

Knox Anniversary, Concert School Picnic in Week's News

Rev. Alan Vair of Preston, former minister, was guest speaker at the Anniversary Services at Knox Presbyterian Church when many former members and friends volunteered to share in the service. Vair delivered two inspiring and thought-provoking messages in his capable manner.

The Junior choir, with Mrs. G. Hunter at the organ, sang two numbers. "I want my life to tell for Jesus" and "God so loved the world". Mrs. Byron Bruce was soloist in the morning and in the evening. Mr. Ken Graham of Hillsburgh was a special number. Huge baskets of pink and white ponies greeted the front of the church.

On Monday evening the usual Anniversary Concert was held in the Community grounds. A fair crowd was present to enjoy the various numbers presented by friends from Acton, Erin, Hills-

Baby Band Picnic In Rockwood Park

A royal time was had by the Baby Band of Rockwood United Church in Rockwood park recently when their leader, Mrs. O. Dryber, and the mothers planned a picnic.

About 50 are in the group but only a third attended the outing.

The baby band was started after church union by Mrs. George Bolton. Other leaders who took much interest in the children, all under five years, were Mrs. Percy Powers and Mrs. F. Hoaking. Purpose of the band is to "establish world friendship with children of other lands."

Modern Plate Glass Front for Restaurant

Sidewalk superintendents have been watching the remodelling at Watson's Restaurant this week as workmen set up their scaffolding and materials on the sidewalk. The front of the restaurant was completely removed, and has been replaced by angled plate glass almost from top to bottom. The entrance remains in the centre of the store, but several feet nearer the street.

The glass will be faced by steel, with trim of gleaming turquoise panels.

Present counters are being rearranged for maximum convenience. New flooring in beige and red tiles will complete the renovations. New neon signs are to follow later, and the seats will be reupholstered.

Organize Halton Civil Defence Locate Headquarters in Milton

A Civil Defence Organization for the County of Halton has been initiated and is in progress. A headquarters, Halton County Civil Defence, is now located at 225 Main St. East, Milton. Civil Defence Co-ordinator for Halton County is C. E. R. Smith of Milton.

Brigadier Smith recently explained the dual role of a Civil Defence Organization in peace and war.

To commence his remarks, the Civil Defence Co-ordinator referred to a statement made by the Prime Minister of Canada not too long ago. This is what he said:

"I believe that spontaneously organized effort, no matter how generous and enthusiastically carried out, cannot be as effective as help rendered by trained, equipped volunteers who have learned what to do in an emergency. That is why I believe that we must press on with the organization and training of an effective Civil Defence Corps, to provide leadership and training that will save lives and property if disaster comes."

Defense Not Obsolete

"We have all heard people say that because of the hydrogen bomb, Civil Defence is obsolete. This is not so. It is obsolete only if we have a thoughtless attitude that can only mean greater destruction and loss of life if a war should come.

"True, the H-bomb is a terrible weapon. True, its use would mean many casualties and great suffering. But it seems to me that this

Rescue Weight In Pool Lesson

The Acton swimmers under the tutelage of Jim Buckland held their first regular meet at the Georgetown Pool on Thursday evening, July 3. The season's program got away to a promising start, with the youngsters receiving an introduction to elementary life-saving techniques.

Their enthusiasm and energetic efforts were very encouraging and a test weight was retrieved from the bottom of the tank and successfully saved from a watery grave by each member of the team, who took turns several times at the "brave work of mercy."

There is room for one or two more juniors, but the number of members is being kept small, so that each member will receive maximum individual tuition.

Wedding Anniversary Trip to West Coast

The best defence that money can't buy!

When it comes to real national security, all the guided missiles, DEW lines, and atomic submarines we can build in the next ten years aren't worth a fraction of the value of one classroom full of clear-thinking well-trained minds. But — clear-thinking minds are one defence material that can't be mass-produced in time of crisis.

The only way to ensure a good supply of this precious commodity is to keep our universities full. You can help achieve this by promoting university education among the intelligent young people you know... your own children... the children of friends or neighbours. It's in your interest to increase greatly the number of our young Canadians who go on to higher education.

To better understand the part you can play in helping to educate our children, write for the booklet listed below. FREE — your personal copy of an interesting and informative booklet, "Education at the Crossroads". Write today to Crossroads, Box 200, Station D, Ottawa.
