E. Van Norman appeared to discuss further difficulties with thermostats on water heaters supplied by the P.U.C. During the talks, it was found one heater in question is serving three households. A ruling from the H.E.P.C. was urged sought about this circumstance.
High voltage troubling the heating system at Knox church was also discussed with Mr. Van Norman.
The commission accepted a ruling that after six months' employment, any employee is eligible to participate in the pension scheme.
A letter from Beatty Bros. Ltd. advised the commission the pump at the Warren Grove auxiliary well will be changed according to the wiring inspector's instructions.

The commission agreed to its share of $50 rental asked by the Y.M.C.A. board for a back room, proposed to be added to the town office for additional space.
Waterworks superintendent Lambert advised 50 water heaters are needed for stock. These are to be ordered. Raining of the inside of the disposal plant and pump house was considered. It was also noted that A. Duby, who has been working temporarily for the town, will shortly be back with the waterworks department.
The following accounts were passed for payment:

Racial Discrimination Topic of Discussion

Over 20 members of the W.M.S. of Ebenezer United church met at the home of Mrs. A. Frank on the first of February. The devotional period was led by Mrs. Page. The parable of the Good Samaritan was read. The story of the ten lepers was told, setting forth the faith of the one who was a Samaritan.
In the discussion which followed, racial prejudice was the natural outcoming subject and two points of view were noted; the first, that there would be no withholding of Christian brotherhood towards those of other races than our own and secondly, that these same different races should be more independent in seeking universal equality with those whose color is other than white. Members were asked to try to realize how Jewish listeners of Jesus' day would feel about the story of the Good Samaritans.
Reports were read from Mrs. Thomson and Mrs. Dunbar on their respective Mission Bands. The former's contributed $32 and the latter's $7.
Immediately following this meeting the W.A. read its yearly report. $1,162 was taken in by the various activities during the year and after all expenses were paid and obligations fulfilled, $140 was left to begin the new year.
Needy families in the district were commented on and are to be looked after.
Many letters of thanks were read.
The study book was ably summarized by Mrs. Slinn. The subject was Indian Reserves. Difficulties in caring for the Indians were lack of funds, medical help and hospitals. Churches are trying to help better the living conditions and standards. The fact that Missions are run on a competitive basis by various groups is confusing to the people. There is no lack of faith however in the minds of workers there. "People who work in darkness have seen the great light," was the final note.
Tea was served at the close.

Chronicles of Ginger Farm

Written Specially for the Acton Free Press by Gwendolyn F. Clarke

This feels like the morning after—as it definitely is! The morning following a visit from Dee, Arthur, Dave and Honey. David, I might add, has fully recovered from all his troubles and is now very much a live wire. That is why today feels like the morning after.
Of course he has become badly spoilt, especially in regard to meals, so I imagine his mother is going to have quite a time getting everything back to normal—partly because she seems very run-down herself and hardly able to cope with David's exuberant spirits. What a tremendous power of come-back children apparently possess. To look at Dave now it seems impossible that a little while ago he was so sick.
Yesterday was such a lovely day we were thinking they would be here, but as the afternoon wore on we began to give up hope. Then they arrived and the reason for the delay was an accident on the Queen Elizabeth Way that held up traffic for over an hour. However, they finally got here—and presumably they got back again safe and sound. Knowing what the traffic is like takes away half the pleasure of having one's family come to visit. Yes, parents get plenty of headaches these days when their children are travelling the highways. And then the children arrive and say in surprise—"What on earth were you worrying about? We were all right!"
Well, in view of the current talk on a national health plan we asked Dee and Art what Dave's illness has cost them. The answer... $750 for hospitalization, plus special nurses, surgical and medical care. There were also incidental expenses which brought the total cost close to $1,000, partly covered by insurance. There you have a pretty fair sample of what it means to bring an ordinary child back to normal health.
Compare that with the ever-present financial burden which many parents must carry who have a retarded or permanently afflicted child in the family. I ask you—do we need a National Health Plan in Canada?
To get on to a lighter topic. We are still enjoying our television but we have reached the point of weighing its advantages and disadvantages. Watching and listening to a good story is quite a pleasure up to a point—the point of no return. If there comes an interruption before the story is over—well, that's that. You can't turn off the set and then go back again to get the finish of the story. Of course, everyone knows that—but knowing

Bro. Ernest G. Wilson Named Halton Master

The annual Orange County Lodge meeting was held in the L.O.O.F. Hall, Milton, on Saturday, February 4.
There was a very good attendance from all lodges in Halton. Also present were guests from several other counties, including three from Arthur County Master Parr from Wellington County and two members from Guelph Lodge, County Master Drury, Peel County, and two District Masters from Peel and the Grand Lecturer, Bro. R. W. Block, who conducted the installation of officers for the county.
The following officers were elected and installed for 1966:
County Master, Bro. Ernest G. Wilson D.C.M., Bro. Ernest Rawson; chaplain, Bro. Harold Kelly; recording secretary, Bro. Thomas Warnes; financial secretary, Bro. George Collins; treasurer, Bro. C. B. Beatty; Marshall, Bro. Gerald Geach; first lecturer, Bro. Gordon Leonard; second lecturer, Bro. G. Jordan.
It was decided unanimously to celebrate this year on July 14 in the town of Arthur.

and realizing are two different things. So for real story enjoyment I would say stick to a book or magazine.
You can always go back to the printed word and find the story exactly where you left it—unless, in the case of a weekly newspaper, someone takes the magazine section to light the kitchen fire. Maybe that is one reason why publishers are not too concerned about the effect of television on the reading public. I think what I enjoy most is the telecast of a well-known story. "Robin Hood" for instance. The scenery, characterization and the stage "props" are just about perfect. No doubt it was produced primarily for juvenile entertainment but it takes an adult to appreciate such an artistic and authentic production.
Well, the weather has been making the news again. I can't imagine what England is like in such extremely cold weather. I heard one announcer say it is the coldest winter since 1892. That is a little before my time but I heard my mother speak of that year quite often. It was the year when the River Stour in Suffolk froze solid for six weeks and my father used to skate along the river to a nearby village, a distance of over three miles.
Here, at home, we have had a little of everything. One day, after a six-inch snowfall, the snow in the lane was soft and skiddish. I got stuck at the top of our lane because the back wheels wouldn't follow the front wheels which resulted in the car doing a sort of crab-walk. The next day, at the bottom of the lane, I waited for traffic to pass before driving on to the highway. That did it. When I tried to start up again the wheels spun and I was down to ice. Partner had to come to rescue with ashes. Oh, for a car with snow tires! But alas, snow tires are what you can't get for an English car. However, I felt a little better when I saw a tow-truck coming along with a big, newish-looking car trailing behind.
Another thing happened last week which must have come as quite a shock to many readers of the Family Herald—the death of Maud M. Kerr, women's editor. Mrs. Kerr was an energetic but kindly and sympathetic soul, who had won a place for herself in the hearts of many of her readers. Her kindly, down-to-earth philosophy was nearly always present in her weekly editorials, which were read and quoted by so many who were helped by her wisdom and tolerance.
