

CHECK ROOM ATTENDANT at the change stations in the Acton Park. Mrs. E. Curran, is pictured as she places a basket in the shelf for safekeeping. Parks Board members report the check room has not been used to great advantage this year but feel next season will see more people taking advantage of the convenience. Mrs. Curran reported a few lost articles were picked up in the park grounds this season, but stated nothing of value had been turned in.

Crowd Enjoys Massed Concert

Two bands of the Larne Neils regiment, the militia band and the pipe band, among dozens of other bands taking part in the annual massed bands concert at the C.N.E. grandstand on Sunday evening. Hundreds of friends and relatives of the bandmen were among the thousands who jammed the grandstand for the two-hour performance.

The militia band, which is directed by Elgin Corlett of Burlington, had one of 12 brass and wood bands assembled on the huge stage for several numbers throughout the program. The pipers, with pipe major Findlay McCallum of Milton at their head, joined with five other bands to parade before the grandstand in two appearances and later played from the stage in the mass finale.

Trumpet, brass and reed, and pipe bands joined in making the concert a very enjoyable one for the audience which participated.
