

Roses, Fern Form Background for Coon Wedding

Large baskets of roses and ferns formed a charming background recently in the First Baptist Church, Guelph, when Florence Doreen Michm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Michm, became the bride of William Albert Coon, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Coon, Acton. Rev. Lawrence E. Mason officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a waltz length gown of white tulle over taffeta trimmed with appliqued lace daisies designed and made by the bride's sister, Mrs. Doris Price. She wore a matching daisy corsage which held her elbow length veil of nylon tulle and carried a cascade of pink and white baby mums with pink ribbon streamers.

Miss Marilyn Smith was bridesmaid in waltz length gown of olive green chiffon with white mittens and shoes and a headpiece of white baby mums and ferns. She carried a cascade of yellow carnations and baby mums with yellow ribbon streamers.

Robert Coon acted as best man and Jack Michm and Herbert Doodis ushered. Donald Alexander played the wedding music and at the signing of the register played The Lord's Prayer.

The wedding reception was held in the Latin Quarter of the Green Roster with dancing later in the evening.

The guests were received by the bride's mother who chose a dress of pale blue nylon brocade with white accessories and corsage of pink and white mums. She was assisted by the groom's mother in delphinium blue lace with white accessories and corsage of pink and white mums.

For the wedding trip to the north the bride donned a summer black cotton dress with white accessories and corsage of sweetheart roses and white feathered mums.

Mr. and Mrs. Coon will reside in Guelph.

Guests attended from Acton, Dundalk, Clinton, St. Catharines, Toronto, Port Dover and Hespeler.

Four Sisters Attend Betty Williamson At Saturday Bridal

In a double-ring ceremony in St. Alban's Anglican church, Sylvia Elizabeth (Betty) Williamson exchanged wedding vows with Howard Forbes Cole last Saturday afternoon. Yellow mums formed the setting for the marriage and Mrs. F. G. Oakes played the wedding music.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Williamson of Acton. The groom, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. William Cole of Eden Mills, is with the Royal Canadian Navy stationed at Halifax, and expects to leave for six months at sea shortly.

A floor length gown of white lace and net over satin, trimmed with sequins, was worn by the bride. Her veil, of fingertip length, was held by the required cap. Pink roses and streamers were on the white Prayer Book she carried.

The bride's four sisters were her attendants. As matron of honor, Mrs. Agnes Comanda wore a gown of blue net and lace with a matching headpiece. She carried blue and white carnations.

Mrs. Evelyn Yankowski wore a gown of yellow over taffeta with matching accessories, while Mrs. Hazel Coates was similarly gowned in mauve. They carried pink and white carnations.

Miss Carolynne Williamson was flower girl, wearing pink organdy with a headpiece of pink roses. She carried white and blue carnations. The bride was given in marriage by her father, D. Williamson, Ralph Langford was groomsmen and ushers were George Williamson and William Coates.

Following the ceremony, the par-
