Knox Church Alert Auxiliary Celebrates 35th Anniversary

Wednesday evening May 21 was a memorable occasion for the members of the Alert Evening Auxiliary of Knox Presbyterian Church.

The guest speaker, introduced by Mrs. James Inglis, the past president, was Rev. H. Forbes Thomson, a former minister of Knox and now at St. Andrew's Church, Guelph.

This message was a challenge to Christian people to see their talents and time unostentatiously in the work of the Master, and used the names of several people who have sacrificed much to help others. His presence and inspiring message was enjoyed by all.

Mrs. M. C. McCullough, the president, welcomed the guests and presided over the meeting. A program of worship was in charge of Mrs. Bella Mace, Mrs. J. C. Young and Mrs. C. M. C. C.

Based on the fourth chapter of Philippians the service included the favorite hymn of Mrs. Robert O'Hara, O. Mace, by Mrs. Mace with their lovely paths of service free. The offering was received and Mrs. John L. Davidson presented the dedicatory prayer.

The choir, under the leadership of F. A. Hansen led in the beautiful hymns of praise. They also rendered 'The Home of Thanks' giving with Mrs. J. L. Davidson in taking the solo parts. Mrs. W. J. Klein of Guelph, a former in-walk, was in attendance and contributed a delightful solo.

Mrs. Fred Anderson, the present secretary and a past president, concluded the group down memory lane, relating some of the highlights and some outstanding achievements over the years.

Mrs. Johnnie Krupik read the names of the past presidents during the lifetime of the Auxiliary and in tribute to the departed, Mrs. Robert Adams read the names of those whose memory is treasured followed with a period of silent prayer.

A letter was read from Mrs. A. C. Stewart, the first honorary president, who was unable to be present owing to illness.

Others who were present, some of whom expressed greetings, were Mrs. Foster Thomson, Mrs. Emma Robinson, Mrs. Klein, Mrs. Krupik and daughter, and Mrs. L. Atkey, son, Guelph; Mrs. R. H. Arnold, Hamilton; Mrs. Lloyd Clifton and Mrs. Burgess, Alliston; Mrs. Kirby Williams, Cawksville; Mrs. Helen Graham and Mrs. George Leslie, Georgetown; Mrs. E. A. Pearce, Rockwood and Mrs. J. Chapman from the Baptist Mission Circle.

Rev. A. McKenzie brought greetings from the church. Mrs. H. Munnice from the Synodical and Mrs. A. J. Buchanan as president of the Senior W.M.S. Messages were read from Mrs. C. H. Pearce, Presbyterian president, Mrs. Doug Macpherson, Miss Frances Hurst, Mrs. B. Townsend and Mrs. F. Wilds.

Mrs. George Somerville expressed deep appreciation to all for their cooperation in making it such a splendid evening. The hymn

County Planning Discussed Committee Promises to Study

Planning in Halton County on a county-wide basis will be studied by the County Council's planning committee and a recommendation forwarded to council as soon as possible, it was decided on Friday evening when representatives of municipal councils and planning boards from 11 towns gathered at the Court House, Milton, to meet representatives of the Department of Planning and Development.

Terms, exceedingly informative by delegates, the evening was spent in group discussion, comparing representatives of various county bodies, followed by a general discussion and question and answer period conducted by the Department officials.

Although no decision on the merits of a tabling a County planning board was reached, most delegates gathered helpful information to relay to their council, and boards and the county's planning committee was urged to give the matter careful study before any hasty decision is made.

York Represented Special guests at the meeting were members of the York county council which is also studying the new scheme.

John Pearson headed the delegation from Queens Park, assisted by G. Adams, Martin Simian and Ted Gomme. Each man conducted one of the four discussion groups and reported back to the meeting on each group's findings during the two-hour discussions.

Financed by County Mr. Gomme held the meeting there is now meeting in the Acton acting specifically to County Planning, but the Minister could define a planning area if requested. Financing, he explained, could probably be done on a county basis as part of the county rates.

Summing it up, Mr. Pearson noted there's an obvious need for continued discussion between the municipalities in Halton County.

County Planning Discussed Committee Promises to Study

We can't say County Planning is THE thing or that it's necessary in Halton County, he added.

Perhaps Not Ideal Reporting on his discussion group Mr. Gomme added we learned what's involved in administration of county planning. Halton County is not the ideal area. I've admitted but many problems are similar in other towns and rural townships.

Mr. Pearson pointed out that county planning could look after roads, land uses, municipal boundaries, sewage treatment and garbage disposal problems, parking integrations, conservation plans, zoning of government buildings and a general coordination of planning.

Also suggested at Friday's meeting was a professional full time organizer and staff with the authority to lay the framework of county planning so that the municipalities could fit in from there.

County planning committee chairman Rev. Doug Sargent of Georgetown chaired the meeting. Walter Clark of Oakville represented the delegates.
