

Offer 20 Night School Courses New Subjects, Teachers Planned

A total of 20 courses is being offered at night school this year. At their meeting on Wednesday of last week, committee members decided which courses would be offered Mondays and which Tuesdays, and arranged for advertisements and application forms. Applications are to be in by September 30.

Plans were also made for the usual display at the fall fair this weekend. Examples of work done in some of the classes to be offered this year will be shown and application forms will be available there.

Classes in Villages
It was decided application forms would also be distributed to some of the stores in neighboring villages.

Night school classes have been held in Acton for the past several years with considerable success. Following are the courses being offered this year during the fall and winter months.

Bookkeeping Walter Page of Georgetown, who taught this subject here last year, will return to teach it Tuesday evenings.

Children's Sewing Mrs. Frank Webster of Guilph has taught this popular course for the past several years. It will be held Mondays.

Elementary Cuthing Mrs. G. E. Edwards of Guilph taught here last year. Her classes for beginners will be on Mondays.

Advanced Sewing Mrs. M. Brown of Guilph will return with this course on Tuesdays. She is employed at the Newch sewing machine shop in Guilph, and Newch machines will be used this year.

New Repairs Course
Electrical Repairs Clarence Rog-

inson will instruct on Tuesdays. Leathercraft This Tuesday course will be taken by George Bowman, last year's teacher.

Metal Work and Jewellery Mrs. Fran Leyland, the chairlady of the night school committee, will also be teaching this course on Tuesdays.

Military For her fourth year Mrs. Frank Black will come up from Georgetown Monday evenings to teach both beginners and advanced students.

Fund Secretary Describes Europe, Middle East Trip

The Duke of Devonshire Chapter, IODE met at the home of Mrs. Kenneth Knox on Tuesday evening, September 9 with Mrs. B. Mowat presiding.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and reports from secretaries given.

Plans were discussed for touring at the fall fair.

Group reports on money raising efforts through the summer were heard.

On Empire and World Affairs, Mrs. Mowat gave a short talk on different aspects of the city of Toronto.

Mrs. R. Knox gave an interesting talk on her trip through Europe and the Middle East which she took in connection with her work as Secretary of the Save the Children Fund. She was assisted by Mrs. H. Elliott who showed pictures taken in many of the countries.

Plan Historic Tour Along Credit Valley

An unusual opportunity to take part in one of the most interesting tours of the Credit Valley and Peel County historical spots will be offered the public on Saturday, September 27 when the Women's Institutes of Peel and the Peel County Soil and Crop Improvement Association will join forces with the Ontario Department of Agriculture and the Historical Sites Advisory Board of the Credit Valley Conservation Authority in sponsoring the project.

Wide range
For some years the Peel County Soil and Crop Improvement Association has been staging a Farm Family Conservation Tour timed to coincide with the turning of the leaves in the Fall. This year it has been decided to widen the scope of the activities and to extend a cordial invitation to the general public to participate.

The tour will be in a 100-mile round trip through the ever beautiful Credit Valley with the entire emphasis on historical sites and early history of the area.

While the starting point for the trip has been arranged for 9:30 a.m. at Brampton Fair Grounds, it will be possible for private parties to pick up the cavalcade of cars and buses at any desired point or leave when necessary. For that reason the approximate times the tour will reach various stops en route are included here.

Year Events
After leaving Brampton, the procession will go to Frontville via No. 10 Highway and No. 5 Highway, arriving there at 10 a.m. Here an opportunity will be given to see some of the old buildings and hear a short discussion on Indian history and early pioneer settlement.

The tour will then continue through Streetsville following the Credit through to Midwayville and Churchville. Here homes of United Empire Loyalists will be seen and a visit made to one of the very old Peel cemeteries.

A short discussion will be held on the development of that particular area and at about 10:30 the gathering will proceed through Norval up the Tomlinne to Georgetown where the famous old Barber's Mill will be visited.

Barber's Mill
This was first a wooden mill about a century ago and then became a paper mill. Leaving here about 11:20 a.m. the tour will journey to the beautiful Terra Cotta Conservation Area, owned by the Credit Valley Conservation Authority.

This year alone the Terra Cotta Park has been the mecca for thousands of families enjoying outings for the day. Please bring your own lunch basket to be enjoyed picnic style. Hot coffee is to be supplied by the Conservation Authority.

Following the hour lunch period from 12 until one o'clock the tour will start again and travel through Cheltenham, Boston Mills and Inglewood to the spectacular Parks of the Credit and Cataract Junction where a lunch break will be given of the picnic developments and one o'clock will reach there.

Pioneer Grind Mill
Leaving the Cataract about two or 2:30 o'clock a visit will be made to the pioneer grind mill at Alton which has been in operation more than 100 years.

Tips on Touring
By Carol Lane
Woman's Travel Authority

Summertime need not be the only time for eating out-of-doors for motor-borne families. It's hard to beat a fall cook-out in the crisp cool days of autumn.

So pack up your car with vegetables and utensils and head for a provincial or national park or some picturesque spot in the area. Such parks cater to outdoor cookeries with ready-made grills. But even if there isn't a provincial or national park near you simply take along one of the new, inexpensive portable grills in the luggage compartment.

Prepare For It
You can take the labour out of your fall cook-out by preparing some of your dishes at home in advance. Keep the fun in by cooking your main meat dish over the open fire. Grilled steaks and barbecued chicken always have a special tangy taste when they are cooked and eaten out-of-doors.

For a unique picnic treat, prepare the American speciality, Kasha. Just cut pieces of lamb or beef into small squares. Then skewer alternate layers of meat, tomatoes and onion, either on a metal rod or green stick and roast over low coals. An already-prepared barbecue sauce will add that important, extra flavour.

In Own Containers
Beforehand, at home, put your hot dishes, such as soup, Spanish Rice or vegetables in the new, water-mounted Thermoses. Salads and desserts can be placed into separate plastic or cardboard containers.
