

Tartan Sashes, Highland Dress Add Color to Scottish Dance

The Scottish Dance Club meeting got into its final gathering for the season with unprecedented gaiety on Friday, April 12. Pipers Bob McVey and Phil Caddick, in full Scottish regalia, paced in front of the dancers for the Grand March at the opening. Ladies with tartan sashes draped on their shoulders and men in Highland dress added to the colorful scene. The Ceilidh was on!

The first dance — Dashing White Sergeant — was a triumph for all. It was entered into with spirit and dash and the result of the season's practice was noticeable in the absence of hesitation or confusion. Alternative songs and dances were the order of the evening. The dancers had a chance to recover after a strenuous eighteenth and listen to or take part in a song around the piano.

Mrs. Effie Brown from Guelph gave a fine rendering of "Logie o' Buchan" and Mrs. H. Buckner told the story in song of "The Laird o' Cockpen". For variation there were two beautifully executed solo dances by Sharon Brown. The grace and agility of this young miss is a thing to remember. Her performance of the "Shean Trean" and "The Lush Washerwoman" gained loud and hearty applause.

A serious element was introduced by Miss Eva Stitt from Toronto who recently won the cup in the second annual Shakespeare competition in which there were 36 contestants. Miss Stitt at the Ceilidh read and recited excerpts from Burns' "Cotters' Saturday Night". Her excellent diction and clear expression deeply touched the listeners. And there was a warm surge in the Scottish hearts there when she finished "A virtuous populace may raise the while and stand a wall of fire, around their much loved Isle".

Song sheets helped with the enjoyment of the evening. Included "Scots Wha Hae" and "Will ye no come back again". Capable MCs were Bill Wilson and Mr. Fleming.

All Long was present with Ron Lewis as assistant with lights. Films of the dances were made, tripping to the various dances and also singing around the piano. A high record player lent by Mr. and Mrs. Currie, was ably operated by Master Ian Currie.

A plan for next season's activities was outlined by Mrs. George Robertson for her contribution to the success of this first season. He spoke of her faithful attendance at each meeting when she not only instructed in the traditional dances but also played the piano. "We were indeed fortunate," he said, "in having the benefit of her experience and interest." Mrs. Robertson with a hand bag and gloves as a token of appreciation.

Visitors were present from Guelph Dr. and Mrs. Raffan and friends, Dr. and Mrs. Hurr, Mr. and Mrs. Connell, Mr. and Mrs. Duffie, Mr. and Mrs. Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Brown and party, Mr. and Mrs. Currie and Ian Mr. and Mrs. Orr, Mr. and Mrs. Forsyth, from Toronto. Miss Helen Buckner and Miss Eva Stitt from Galt, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott. One visitor was present from Preston.

Communion Table Dedicated at Church By Guelph Minister

Consecration of the Communion Table that was presented to the Session of Eden Mills United Church took place on Sunday. The table was given by Mr. and Mrs. Wilkie Wilson of Eden Mills in loving memory of Mr. Wilson's father and mother, the late Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson.

After being received by Kenneth Griffiths minister of Eden Mills United church, the table was consecrated by the Rev. A. Black, assistant minister at Dublin Street United church, Guelph.

Four new members were received into Communion of the three churches in the Ebenezer charge. They were Mrs. Margaret Shirve and Mrs. Marion Glazier, Eden Mills; Donald Ansley, Arkell; and Mrs. Violet Anderson, Ebenezer.

Two were baptized: Phillip Shirve, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Shirve, RR 3, Rockwood and Vera, Marie Vetroc, Nassagaweya township. Miss Vetroc celebrated her birthday the same day, she was baptized making the day a very special one for her.
