Lorne Scots, R.H.L.I. Stage War Games

Sunday morning will see Oakville B Company and platoon of C company from Milton, Acton and Georgetown moving to the area south of Waterdown where the Lorne Scots will attack a position held by the aggressive forces, in this case, the Royal Hamilton Light Infantry of Hamilton.

Many surprises are in store for the Lorne Scots, said Lt. Col. F. C. Brown of the R.H.L.I. who darkly hinted of the various devices his battalion has prepared to deal with the attack of the Lorne Scots.

The defensive position elected by the R.H.L.I. is indeed a strong one. It is on high ground overlooking Hamilton Bay and is on the property of the National Sewer Pipe Co. The ground has been quarried for brick, clay and now is eroded in deep gullies and canyons reminiscent of the bad lands of North Canada. Low scrub and bush covers the low ground and the higher ground is naked vegetation. Over this very difficult terrain the Lorne Scots must advance and attack the enemy who are carefully concealed and well deployed to cover all approaches.

The battle will be recorded for television viewers and Hamilton radio stations will cover the event for radio listeners.

Friends and relatives of personnel who wish to watch the proceedings are welcome to attend and guides will be posted to assist parking. Route to the area is west on the Queen Elizabeth Way to the intersection with No. 2 Highway, then turn north for one and a half miles.
