Manor Residents Visited Again By Sunshine Club

A group of young ladies who had brought an atmosphere of sunshine to the men and women residents of Halton Manor last October, came again with a supply of the same commodity last week. These ladies were members of the Sunshine Club of the First Baptist church, Georgetown. It was regretted by all visitors and residents alike, that the minister of their church, Mr. A. J. Barker, was unable to be present. The meeting was held in the dining room, which also serves for purposes of entertainment as an assembly hall. After the visitors had been welcomed by Mrs. Clarke, the matron of the Manor, the president of the club, Miss Norma Thompson, took the chair to introduce a very interesting program. Miss Thompson herself showed a series of attractive slides which depicted the beauties of nature in Muskoka, Temagami and various parts of Halton county. She commented briefly on each slide as it was shown. Before and after the showing of the slides, there were several enjoyable musical numbers. Mrs. D. Hancock sang two solos and Mrs. Corbett sang a duet selection. All these musical numbers, as well as the singing of several familiar hymns by the visitors and residents in unison, delighted the audience. Arlene Reeve was the accompanist for all these musical selections. An earnest and appealing address was given by Mrs. A. Robinson, after which Mrs. F. Clappison closed the meeting with prayer. Mrs. Marris of the Halton Manor staff expressed thanks of the audience to these talented and generous young ladies for an enjoyable program and asked them to come again soon. Hobby Class Meets The third meeting of the Halton Manor hobby class was held last week, 18 ladies, including Mrs. Clarke, the matron and director, assembled to work various projects, which range from knitting, crocheting and fine embroidery, to the sewing of quilt patches and the decoration of flower vases. At the close of the two hour work period, satisfaction with progress made since the start of the hobby class February 8 was expressed by the members and Mrs. Clarke. In the absence of Rev. J. L. Blair of St. Paul's United church, Milton, the church service in the chapel on Sunday was conducted by Dr. George King of Milton. Three ladies accompanied him to the Manor and gave great pleasure to the residents during the service. These ladies were Mrs. K. O. Foster, Miss Lorena Woodley and Miss Joy Hayward. Miss Woodley and Miss Hayward sang a duet and Mrs. Foster played the accompaniment for the selections and the hymns. After reading the scripture lesson, Dr. King delivered a fine address on the verse, 'Could ye not watch with me one hour?' Dr. King pointed out that at the time when these words were spoken, the hour of the Crucifixion was fast approaching. Jesus was a man of prayer and here He is shown praying in the garden of Gethsemane. The disciples, being weary, had fallen asleep and Jesus rebukes them. Dr. King went on to explain that Christ's question implies not only a rebuke but also an inference of what power can come to mankind through the use of prayer. Prayer is not a duty but a high privilege. Without prayer, life is feeble and in our own generation prayer could come into the world to transform the world.

CAMPBELLVILLE FIRE
Members of the Milton fire brigade were called out Thursday night last week about five p.m. to attend a fire at the home of George Goldstraw in Campbellville. The fire began in an oil heater on a hot water tank and caused little damage.
