Agree with New Zoning By-Law

General agreement with Georgetown's proposed zoning by-law was expressed by council recently when a special meeting was held with the planning board to review the lengthy document designed to make Georgetown's future expansion orderly and in the best interests of a majority of citizens. The by-law, prepared for the town by Dr. E. G. Faludi, has been extensively reviewed by members been visiting with Dr. and Mrs. of the planning board since their Bruyns in Edmonton. They made appointment a few months ago, and the trip by plane. a number of revisions were made before the board presented it to

N.S. Resident Is Versatile Artist

Halifax (CP) - Reg Dockrill of nearby Armdale upsets the old adage: Jack of all trades, master of

Father of seven children, he is a sculptor, artist (oils, water colors) and murals), poet and business

He has painted scenery for plays, decorated a boat club and dance hall, illustrated a lecture with a painting and done busts of notable Haligonians such as Richard (Kid) Howard, Canadian lightweight boxing champion.

He won a trophy offered by the Canadian Association of Real Estate Boards for the best-designed real estate window display.

But artistic temperament has no place in the Dockrill home. The children are permitted to roam freely in and out of his studio, hever worrying that they might break a delicate piece of work over which father has labored.
