Kadar Cuts Costs Eyes on Middle East Moves in Egypt

By HARRY COLES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

The Hungarian government of Premier Janos Kadar has drafted a national budget for only the first quarter of this year, and ordered "rigorous austerity" to reduce deficit.

Hope was expressed in the official government newspaper that bankruptcy can be avoided through loans from friendly countries.

Kadar claims to have obtained a $500 million loan from Russia and credits of about the same size from the U.S.S.R. But his regime's appeals for credits from Western countries so far have met no response.

Coal production continues at only about half the rate prevailing before the October revolution. "Rigorous austerity in public life" apparently means the dismissal of more government employees and reduction of funds for the armed forces. Thousands of government white collar workers already have been discharged, and functions of the disintegrated Hungarian army have largely been taken over by the Russian occupation forces.

Eyes on Middle East Condemning the Eisenhower doctrine, Russia and Communist China have proclaimed their continued readiness to give Middle Eastern countries "any necessary support" to meet aggression and interference in their affairs.

The new denunciation was included in the joint communique from Soviet Premier Bulganin and Premier Chou En-Lai of Red China ending Chou's visit to Moscow.

The communique said: "Of late the imperialist aggressive groupings have been intensifying the cold war, and are carrying out conspiratorial activities aimed against the U.S.S.R., Communist and the cause of peace."

300 Teachers Debate Problems

A variety of teaching problems were discussed at the second In-Service Training Meeting for the Halton Public School teachers held at the J. M. Denyes school on Monday evening, January 14. 300 teachers attended The Halton County Principals' Association sponsors this program to improve teachers on the job.

Supervisors of Music and teachers of Industrial Arts and Crafts and Home Economics also met in groups for their first meeting.

Mrs. Flora Sloeki of Milton, a former director of kindergartens near Toronto, spoke to kindergarten teachers. She emphasized the importance of kindergarten in a child's school life. Discussions of the problems of kindergarten teachers followed.

Grade 1 teachers heard Miss Emma Martin, primary specialist on the staff of the Hamilton Teachers' College speak on the teaching of Arithmetic.

Grade 2 teachers discussed the teaching of English. Miss Marjorie Baker, principal of a Hamilton Public School, guided the group in its discussions.

Grade 3 teachers also discussed the teaching of English. The best time and how to begin the teaching of writing was discussed at length.

Grade 4 teachers spent the evening on the subject of Social Studies. Each grade 4 teacher brought along samples of work done by her grade 4 class. This display pooled the best ideas of more than 30 teachers.

Grade 5 teachers had discussion of social studies and memory work; grade 6, discussion of English; grade 7, discussion of the teaching of Current Events, the local community and Canadian History.

Many teachers feel that greater emphasis should be put on the teaching of Civics and Geography.

Mrs. J. Ward and Miss Edith Donkin, principal, both from Strathcona school, Nelson township, spoke on the improvement of Composition at the Grade 8 level. Group discussions followed.

An Industrial Arts and Crafts group organized and chose as chairman, W. A. Griffin, teacher at the Lorne Skuce school in Trafalgar.

The Home Economics group chose as its leader, Miss M. Thornburn, Home Economics teacher, also of the Lorne Skuce school.

In Music, supervisors of this subject chose Stewart Buchanan of Nelson township as their leader.

A display of art collected by the International Red Cross was on hand. The patient and detailed work of Asiatic children especially attracted comment and attention of Halton teachers. All public school children of the county are having a chance to see this display.

Moves in Egypt:
Shaky U.S. hopes of keeping Egypt from closer ties with Russia probably have been dealt a serious blow by President Nasser's decree "Egyptianizing" major foreign businesses in Egypt.

Nasser's new law, announced last Thursday, has thrown the foreign business community in Egypt into turmoil, according to reports reaching the state department at Washington.

News dispatches from Cairo said Egyptian and foreign businessmen alike believe the ultimate effect of the new decree—amounting to a nationalization order—will be to scare off western investors and kill Egypt's chances of getting western economic or financial aid.

Globe Circles:
The U.S. Air Force gave the world a demonstration of its ability to deliver H-bombs to any point on the face of the earth. Presumably the globe-circling flight of three B-52 heavy jet bombers which ended last Friday also has impressed the U.S. Congress, now beginning to consider appropriations for the armed forces.

It also showed, however, that the U.S. still must rely on overseas bases for global operation of its Strategic Air Command bombers.

Tanker aircraft for refueling the three B-52 bombers had to be deployed at intervals along their 24,328-mile route around the midriff of the world, a globe-circling journey which was completed in 42 hours, 19 minutes, from start to return at their California base.

All Battered:
The 2048-ton ferry, Cabot Strait, plowed onto the sands at Grand Bay, six miles west of Port Aux Basques in Newfoundland, in a storm described by inhabitants as "the hardest we've ever seen it."

She carried 12 passengers and 39 crew members, with cargo and mail. Passengers and crew were

Readers Note Change In Picture Captions

Readers last week noted a change in the picture captions (shown in newspaper circles as outlined) in this newspaper. Again this week they're different from those in use for several years.

All outlines now have a "head-line" at the left in bold-face type, to draw attention and explain in a few words what the picture is about. A detailed description is found in the lighter, easily-read type at the right.

Equitable Basis For Land Values Assessors Feel

Halton County assessors held their first meeting of the year in Acton on Wednesday of this week. Reviewing land values in the town, Assessor T. Jones reported the assessors were satisfied local land values were on an equitable basis in relation to the balance of the county.

The county assessors were guests of Acton at dinner in the Station Hotel at noon with Councillor G. Barbeau present in the mayor's absence and Clerk McGeachie.

All county municipalities were represented at the meeting. A discussion on the possibility of implementing the Department of Municipal Affairs' assessment manual resulted in the rejection of the idea at this time.
