morton and Harold Morton, brothers of the groom, and Elmer Blacklock, brother of the bride and Earl McDowall, cousin of the bride, acted as ushers.

About 120 guests were received at the Halton Agricultural Hall by Mrs. Blacklock, wearing Rosewood with navy accessories and corsage of yellow roses. To assist her, the groom's mother chose a gown of navy sheer with lace trim and coral pink accessories, and a corsage of yellow roses. The bride's table was centered with a four tiered wedding cake, flanked with white tapers, white and pink gladioli in silver holders.
