Silver Forks Given To 4-H Club Girls

The regular meeting of the Limehouse Women's Institute was held on July 7 in the Memorial Hall with the president, Mrs. Harry Smith, in the chair. The meeting opened with Blessing by the Rev. J. D. Lowrie, followed by the Lord's prayer. After business and committee reports were attended to, Mrs. Ralph Turner took the meeting for Home Economics and Health. Roll call was how to prevent accidents in the home.

At this meeting the girls of the 4-H Club take part. Current events were given, local by Kathleen Kirkpatrick, national by Dorothy Kirkpatrick and international by Patsy Crawford. The motto was well given by Kathleen Kirkpatrick. Grumbling spoils more homes, than bad cooking.

Conveners' reports followed. For agriculture, a garden is a good place to live, was read by Mrs. James Noble, prepared by Mrs. Geary. For historical research, Mrs. Kirkpatrick recalled that in 1928 Mrs. Kirkpatrick Sr. celebrated her 93 birthday. She showed group photos of interest. For home economics, Mrs. Ralph Turner took dripleps paint as her topic.

A demonstration on how to make tea biscuits followed by two 4-H girls, Dorothy Kirkpatrick and Patsy Crawford.

Mrs. Smith presented each of the girls with a silver fork for completing their course. Another highlight of the meeting was the presentation by Mrs. Sanford, past president, of a beautiful aluminum tray to the secretary-treasurer Mrs. Jack Noble in appreciation of services rendered for the past three years. Mrs. Noble, taken completely by surprise thanked all the members for their gift, and said she was glad to have helped in any way she could.

A bus trip is being planned for the latter part of August. Mrs. S. Gishy, convenor of school gardens, discussed having a trophy for the boy or girl with highest points, as suggested by Mr. Parfetter, who each year kindly judges the gardens. The meeting closed with the Queen.

The girls served a delicious lunch of biscuits, cherry jam, short-cake and tea.
