

Acton Drops Close Game to Oaks Last Minute Rally Falls Short

Acton Intermediates dropped a close baseball game to the Oakville Oaks on Tuesday evening in Oakville 5-4.

Check Jewell on the mound for the locals had a two hitter but after walking three batters and hitting two, the Oaks gathered in three unearned runs, in spite of his five strikeouts.

Oakville started their scoring in the bottom of the second when Billingsley and Burke received a free pass after being hit with the ball and trotted home on a single by Anderson, before the side was retired.

A walk and a single accounted for two more runs to the Oaks in the following inning after a long fly to centre.

Oakville's scoring ended in the bottom of the third but Acton only began hitting their stride in the top of the fourth when Don Emmerson walked and advanced on a passed ball, stole third and trotted home on a single by Don Anderson. The fifth inning was scoreless for both teams but Acton rallied in the top of the sixth when Paul Lawson hit a single to be followed by Don Emmerson with a duplicate and Don Anderson leaning heavy on the hickory corked a homer to rack up three runs.

Oakville were held scoreless in the bottom of the sixth and Acton received the same treatment in the top of the seventh and the scoring and game ended 5-4 for the mighty Oaks.

Dugout Slants: Don Anderson in his conversion to short has found his niche and apparently improved his batting average along with the move with two for two, one a homer with two on and a walk.

Emmerson is continuing to handle himself in intermediate style although still eligible for Juvenile.

Jewell pitched a standout game in spite of his tough luck.

Mrs. Robert Buckner of Acton attended a "Film Day" of the London Institute at Huron College, University of Western Ontario, London, recently.

It was open to all Home and School Association members interested in films and program planning in the hope that a sharing of ideas, experience and viewpoints would help everyone. There were many present who had attended the Home and School Leadership Training Camp at Lake Couchiching in June.

Show Films

Films from a new series calculated to stir discussion readily were shown, including "Taking a Decision", "Emotional Security" and "Who is Sylvia". There were some lively discussions following the showing of these.

For most people, television, radio and the movies are accepted facts and the use of films at meetings of many community groups, such as Home and School Associations, service clubs, unions and church organizations, is becoming more and more popular today. As leaders are realizing that film discussion can become a vital and enjoyable part of their meetings.

Clinic-Reports

Alexis D. Spersansky, M.D., research scientist, in summarizing a series of experiments on the causative factors of diseases, wrote in his book, "A Basis for the Theory of Medicine": "Gradually two basic facts were established. The first is that many pathological processes, the cause of which had been regarded as absolutely foreign to nervous influences, have been found to be in reality entirely dependent on the latter for their origin."

"The second thesis concerns all the processes not belonging to the first group. To whatever chapter of pathology they belong, however complicated their composition and however variable their course, the nervous component remains from beginning to end the factor that determines their general state."
