On returning to the cafeteria a demonstration was given on the prepared paper which is immersed in water only to hang.

Union Institute came to the rescue, opening their hall where the ladies enjoyed their picnic lunch indoors. The Jordan Museum was considered very interesting. After two hours at Niagara Falls among the flowers and scenery, they left at five o'clock with reluctance and started the return trip.

Stopping at the Henley Hotel in St. Catharines, they had a lovely banquet in the main dining room. The 36 ladies and the driver, Ross, Moyer, were entertained at the Palace Theatre, compliments of Mr. La Rose, the manager and staff.
