

Morris - Franklin Wedding Saturday

Carnations, snapdragons and ferns formed an attractive setting in Calvary Baptist church, Guelph, when Miss Ethel May Franklin of Acton pledged nuptial vows in a three o'clock double ring ceremony on Saturday afternoon, May 14, with Joseph Arthur Morris of Niagara Falls, Ont.

The Rev. J. W. Boyd of Guelph united the couple in marriage.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ada Franklin and the late Charles Franklin of Acton and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Morris of Niagara Falls.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Stanley Cripps of Acton, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace over white slipper satin with sleeves which came to her points over her hands. The floor length skirt of satin, inset with lace panels met the waistline. A band of satin, studded with seed pearls, held her fingertip veil of embroidered nylon net and her flowers were a cascade of red Sweetheart roses with stephanotis and fern.

Miss Stanley Cripps of Acton, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, choosing a floor length gown of embroidered nylon over orchid tulle taffeta with pique pan collar and elbow length matching mittens. Her headpiece was a flowered bandeau of nylon over second tulle taffeta. She carried a cascade of yellow carnations.

Miss Clara Cook of Acton was bridesmaid, choosing a floor length gown of embroidered nylon over pale blue tulle taffeta with pique pan collar and elbow length matching mittens. Her headpiece was a flowered bandeau of nylon over pale blue tulle taffeta. She carried a cascade of pink carnations.

Miss Marilyn Cripps, niece of the bride, was flower girl wearing a floor length dress of embroidered nylon over pale pink tulle taffeta with a pique pan collar and full flared skirt. She wore a matching pique bonnet and elbow length mittens and carried a nosegay of deep pink and blue carnations.

Roger Goodman of Niagara Falls was best man with Rex Cripps of Acton and William Warden, Niagara Falls, as ushers.

During the ceremony, Miss Ruth McDougall of Guelph accompanied the soloist, Miss Dorothy Simmons of Acton, who sang Wedding Prayer and during the signing of the register, O Perfect Love.

A reception for 75 guests followed in the Orange Hall, decorated for the occasion with floral arrangements of pastel colored sweet peas. The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake flanked by white and pink tapers. Mrs. Ada Franklin received her guests wearing a dress of royal blue nylon lace over taffeta, with white and navy accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The groom's mother assisted, wearing a navy rayon crepe dress with navy and white accessories and a corsage of red carnations.

For a motor trip to the southern United States, the bride chose a pale pink shadow twist rayon suit with a grey boucle shortie coat and pink and navy accessories. Her flowers were a corsage of deep pink carnations.

The groom's gift to the bride was a heart-shaped rhinestone necklace. The gifts to the matron of honor and bridesmaid were double strand pearls and to the flower girl, a single strand of pearls. The best man received cuff links and the ushers, wallets.

Congratulatory telegrams were received from Niagara Falls and Hamilton, Pennsylvania.

On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Morris will reside in St. Catharines. Out-of-town guests attended from Acton, Guelph, Toronto, St. Catharines, Welland, Niagara Falls, Ont., Deep River, Niagara Falls, N.Y., Buffalo, N.Y., Dansville, N.Y. and Chicago, Ill.

Australia, with about half the population of Canada, has since the Second World War accepted just about the same number of immigrants.

In 1752, men and women in Halifax were reading the first Canadian newspaper, The Halifax Gazette. Anthony Henry was its publisher from 1761 on.

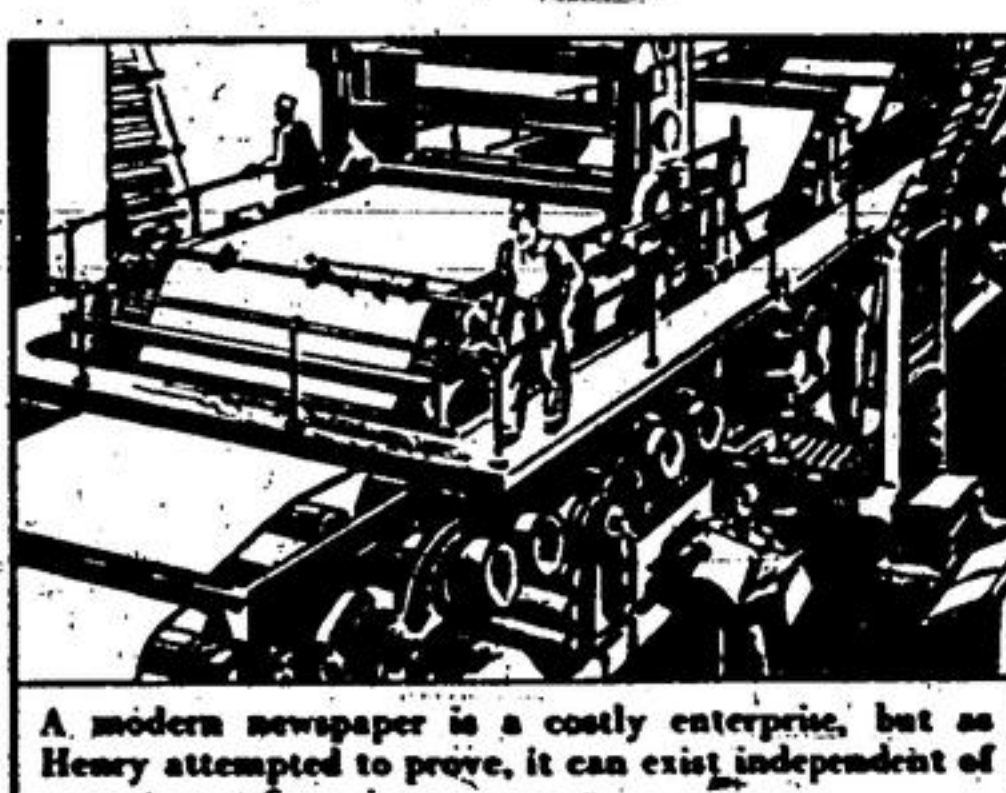

The Gazette had depended on government support. When this patronage shifted, The Gazette died. But Henry was determined. In 1769 he launched The New Scotia, Chronicle and Weekly Advertiser, first Canadian newspaper entirely dependent on the support of the general public.

Meanwhile, other newspapers were rising - meeting the growing public demand for news, opinion, entertainment.

Soon, newspapers were everywhere. Government support was no longer necessary, for newspapers attracted private financial backing.

A modern newspaper is a costly enterprise, but as Henry attempted to prove, it can exist independent of government financing.

Men like Anthony Henry depended upon their all-important associates - the far-sighted leading institutions and banks of Canada.
