Two of the doctors in Georgetown are planning to engage associates.

Walker Lodge held its ladies night this year at the Brant Inn, Burlington.

F. L. Crawford of the Lord's Day Alliance is calling on friends of the group.

One of the grade nine forms held a class party last Friday with a hayride, dance and lunch.

The Eastern District Guelph Association B.Y.F.U. commences its summer ball schedule this week. Acton is entering a team.

Joy Peal told Rotarians of her trip to Ottawa, which they sponsored, at their meeting Tuesday. She and Marilyn Magee were dinner guests of the club.

Tender plants have been blackened by frost the past week. However despite the weather, plants are being sold steadily and optimists are at work in their gardens.

Scouts and Cubs filled trucks with paper Saturday morning when they again held a paper collection. A large truck, carried off their bundles to Guelph where they are sold.

A window display that recalls memories of war days is in Watson's Restaurant window. Flags, navy, army and air force equipment call attention to Decoration Day this Sunday.

We happened to glance at that picture of Don Fairbairn on page seven when it was on the press upside down, and saw the Free Press right in the middle of his mound of newspapers!

Teachers from Acton, Georgetown and Milton public school staffs held their last inter-staff meeting of the season in the Anglican parish hall in Milton Monday after school. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bornhold were guests.

Under last week's Free Press picture of the farewell presentation to W. Benson and G. Rognvaldson at Baxter's, one cut line read somewhat ambiguously, Mr. Benson and Mr. Rognvaldson's gifts were from fellow employees.

Several Acton high school girls acted as models at the Victoria Day celebration in Georgetown Park, and Shirley Mason was a prize. Others taking part were Norma Cunningham, Marilyn Young, Valene Varey, Diane Newton and Anne Richardson.

We read in the Georgetown Herald that Father Anselm Spacey, the new pastor of Holy Cross church there, speaks six languages fluently and has a smattering of others. A native of Bohemia, he was educated in Holland, France and Italy. He was an army chaplain in three countries during the war.

A thick sheaf of information about the 210 member groups of the Ontario Chamber of Commerce has come in to the Free Press office. Relating to nothing in particular except to the prevalence of alphabetical order, Acton Chamber of Commerce heads the entire list. Information says that 58 per cent of the total membership is located in communities of less than 5,000 population, like Acton. Total membership is 35,000 business and professional men.
