To Mark First Survey Made in This Area

Plans are being made to mark at one point the first survey in this part of Ontario on Sunday, the brief ceremony to take place at two o'clock in the afternoon.

The marker will be placed where the survey line crosses No. 7 highway at Forbes' garage. Reeve David D. Gray of Eramosa township, Reeve Robert Falframan of Guelph township, Dr. Hugh Tomplin of Fergus, as well as many others will take part in the ceremony.

The Wellington County Historical Research Society plan to mark as many historic spots and places of interest as can be done in the coming year. The site of J. J. Hill's home and Rockwood Academy are two more places of interest to those living in Wellington county as well as visitors. It is anticipated that Nassagaweya township and Puslinch township will mark the base line near Corwin in the near future.

Mrs. Florence Trosdale of Puslinch has been trying to interest persons in the Puslinch district in order that the history will become known and be remembered.

From 1945 to 1954 registration of motor vehicles in Canada increased from 1,497,081 to 3,641,065.

HALTON CENTENNIAL MANOR

Band Concert, "Movie" Night Held At Manor

Tuesday, November 22 was "movie" night at Halton Manor when the residents assembled in the dining room to watch four motion picture films. There were two colored films and two films in black and white. The black and white films were "Bluebloods and Blue Grass", which showed the training of thoroughbred race horses in the blue-grass country of the southern states, and "Newfoundland", a film describing life in a fishing village in this latest province to join Confederation.

One of the colored films, "Limestone Caves" showed the odd and often beautiful stalactites and stalagmites to be found in limestone caves, particularly in the caves of the state of Wisconsin.

Perhaps the prettiest and most interesting film, in the opinion of the residents, was "The Four Seasons in the Valley of the Gattineau", a colored film which showed the lovely landscapes that may be found in the Gattineau country of the province of Quebec during the four seasons of the year.

The regular church service in the chapel of the Manor on Sunday, November 27, was conducted by Rev. D. A. Powell, rector of Grace Anglican church, Milton. Basing his sermon on verse 18-27 of the eighth chapter of St. Matthew's Gospel, Mr. Powell chose as his subject the question, "Why are ye Fearful?" In the simple yet eloquent language that is so much enjoyed by the residents of the Manor, Mr. Powell described

Eden Mills W.I. Has Bazaar In Hall

Eden Mills Women's Institute held a bazaar in Eden Mills town hall on Wednesday evening, November 23 when almost $100 was raised.

A handsome hooked rug that has won two prizes at competitions in the past year and made by Institute members was raffled and won by Hazel Mack.

Some herds of the barren-ground caribou in Canada's north number more than 100,000 animals.

The circumstances under which this question was asked. He described the tempest on the sea during which Christ asked this question of His disciples, pointing out the fact that fear is widespread today and that all classes of society know fear in some form or other—fear of poverty, fear of ill health, fear of war and many other fears. Mr. Powell stated that the greatest safeguard against fear is Faith, which leads to absolute trust in God. This comforting sermon, delivered in simple yet eloquent language, was much appreciated by the residents.

Mrs. Ray Waters, who is a very faithful and welcome attendant of these Sunday services, played the accompaniments for the hymns.

Band Concert

After the church service on Sunday afternoon, November 27, the residents of the Manor assembled in the dining room to hear a program played for them by the Oakville Citizens' Band. The band members, about 25 in number, were accompanied by their leader, bandmaster Frank Locksley.

After the band had been given a hearty welcome in a speech by Mr. Eric Clarke, the superintendent of the Manor, the band played a very enjoyable and varied program which was much enjoyed by all the residents. From the opening march, Sons of the Grave, to the closing march, The Conqueror, each number was beautifully played. The playing of such popular numbers as Lady of Spain and Open Up Your Heart and such old-time favorites as The Blue Danube, together with a medley of several familiar old hymns lent great variety to the program.

Muriel Thompson expressed the views of all the residents when she thanked bandmaster Locksley and the members of the band at the close of the program and praised them for having put on such a wonderful musical treat for the residents.

Members who represented the Kingsway Kiwanis Club, an organization which has for many years taken an active interest in the Halton 4-H program.

Tom Foster acted in a dual capacity on the program, pleasing everyone with his fine vocal solos and also with the help of Maurice Beaty, presenting the awards to the 4-H Potato Club members. David Hume was high man in this club.

Jersey, Guernsey Prizes

Members of the Jersey-Guernsey Calf Club received a great many special prizes, which were acknowledged on their behalf by Ken Ella, Nora Beaty received the Chestnut Jersey Farm Trophy, and a True Type Jersey Cow Medal from Mac Alexander, club leader, and president of the Halton Jersey Breeders' Club.

George Greenlee was awarded the Walter Duffray Trophy as the top member in the Guernsey section.

Presentation of prizes to the largest club, namely the 4-H Halton Calf Club, was supervised by Walter Royle. Mary Lawrence was the big winner, receiving the "President's Cow" from George Pelletier, president of Halton Holstein Breeders' Club, the Walter Duffray Trophy and the History and Development of the Holstein breed.

Club leaders Keith Merry and Angus McNabb and members of their 4-H Swine Club received special praise. Following the presentation of the prize cheques by TOW and Armstrong, George Greenlee, winner of the Club, received the A. R. Service and Halton Hog Producers' Special prize of $15 from Mr. Service.

Premier Club Award

Agricultural Representative, J. E. Whitelock presented a new 4-H Trophy to the 4-H Swine Club, crowning it the "Premier 4-H Club" in Halton county for 1955. Mr. Whitelock congratulated the club on having 100 per cent completion of project and 96 per cent attendance at meetings. It is hoped that this Trophy will stimulate competition among the 1956 4-H Clubs to strive for every member completing a project and every member present at every meeting.

Art Bennett presented 4-H Club Leaders Pins to new leaders, Angus McNabb, Keith Merry, Blair Armstrong, Herb Wilson, Earl Wilson, Tom Foster and George Swann as a small token of appreciation for their valuable assistance to the Halton 4-H program. All other leaders received the same small recognition at last year's Awards Night.

Throughout the course of the program, eight winners of the Kingsway Kiwanis' Specials—a free week's Short Course at O.A.C.—were introduced. Bill Wilson, Harvey Pell, George Greenlee, Bill Robinson, Tom Hunter, George Hume, Bob Cox and Bob Crawford 4-H members welcomed a delegation of Kiwanians, which was headed by Bob Evans, chairman of their committee on agriculture.

Merle Gunby, a member of the Halton 4-H Grain and Potato Clubs, thanked all individuals and organizations who sponsored clubs and provided prizes, trophies, etc. as well as leaders, parents and friends for their assistance. Lunch and a social hour concluded a very full program.
