To Represent Halton
In the final game, Norval triumphed over Acton 21-4 to win the horseshoe pitching crown.

Norval's horseshoe champs, Dave Leslie and Don Robinson will represent Halton at the finals to be held at Ganung, June 28. The two Milton baseball teams will also represent the County on that day.

For of the Halton Juniors took charge of the service in which he was assisted by vice-president Sandy Buchanan.

The speaker of the evening, Mrs. Katherine Merry took as her subject, "The Future is Now." Her presentation and development of the topic was keenly enjoyed and appreciated by her congregation.

The anthems of the Junior Farmers choir, trained and led by Mrs. George Sewell, also contributed much to the enjoyment of the service.

Following the benediction, a goodly percentage of the congregation adjourned to the Sunday School room for a Fireside Hour, where the choir, assisted by Mrs. Barbara Cunningham and the Halton Junior Farmers quartette composed of John Eves, Howson, Ruth, Tom Hunter and Stuart McEwen, presented a most enjoyable program.

Recent Showers Pep Up Growth

Last week's showers, while still far short of being adequate to meet requirements, nevertheless have "pepped up" growth of all crop pastures and meadows in general.

On Thursday of last week we were impressed by the growth of two different pastures which had been treated with applications of nitrogen in early April. On the farm of Johnson Neeland, of Hornby, a 12 acre field had been divided into three four-acre paddocks by means of electric fence.

One four-acre paddock had received an application of 150 lbs. of 44 per cent nitrogen plus triple superphosphate, a second paddock of similar acreage had received an equal amount of nitrogen in the form of ammonium nitrate or Nitrapill plus triple superphosphate.

At the moment the plot which received the Urea seemed to be well in advance but both treated plots were away out in front of the non-treated paddock.

We also had a look at another somewhat similar demonstration on the farm of Brock Harris, near Lowville. Here a 16 acre field had been also subdivided for rotation at grazing. On the Harris farm the mature herd of 42 cows was turned out on this field on April 25. While the herd was transferred to another field for a short period they are now back on the 16 acre field, which is largely Orchard Grass, for a second time. One only has to see this field to realize why Mr. Harris is such a devotee of Orchard Grass, he manages it!

On the same date we saw other pasture fields which were quite a contrast to those mentioned. In short, they were "short" and ragged of being a good light healthy sward, they were open with plenty of dandelions and other weeds and the color a pale yellowish green, except here and there where the cattle droppings had promoted bunch growth.

Meadows, too, show just as great differences 1957 by and large was a good year to secure seed catches—but what a contrast here and there! One field of timothy, alfalfa and clover 12 to 15 inches in height, while on other farms there is little growth in the meadows and they are open at the bottom.

What a difference fertility does make! Over the years, D.H.I.A. figures reveal a tremendous spread in the cost of producing milk.

Halton Junior Farmers Church Service

The ninth annual church service of Halton Junior Farmers was held at St. Paul's United Church, Milton on Sunday evening, May 18. There was a gratifying congregation in attendance for an evening service but there was room for more.

Those present must have been impressed as we were, by the manner in which the young people carried out their various roles in the service. In short, they reflected much credit on their respective homes and churches. In our opinion, the parents present had every reason to be very proud of their young people.

Following a few words of welcome from Rev. J. Lorne Graham, minister of St. Paul's, president Roy,

Dairy Queen Representative To be Selected by Competition

Halton dairy groups, with representatives present from Acton, Georgetown, Milton, Oakville and Toronto Milk Producers, met in Milton on May 18 to discuss ways and means of selecting Halton's representative for the Dairy Queen contest at the Canadian National Exhibition. Other groups represented at the meeting were the Halton Cream Producers, Halton Federation of Agriculture and the Halton Junior Farmers.

J. H. Taylor, president of the Halton Federation of Agriculture, was appointed chairman of the county committee, with A. J. Hoag as county secretary. While three Halton young ladies have signified their intention of competing for the honor of being Halton's princess in the big competition further applications will be received up until Monday, June 16.

The three young ladies who have signified their desire of representing Halton in the competition for the Ontario Dairy Queen title and the overseas trip to Great Britain are: Miss Mary Lou Robinson of Oakville, R. R. 1; Miss Mary Lou Taylor of Burlington, R. R. 2; and Miss Lorna Woodley of Milton, R. R. 1.

Halton Plowmen Plan '58 Matches

Halton Plowmen under the leadership of president Leonard Lee, met in Milton on Wednesday evening of last week when tentative plans were made for both the junior and senior matches.

The Junior Farmer Match is scheduled for Saturday, September 14th and the senior County Match on Saturday, October 24th.

John W. Pickett, Keith Merry and Don Taylor were appointed to select the site for the junior match, and Lloyd May, Thomas Howden and J. C. Marshall as the committee to select the site for the senior match, which this year is scheduled for Trafalgar township.

This meeting decided that the Halton Princess will be selected by means of a county contest where local contestants will demonstrate their respective proficiency in preparing and milking a cow and in the handling of milk, sanitation, etc. To this end the following committees were appointed:

Selection: James Marshall, John M. Bird and J. H. Taylor

Publicity: Barbara Cunningham and A. R. Coulter

Finance: Clifford Brown, Melvin McCullough, Wim Rayner, Fred Brooks, James Marshall, John M. Bird, J. H. Taylor and Roy F. Ford
