

Churches Hold Special Service Work Continues on New Bridge

On the occasion of anniversary services at the Presbyterian Church and Harvest Festival Service at St. John's Church Sunday, there were large congregations. For the Presbyterian Church, it was the 10th anniversary, and for the combined services of the Rockwood and Eden Mills together, the guest minister was a former pastor, Rev. Fred Williamson of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, Guelph. Special musical numbers by the choir included a vocal number by Miss Caroline Clark, who contributed much to the service. Her solo piece was "Bride Hill Waters". Rev. F. Williamson's discourse was much appreciated.

During the evening service, Mr. Martin Baur sang "I Hear Thy Voice". Preceding and at the conclusion of the services, Mrs. John Freeman, organist, contributed musical numbers at the church were at their best in the fall season.

Harvest Festival
Harvest festival service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. H. B. Blakely. The church was decorated with products of garden and farm and added much to dignity of the occasion.

During the service, Rev. Mr. Appleton, curate of St. George's Church, Guelph, was guest speaker. Music by Miss Mary Lloyd, organist, was also enjoyed. Toward the close of service Holy Communion was observed.

Visitors noticed during Church services were Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Maltby, Pualinch, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Day and family, Ancaster. Other visitors noticed were from Guelph.

Flushing Bridge
More work is being carried on at the new bridge. Extensions to the retaining walls are being constructed, as well as catch basins and gutters to carry off water. Crushed stone has been brought in for filling in against the cement work. Logs used for crib work are pretty well picked up out of the mill dam. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fowke and small daughter of Phoenix, Arizona, spent several days with Mrs. Margaret Ostrander and other friends. The many friends of Miss Lily Croft, Guelph, formerly of Rockwood, are sorry she had the misfortune to fall and break her leg. Her many friends wish for her a speedy recovery.

In connection with anniversary services at Ebenezer Church, Rev. G. A. B. Moore exchanged pulpits with Mr. Griffith.

For the morning service at the Presbyterian Church here, Mr. John Birch supplied for Rev. F. Williamson at St. Paul's Church, Guelph.

Opening ceremonies and open house for new addition to Rockwood Public School are to be held Friday evening. The Rockwood Home and School Association will serve tea. Mr. McVittie will be chairman.

SCOUT NEWS

1st Acton "A" Troop
This week's meeting started off in the regular way with the troop being called into the horseshoe and flag break. After inspection, the troop was broken up into a group of Tenderfoots, Second Class and First Class scouts. These groups studied tests in their own class.

The patrols were lined up in relay fashion and knot races were run. The next game was the hum-around chair game with two boys of each patrol carrying their patrol members to the front of the room and back without dropping them.

Points Given
Points were taken in both of these games and will help, along with the other points the boys have earned, to decide who will be the Honor Patrol for the month of September.

During the course of the meeting, we were visited by the District Scoutmaster of the area. Near the end of the meeting, he gave the boys a small address and wished them luck in their year of Scouting.

The meeting was closed by the singing of Taps and Scout Silence. The duty patrol, this week the Slugs, cleaned the hall and were dismissed.

Remember your staves next week, fellows.

LEGION NEWS

Thanks to Max Storey for the corn he grew and supplied for the corn roast last Friday. Reports have it the corn was good and plentiful but the turnout poor.

Many comrades attended Decoration Day service in Milton last Sunday and helped to swell the crowd in attendance.

Good news for the euchre players starting Friday, October 10. Play resumes in the Legion Hall with the stakes bigger and juicier than ever.

Don't forget the stag and initiation night in the Legion auditorium Friday (tomorrow) at 8:30 p.m. 19 new members will be sworn in to the branch so let's get out and give the newcomers a big hand and enjoy a lunch at the same time.

Start Players' Meeting
Once again comes time for the start players to shine and George Hall asks interested parties to contact him or attend a meeting on Tuesday next at the Legion Hall.

Twenty dollars ($20) will be available for the lucky person whose name is drawn Monday evening at the general meeting. This is your opportunity to start a savings account for Mother's Christmas present. If the money is not claimed, the ante is raised for the next meeting. Don't take a chance and lose out on the $20. Get there early for a seat.

With activities getting back to normal for the winter months, some sports will soon be coming up and to keep up the reputation of Branch 197, a little practice by our experts will be taking place these nights.

Attend Convention
President Elsie Johnson, zone commander, Mrs. W. Finlay and standard bearer Doris Angell of the Legion Ladies' Auxiliary attended the annual convention in Toronto last week. Over 822 members registered for the convention and 870 participated in the parade to the cenotaph for the decoration.

During the three day event, the representatives attended conferences, banquets and parades as well as dancing and recreation. Hats off to the girls interested enough in Legion activities to take time out from household chores to attend the conference and bring back ideas for our local group.

Re-Surfacing
Paving operations began this week on the stretch of road leading from number 7 highway north through Ballinacra to number 24 highway.

King Paving, Oakville, are the contractors for the re-surfacing project.

"Mr. Krane", a television play originally written for Maitland Theatre, was repeated two weeks ago on Channel 17. The writer, Rod Conybeare, has been a Georgetown resident for several months. He moved there from Toronto with his wife and baby son.
