

A CANDLELIGHT double ring ceremony in Ballinafad United church united in marriage Marjorie Eita Werne and William James Bell. The couple are making their home in Waterloo where the bride is nursing in Kitchener-Waterloo hospital and the groom is attending Waterloo College, studying for the ministry.

Jo Ann Stuckey, Barry Inscoc Exchange Rings in St. Alban's

Barbara Jo Anne Stuckey and Barry Inscoc exchanged rings in St. Alban's church in a ceremony performed by Rev. Evan Jones on Saturday afternoon, October 20. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. Stuckey of Acton and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Inscoc of Cooksville. Pink chrysanthemums and gold lilies were placed in the church for the occasion. Mrs. Frank Oakes played the organ. Leslie Duby sang the 23rd Psalm before the ceremony and The Wedding Prayer during the signing of the register. The bride wore a traditional full length white gown of gossamer tulle over shimmering satin, accented with front panel of Chantilly lace and sequins embroidered at the neckline. The sleeves were lily pointed Her illusion veil with a rose-point hand-clipped medallion edge, was caught to a cloche of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of red and white carnations.

The attendants were gowned alike in waltz-length dresses of nylon chiffon over taffeta, styled with a delicately draped bodice and sleeves. Their hats were of nylon chiffon in the same shades, encrusted with seed pearls and sequins and they wore matching gloves and shoes. Mrs. George Brown, Preston, was matron of honor in Spanish green and Miss Daphne Woods of Guelph, a cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid in a muted shrimp shade. Miss Jo Marie Marchant in Spanish green and Miss Martianne Cles in shrimp were flower girls for their cousin. Their short dresses were styled with puffed shoulders and sleeves. Their hats were of nylon chiffon in the same shades, encrusted with seed pearls and sequins and they wore matching ruffled caps.

All the attendants carried bouquets of yellow mums. George Brown of Preston was groomsmen, Raymond Slater of Toronto and Charles Snow ushered to their places the guests from Cooksville, Toronto, Milton, Brampton, Bowmanville, Guelph, Exeter, Georgetown, Weston, Campbellford, Hamilton, Galt and Preston as well as Acton. Dinner was served in St. Alban's parish hall to the friends and relatives. Mrs. Stuckey received her guests wearing a dress of beige over brown taffeta with brown accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses. Mrs. Inscoc assisted and chose for the occasion a dress of powder blue flowered crepe; her duster of black corded silk had a matching blue lining. With this she wore pink shoes. The bridal party left the reception to visit the bride's grandmother, Mrs. George Woods, who is confined to Guelph General hospital and could not attend the wedding. The bride presented her grandmother with her bouquet. The couple left for New York, and are making their home in Acton. The bride left wearing a suit of salt and pepper tweed with black and gold accessories and a corsage of yellow-gold roses.

Men Do Everything At Unusual Bazaar

Although it wasn't quite as unique this year, the Men's Bazaar at St. Alban's parish hall last Saturday afternoon was still quite a novel affair. The men of the Brotherhood of Anglican Churchmen did everything—well, nearly everything. Rev. Evan Jones welcomed the 150 customers. They purchased crafts from George Hargrave and George Lee such as key holders and lawn ornaments. A man made Les Duby sold hamburgers and hot dogs upstairs. Dave Spicer was in charge of the baking table and he had made many of the delicious items. A hand-carved purse, made by Cyril Taylor, was won in a draw by Reg. Aken. Mrs. Elmer Lasby won the contest for guessing the weight of a cake made by Mr. Spicer. Vic Bristow sold the tea tickets and Bill Barrett and K. Slipp of Rockwood were the waitresses. Kitchener help: Clint Taylor and Elmer Lasby.

Chimney Fire Call To Mill St. House

1st Acton Company held their Halloween party Tuesday evening and the guests were the 1st Georgetown Company. An exciting time prevailed as costumed characters bobbed for apples and prizes. Jean Hart played the piano for musical chairs and Ella-Judy played for our costumed grand march. Our most inspiring costumes were a very shaky old man, Elvis Presley the 2nd and a slouchy rogue. Campfire was held with the special attractions of a solo from Ann Watkins, accompanied by Ella-Judy playing the Wayward Wind. Joanne McKenzie performed Highland dancing and Rhona McEachern gave the accompaniment to the piano. Verna Churchill also delighted us with a solo. After singing campfire songs, we filled ourselves on delicious sandwiches, cookies and chocolate milk. A vote of thanks was received from Barbara Kinrade on behalf of the Georgetown Company and Taps called an end to a wonderful party.

Many at Reception Following Marriage In Grace Church

A double-ring ceremony in Grace Anglican church, Milton, united in marriage Stella Helen Lewandowski and Gordon Allan Craig. Rev. D. A. Powell officiated, with Mrs. Ledwith playing the organ. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lewandowski of R.R. 1, Acton and the groom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Craig of Milton. A full length Chantilly type lace and tulle gown of bridal white was worn by the bride, who was given in marriage by her father. The bodice was of lace to the low curved V, the neckline enhanced with seed pearls and iridescent sequins. The bodice and skirt were fastened with tulle panels shimmered with lace motifs and panels of lace insertion. Her fingertip veil was caught to a petal-shaped tiara. She carried a bouquet of red roses. The matron of honor, Norman Mitchell, wore a full length gown of pale blue and carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Frances James, the bridesmaid, wore a yellow full length gown and carried mauve carnations. Both wore matching headresses. Paul Wilson was groomsmen and Donald Lemon ushered the guests. The wedding party received about 200 guests in the Polish Alliance Hall, Guelph. Mrs. Lewandowski chose a blue dress with pale blue accessories. A corsage of red roses completed her ensemble. Mrs. Craig wore for the occasion a brown taffeta dress with a contrasting corsage of yellow roses. The couple left on a wedding trip to Sault Ste. Marie. The bride wore for travelling a blue dress with black patent leather shoes and purse, white hat and gloves.

Rev. R. Easter Takes Gratitude As Talk Topic

The Baptist Women's Mission Circle held their annual Thankoffering meeting Monday evening, October 29 in the church with the president, Mrs. J. Chapman, in the chair. The meeting opened with a hymn, followed by prayer by the president. Mrs. David Cohen read a beautiful poem entitled, That First Harvest. Mrs. C. Leishman brought a message in song, Jesus How Sweet Thy Name. Mrs. R. Costerus read the scripture and spoke of the need to keep informed as to the needs of missionaries abroad and of how much they need prayers as well as support. After the singing of the hymn, Go Labor On, Mrs. Leishman again favored with a solo, I've a Savior Kind and True. Mrs. H. Reid introduced the guest speaker, Rev. R. Easter from Victoria, B.C. Mrs. Easter, who accompanied her husband east, spoke briefly, bringing greetings from First Church Circles, Victoria. Mr. Easter based his talk on Gratitude—deep down in our hearts, gratitude to God who never fails us, bringing seed time and harvest to us each year. Beauty in flowers and trees receives so much from God. We should be partners with Him, laboring together for the harvest of souls and the extension of His kingdom. Mrs. H. Leisung expressed the thanks to Mr. Easter for his wonderful message, to Mrs. Leishman for her inspiring solos and to all others taking part in the program of the evening. Rev. R. Costerus pronounced the benediction, after which a social hour was enjoyed. Circle members serving refreshments.
