New Church Wardens For Rockwood Parish

Last Sunday, the new church wardens of St. John's Anglican church, Rockwood, were officially installed in office by the rector, Rev. Evan H. Jones, B.A., L.Th.

The rector appointed Dr. K. B. Waller as rector's warden for the coming year and Ernest Slipp was elected people's warden at the annual vestry meeting held on January 25.

The rector explained that the office of church warden is one of dignity and responsibility. The office dates from the 14th century. The name is derived from the one duty which originally belonged to the office: the custody of church property. The rector informed the parishioners that other duties have been added in later times and in the faithful and wise discharge of these duties, laymen render valuable service to the church.
