

Duck Hunt on Luther Marsh Produces Well

Despite unusually low water, and reported scarcity of ducks, the opening day of the duck season at Luther Marsh was one of the most successful since its establishment as a water holding area for the Grand River.

It was not without some trepidation that the patrol staff of 33 men converged on the marsh at 5:30 am Daylight Saving Time on opening day. They remembered last year when shooting commenced long before the opening hour and continued uncontrolled.

Hunters Checked
Very few hunters entered the marsh this year without first having been checked by a patrol officer handed a list of instructions which they ran out and urged to cooperate to make a good shoot for all. Almost without exception, hunters were pleased to see the Department officers. They wanted a controlled shoot.

Except for a very few fly fishers, most excellent cooperation was given, and it was not until between 11:45 and 12 noon standard time that shooting really opened up. This is not perfection, and they will strive to better this mark next year.

Fire Flares
Firing flares at the closing hour was looked upon with favor. Shooting then stopped, except for some who "emptied" their guns and others who were unable to see the flare from their position. Officers certainly appreciated the patience of hunters coming through checking stations after the shoot and were given valuable assistance from the Wildlife Management Course, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Ont.

Need Life Preservers
Some observations of the hunt were made which may be passed on. Equip your boat with life preservers. One party of two men from Toronto had their boat capsized and were extremely fortunate when two Kitchener boys found them clinging to their boat and helped them ashore. Luther Marsh can be rough with little boats.

Those hunters with dogs recovered most of their downed ducks. This is a tough area in which to recover crippled ducks - or even dead ducks. A good dog will do this job and enjoy it, while you enjoy watching them work. Liquor and hunting don't mix. Provincial and Mounted Police on duty seized a good deal of alcohol.

Public school children get a holiday tomorrow (Friday) when the teachers attend a convention in Burlington.

Toronto Resident's Funeral Held Here

After a short illness, Hector Campbell Guthrie passed away at his home, 11 Foxwell Ave., Toronto, Sunday, October 5. He was born in Saskatchewan, eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Guthrie, Acton, RR 1. He served overseas with the R.C.F. and was employed with the Ontario Hydro.

The funeral was held from the family funeral home with the Rev. J. M. Haskard, North Hamilton, officiating. Interment was at Fairview Cemetery.

Survivors are his wife, the former Doris Lambert, brother Douglas T. Acton, a sister Barbara, Mrs. John Cornell and a brother F. O. Jerry R. C.A.F., professional.

The pallbearers were William Grouley, Harry Bailey, Hugh McCall, Roy Wright, all of Toronto, C. D. Samson, Guelph, and Robert Taylor, Acton.

It calls for skill of a kind to leave a trail of skid-patched rubber right up to the edge of the rail crossing tracks to "punish" another motorist by falling him on an expressway at night on high beams, three feet behind his bumper, to cut in and out of line while only taking off the point off other lanes. But it also calls for special attention from police and licensing authorities. Still, if it is not balanced by good attitudes, good habits, good knowledge can be a nuisance on the road.

Delinquency Topic Of Institute Panel

The September meeting of Greenock Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Trypanos with 152 members in attendance.

After the opening exercises with Mrs. C. Aitken in the chair, the scripture was read by Mrs. Wyn Butler. The standing committee reported and Mrs. William Butler was appointed as delegate to attend the Area Convention in Guelph.

An interesting panel discussion with Mrs. F. Henley as moderator, was held on the topic of delinquency. Other members on the panel were Mrs. E. Power, Mrs. M. E. Patterson, Mrs. F. Johnston and Mrs. C. Allan.

Mrs. C. Aitken gave a reading entitled "No Nod for Me". In a contest on musical ability, sponsored by Mrs. Henley, Mrs. F. Johnston was the winner, having named over 20 such drinks.

Four Acton Delegates Attend Home and School Conference

On October 8 The Home and School Association held a Conference (Area II-2) at Knox Presbyterian Church, Guelph. It had been planned to give information and inspiration to all executive and members of Home and School.

Acton sent four delegates: Mrs. R. Buckner, Mrs. P. McGrath, Mrs. D. Tarrant and Mrs. W. Wolfe who covered four of the five workshop procedures, committee work, program planning and school education.

Mrs. T. Weatherford, president of the Ontario Federation, in her opening address spoke of the tremendous surge of interest in Education and stressed that the aim and purpose of the Home and School movement was not amusement and recreation, which could be obtained outside the association, but rather that the program should be of the highest quality and investigate the needs of the parents, teachers and the community as a whole.

Mrs. E. G. Schafer, Visual Aids Chairman of the Ontario Federation, explained the value of visual aids in programs which lead to excellent discussions. She briefly outlined and showed the film "The Teens".

Mrs. P. T. Glauzitz, Treasurer of the Ontario Federation, stated that there were 150 Home and School Associations in Ontario. In explaining the structure she said that five or more associations can be affiliated to a council which in turn appoints a president. These council presidents make up a board of directors which meet three times a year. There are 10 of 11 Area Guelph is Area II-2 to which Acton hopes to be affiliated.

In this free and easy workshop Mrs. Glauzitz ended with a plea to keep in mind the dual function of Home and School, which is educational, and to seek out worthy students and perhaps help them to keep on at High School, by providing books or even a suit to boost some youngster's self-esteem. "Budget For A Bursary" was a suggestion.

The workshop to assist committee chairmen stressed the need for interest in the Home and School movement and the right attitude.

During this workshop the question arose on what can be done to enable mothers and fathers of young children to attend committees and H and S meetings? One town ship seems to have found the answer through the Y.W.C.A. where the girls are trained and do free baby sitting services on meeting nights. This not only encourages good citizenship but helps with future contacts for these young people when they are paid the regular rates.

Programs should be presented in a variety of ways - taking into consideration the needs of the community and the interests of all concerned and may include symposium, film debate, panel speaker etc. The publication "Parents" should have at least five minutes of each meeting to draw attention to the booklets and pamphlets of special interest - all of which can be obtained at cost price. There is also an excellent "Let's Continue Talking" and the books may be borrowed at each meeting.

The speaker of the day following the workshops was Dr. Margaret McCready, principal of Macdonald Institute. Her topic was "Women in Canadian Culture". She spoke of the impact of modernity, needed in our homes today, more and more to be an education in the use of automation, to be more actual design in our homes in the way of cultural understanding and home-making for families. Parents have a great responsibility in their children regarding education and ways and means are becoming more open in the way of business etc. We should ever be aware of the needs of the young mother in the difficult job she has of raising children, she said.

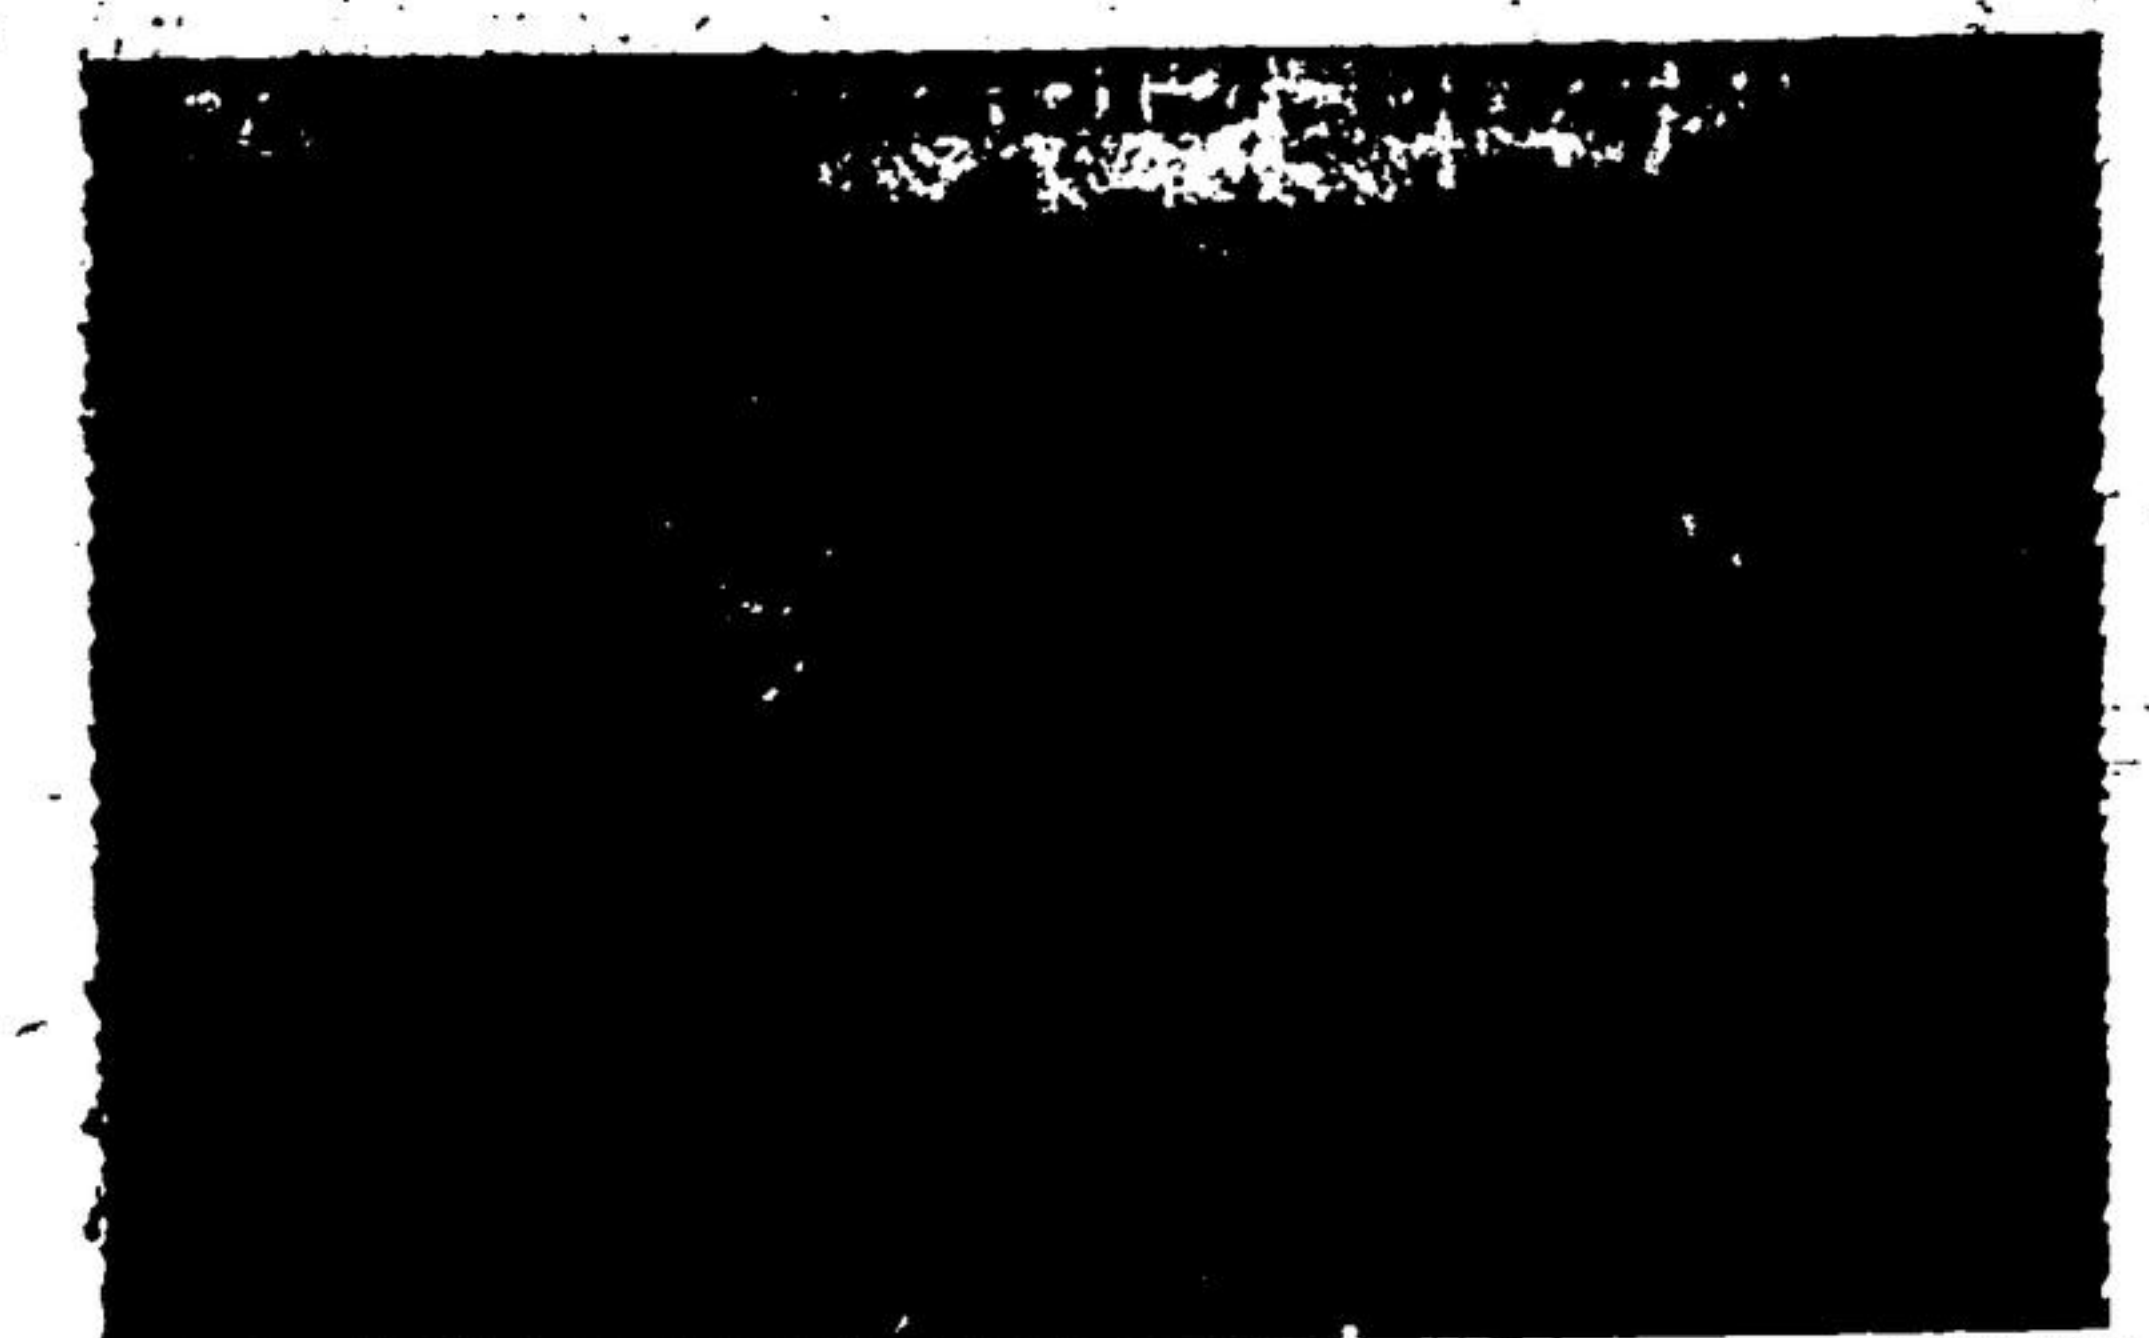

Principal in Speaker
The speaker of the day following the workshops was Dr. Margaret McCready, principal of Macdonald Institute. Her topic was "Women in Canadian Culture". She spoke of the impact of modernity, needed in our homes today, more and more to be an education in the use of automation, to be more actual design in our homes in the way of cultural understanding and home-making for families. Parents have a great responsibility in their children regarding education and ways and means are becoming more open in the way of business etc. We should ever be aware of the needs of the young mother in the difficult job she has of raising children, she said.

General, road and sheep accounts were passed for payment. Council instructed the Reeve to have the township solicitor draw up a by-law regarding the township community center at Hillsburgh.

A deputat on of ratepayers from Mountain View subdivision was present and discussed with the council the street lighting of their tract, roads and drainage in the subdivision.

The trustees of the police village of Hillsburgh interviewed the Council regarding the proposed Hillburgh community centre. Welfare accounts for September amounting to $34.48 were paid.

Public school children get a holiday tomorrow (Friday) when the teachers attend a convention in Burlington.

BEAVING THE COLD local hunters attended the turkey shoot sponsored by the Acton Y Men's Club last Saturday. Held on the farm of Ralph McKeown, RR No. 3, Acton. Pictured above left to right are Doug Mason, Archie Papillon, Tom Elliott, Mel Sheppard, Des O'Rourke, Bill Sheppard, Vic Elliott and Ray Wallis. Fifteen turkeys were won by the marksmen, with the Sheppards winning three.

Tennis Tourney Second Place Won by Acton

On Saturday, October 11th, four Acton High School students participated in the Central Western Ontario Secondary School Athletics Tennis Tournament at the O.A.C. Guelph.

Acton came home victorious with victories in both the boys' and girls' doubles. In the final games Wayne Ridley and Paul Elliott defeated Guelph and Laz and Mary Jane Fene defeated Brantford C-1.

These victories placed Acton second against five other schools: Guelph Collegiate, Brantford Collegiate, Brantford Pauline Johnston School, Galt and Georgetown.

This was the first attempt at sponsoring the tournament and it is congratulations to Acton students for a fine showing.

Some observations of the hunt were made which may be passed on. Equip your boat with life preservers. One party of two men from Toronto had their boat capsized and were extremely fortunate when two Kitchener boys found them clinging to their boat and helped them ashore. Luther Marsh can be rough with little boats.

Those hunters with dogs recovered most of their downed ducks. This is a tough area in which to recover crippled ducks - or even dead ducks. A good dog will do this job and enjoy it, while you enjoy watching them work. Liquor and hunting don't mix. Provincial and Mounted Police on duty seized a good deal of alcohol.

Public school children get a holiday tomorrow (Friday) when the teachers attend a convention in Burlington.

Township Begins Election Plans

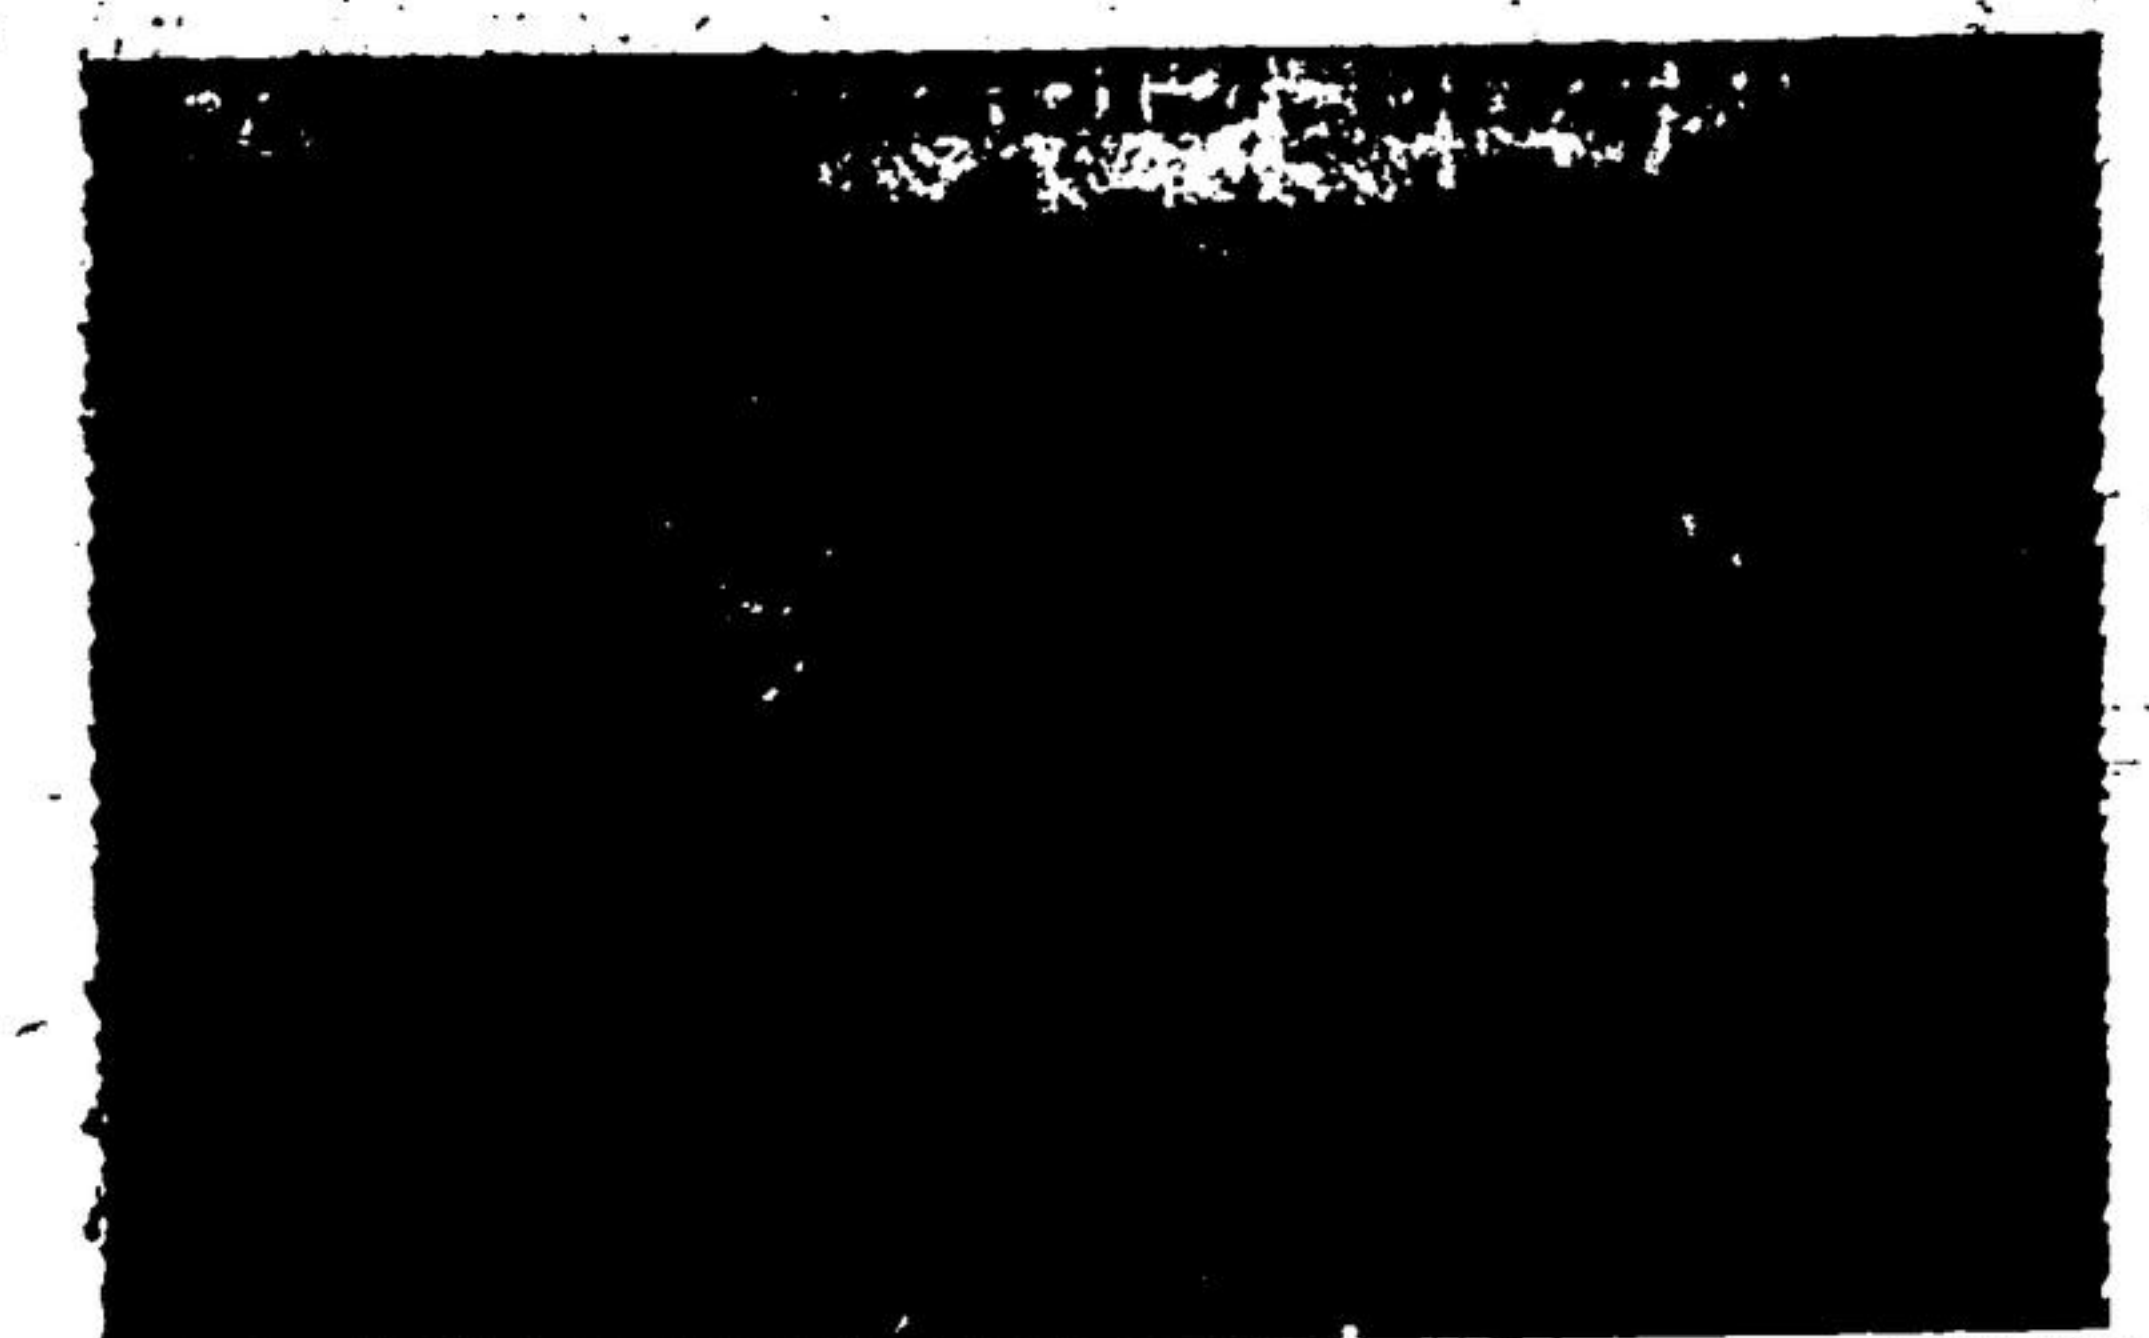

Introductory measures pertaining for the election were taken at the meeting of Erin township council at Hillsburgh on Monday, October 6. Nominations will be received at a special meeting for reeve, deputy reeve, three councillors, trustees for school area No. 1 and school area No. 2.

All members of council were present with reeve H. L. Griffin presiding.

A deputat on of ratepayers from Mountain View subdivision was present and discussed with the council the street lighting of their tract, roads and drainage in the subdivision.

The trustees of the police village of Hillsburgh interviewed the Council regarding the proposed Hillburgh community centre. Welfare accounts for September amounting to $34.48 were paid.

Public school children get a holiday tomorrow (Friday) when the teachers attend a convention in Burlington.

BEAVING THE COLD local hunters attended the turkey shoot sponsored by the Acton Y Men's Club last Saturday. Held on the farm of Ralph McKeown, RR No. 3, Acton. Pictured above left to right are Doug Mason, Archie Papillon, Tom Elliott, Mel Sheppard, Des O'Rourke, Bill Sheppard, Vic Elliott and Ray Wallis. Fifteen turkeys were won by the marksmen, with the Sheppards winning three.

Four Acton Delegates Attend Home and School Conference

On October 8 The Home and School Association held a Conference (Area II-2) at Knox Presbyterian Church, Guelph. It had been planned to give information and inspiration to all executive and members of Home and School.

Acton sent four delegates: Mrs. R. Buckner, Mrs. P. McGrath, Mrs. D. Tarrant and Mrs. W. Wolfe who covered four of the five workshop procedures, committee work, program planning and school education.

Mrs. T. Weatherford, president of the Ontario Federation, in her opening address spoke of the tremendous surge of interest in Education and stressed that the aim and purpose of the Home and School movement was not amusement and recreation, which could be obtained outside the association, but rather that the program should be of the highest quality and investigate the needs of the parents, teachers and the community as a whole.

Mrs. E. G. Schafer, Visual Aids Chairman of the Ontario Federation, explained the value of visual aids in programs which lead to excellent discussions. She briefly outlined and showed the film "The Teens".

Mrs. P. T. Glauzitz, Treasurer of the Ontario Federation, stated that there were 150 Home and School Associations in Ontario. In explaining the structure she said that five or more associations can be affiliated to a council which in turn appoints a president. These council presidents make up a board of directors which meet three times a year. There are 10 of 11 Area Guelph is Area II-2 to which Acton hopes to be affiliated.

In this free and easy workshop Mrs. Glauzitz ended with a plea to keep in mind the dual function of Home and School, which is educational, and to seek out worthy students and perhaps help them to keep on at High School, by providing books or even a suit to boost some youngster's self-esteem. "Budget For A Bursary" was a suggestion.

The workshop to assist committee chairmen stressed the need for interest in the Home and School movement and the right attitude.

During this workshop the question arose on what can be done to enable mothers and fathers of young children to attend committees and H and S meetings? One town ship seems to have found the answer through the Y.W.C.A. where the girls are trained and do free baby sitting services on meeting nights. This not only encourages good citizenship but helps with future contacts for these young people when they are paid the regular rates.

Programs should be presented in a variety of ways - taking into consideration the needs of the community and the interests of all concerned and may include symposium, film debate, panel speaker etc. The publication "Parents" should have at least five minutes of each meeting to draw attention to the booklets and pamphlets of special interest - all of which can be obtained at cost price. There is also an excellent "Let's Continue Talking" and the books may be borrowed at each meeting.

The speaker of the day following the workshops was Dr. Margaret McCready, principal of Macdonald Institute. Her topic was "Women in Canadian Culture". She spoke of the impact of modernity, needed in our homes today, more and more to be an education in the use of automation, to be more actual design in our homes in the way of cultural understanding and home-making for families. Parents have a great responsibility in their children regarding education and ways and means are becoming more open in the way of business etc. We should ever be aware of the needs of the young mother in the difficult job she has of raising children, she said.

Principal in Speaker
The speaker of the day following the workshops was Dr. Margaret McCready, principal of Macdonald Institute. Her topic was "Women in Canadian Culture". She spoke of the impact of modernity, needed in our homes today, more and more to be an education in the use of automation, to be more actual design in our homes in the way of cultural understanding and home-making for families. Parents have a great responsibility in their children regarding education and ways and means are becoming more open in the way of business etc. We should ever be aware of the needs of the young mother in the difficult job she has of raising children, she said.

General, road and sheep accounts were passed for payment. Council instructed the Reeve to have the township solicitor draw up a by-law regarding the township community center at Hillsburgh.

Public school children get a holiday tomorrow (Friday) when the teachers attend a convention in Burlington.

Luther Marsh Produces Well

Despite unusually low water, and reported scarcity of ducks, the opening day of the duck season at Luther Marsh was one of the most successful since its establishment as a water holding area for the Grand River.

It was not without some trepidation that the patrol staff of 33 men converged on the marsh at 5:30 am Daylight Saving Time on opening day. They remembered last year when shooting commenced long before the opening hour and continued uncontrolled.

Hunters Checked
Very few hunters entered the marsh this year without first having been checked by a patrol officer handed a list of instructions which they ran out and urged to cooperate to make a good shoot for all. Almost without exception, hunters were pleased to see the Department officers. They wanted a controlled shoot.

Except for a very few fly fishers, most excellent cooperation was given, and it was not until between 11:45 and 12 noon standard time that shooting really opened up. This is not perfection, and they will strive to better this mark next year.

Fire Flares
Firing flares at the closing hour was looked upon with favor. Shooting then stopped, except for some who "emptied" their guns and others who were unable to see the flare from their position. Officers certainly appreciated the patience of hunters coming through checking stations after the shoot and were given valuable assistance from the Wildlife Management Course, Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, Ont.

Need Life Preservers
Some observations of the hunt were made which may be passed on. Equip your boat with life preservers. One party of two men from Toronto had their boat capsized and were extremely fortunate when two Kitchener boys found them clinging to their boat and helped them ashore. Luther Marsh can be rough with little boats.

Those hunters with dogs recovered most of their downed ducks. This is a tough area in which to recover crippled ducks - or even dead ducks. A good dog will do this job and enjoy it, while you enjoy watching them work. Liquor and hunting don't mix. Provincial and Mounted Police on duty seized a good deal of alcohol.

Public school children get a holiday tomorrow (Friday) when the teachers attend a convention in Burlington.

Introductory measures pertaining for the election were taken at the meeting of Erin township council at Hillsburgh on Monday, October 6. Nominations will be received at a special meeting for reeve, deputy reeve, three councillors, trustees for school area No. 1 and school area No. 2.

All members of council were present with reeve H. L. Griffin presiding.

A deputat on of ratepayers from Mountain View subdivision was present and discussed with the council the street lighting of their tract, roads and drainage in the subdivision.

The trustees of the police village of Hillsburgh interviewed the Council regarding the proposed Hillburgh community centre. Welfare accounts for September amounting to $34.48 were paid.

Public school children get a holiday tomorrow (Friday) when the teachers attend a convention in Burlington.

General, road and sheep accounts were passed for payment. Council instructed the Reeve to have the township solicitor draw up a by-law regarding the township community center at Hillsburgh.

Public school children get a holiday tomorrow (Friday) when the teachers attend a convention in Burlington.

Toronto Resident's Funeral Held Here

After a short illness, Hector Campbell Guthrie passed away at his home, 11 Foxwell Ave., Toronto, Sunday, October 5. He was born in Saskatchewan, eldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Guthrie, Acton, RR 1. He served overseas with the R.C.F. and was employed with the Ontario Hydro.

The funeral was held from the family funeral home with the Rev. J. M. Haskard, North Hamilton, officiating. Interment was at Fairview Cemetery.

Survivors are his wife, the former Doris Lambert, brother Douglas T. Acton, a sister Barbara, Mrs. John Cornell and a brother F. O. Jerry R. C.A.F., professional.

The pallbearers were William Grouley, Harry Bailey, Hugh McCall, Roy Wright, all of Toronto, C. D. Samson, Guelph, and Robert Taylor, Acton.

It calls for skill of a kind to leave a trail of skid-patched rubber right up to the edge of the rail crossing tracks to "punish" another motorist by falling him on an expressway at night on high beams, three feet behind his bumper, to cut in and out of line while only taking off the point off other lanes. But it also calls for special attention from police and licensing authorities. Still, if it is not balanced by good attitudes, good habits, good knowledge can be a nuisance on the road.

Delinquency Topic Of Institute Panel
The September meeting of Greenock Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Trypanos with 152 members in attendance.

After the opening exercises with Mrs. C. Aitken in the chair, the scripture was read by Mrs. Wyn Butler. The standing committee reported and Mrs. William Butler was appointed as delegate to attend the Area Convention in Guelph.

An interesting panel discussion with Mrs. F. Henley as moderator, was held on the topic of delinquency. Other members on the panel were Mrs. E. Power, Mrs. M. E. Patterson, Mrs. F. Johnston and Mrs. C. Allan.

Mrs. C. Aitken gave a reading entitled "No Nod for Me". In a contest on musical ability, sponsored by Mrs. Henley, Mrs. F. Johnston was the winner, having named over 20 such drinks.

Home and School Conference
On October 8 The Home and School Association held a Conference (Area II-2) at Knox Presbyterian Church, Guelph. It had been planned to give information and inspiration to all executive and members of Home and School.

Acton sent four delegates: Mrs. R. Buckner, Mrs. P. McGrath, Mrs. D. Tarrant and Mrs. W. Wolfe who covered four of the five workshop procedures, committee work, program planning and school education.

Mrs. T. Weatherford, president of the Ontario Federation, in her opening address spoke of the tremendous surge of interest in Education and stressed that the aim and purpose of the Home and School movement was not amusement and recreation, which could be obtained outside the association, but rather that the program should be of the highest quality and investigate the needs of the parents, teachers and the community as a whole.

Mrs. E. G. Schafer, Visual Aids Chairman of the Ontario Federation, explained the value of visual aids in programs which lead to excellent discussions. She briefly outlined and showed the film "The Teens".

Mrs. P. T. Glauzitz, Treasurer of the Ontario Federation, stated that there were 150 Home and School Associations in Ontario. In explaining the structure she said that five or more associations can be affiliated to a council which in turn appoints a president. These council presidents make up a board of directors which meet three times a year. There are 10 of 11 Area Guelph is Area II-2 to which Acton hopes to be affiliated.

In this free and easy workshop Mrs. Glauzitz ended with a plea to keep in mind the dual function of Home and School, which is educational, and to seek out worthy students and perhaps help them to keep on at High School, by providing books or even a suit to boost some youngster's self-esteem. "Budget For A Bursary" was a suggestion.

The workshop to assist committee chairmen stressed the need for interest in the Home and School movement and the right attitude.

Delinquency Topic Of Institute Panel

The September meeting of Greenock Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Trypanos with 152 members in attendance.

After the opening exercises with Mrs. C. Aitken in the chair, the scripture was read by Mrs. Wyn Butler. The standing committee reported and Mrs. William Butler was appointed as delegate to attend the Area Convention in Guelph.

An interesting panel discussion with Mrs. F. Henley as moderator, was held on the topic of delinquency. Other members on the panel were Mrs. E. Power, Mrs. M. E. Patterson, Mrs. F. Johnston and Mrs. C. Allan.

Mrs. C. Aitken gave a reading entitled "No Nod for Me". In a contest on musical ability, sponsored by Mrs. Henley, Mrs. F. Johnston was the winner, having named over 20 such drinks.

Home and School Conference
On October 8 The Home and School Association held a Conference (Area II-2) at Knox Presbyterian Church, Guelph. It had been planned to give information and inspiration to all executive and members of Home and School.

Acton sent four delegates: Mrs. R. Buckner, Mrs. P. McGrath, Mrs. D. Tarrant and Mrs. W. Wolfe who covered four of the five workshop procedures, committee work, program planning and school education.

Mrs. T. Weatherford, president of the Ontario Federation, in her opening address spoke of the tremendous surge of interest in Education and stressed that the aim and purpose of the Home and School movement was not amusement and recreation, which could be obtained outside the association, but rather that the program should be of the highest quality and investigate the needs of the parents, teachers and the community as a whole.

Mrs. E. G. Schafer, Visual Aids Chairman of the Ontario Federation, explained the value of visual aids in programs which lead to excellent discussions. She briefly outlined and showed the film "The Teens".

Mrs. P. T. Glauzitz, Treasurer of the Ontario Federation, stated that there were 150 Home and School Associations in Ontario. In explaining the structure she said that five or more associations can be affiliated to a council which in turn appoints a president. These council presidents make up a board of directors which meet three times a year. There are 10 of 11 Area Guelph is Area II-2 to which Acton hopes to be affiliated.

In this free and easy workshop Mrs. Glauzitz ended with a plea to keep in mind the dual function of Home and School, which is educational, and to seek out worthy students and perhaps help them to keep on at High School, by providing books or even a suit to boost some youngster's self-esteem. "Budget For A Bursary" was a suggestion.

The workshop to assist committee chairmen stressed the need for interest in the Home and School movement and the right attitude.

During this workshop the question arose on what can be done to enable mothers and fathers of young children to attend committees and H and S meetings? One town ship seems to have found the answer through the Y.W.C.A. where the girls are trained and do free baby sitting services on meeting nights. This not only encourages good citizenship but helps with future contacts for these young people when they are paid the regular rates.

Programs should be presented in a variety of ways - taking into consideration the needs of the community and the interests of all concerned and may include symposium, film debate, panel speaker etc. The publication "Parents" should have at least five minutes of each meeting to draw attention to the booklets and pamphlets of special interest - all of which can be obtained at cost price. There is also an excellent "Let's Continue Talking" and the books may be borrowed at each meeting.

The speaker of the day following the workshops was Dr. Margaret McCready, principal of Macdonald Institute. Her topic was "Women in Canadian Culture". She spoke of the impact of modernity, needed in our homes today, more and more to be an education in the use of automation, to be more actual design in our homes in the way of cultural understanding and home-making for families. Parents have a great responsibility in their children regarding education and ways and means are becoming more open in the way of business etc. We should ever be aware of the needs of the young mother in the difficult job she has of raising children, she said.

Principal in Speaker
The speaker of the day following the workshops was Dr. Margaret McCready, principal of Macdonald Institute. Her topic was "Women in Canadian Culture". She spoke of the impact of modernity, needed in our homes today, more and more to be an education in the use of automation, to be more actual design in our homes in the way of cultural understanding and home-making for families. Parents have a great responsibility in their children regarding education and ways and means are becoming more open in the way of business etc. We should ever be aware of the needs of the young mother in the difficult job she has of raising children, she said.

General, road and sheep accounts were passed for payment. Council instructed the Reeve to have the township solicitor draw up a by-law regarding the township community center at Hillsburgh.

Public school children get a holiday tomorrow (Friday) when the teachers attend a convention in Burlington.

Home and School Conference

On October 8 The Home and School Association held a Conference (Area II-2) at Knox Presbyterian Church, Guelph. It had been planned to give information and inspiration to all executive and members of Home and School.

Acton sent four delegates: Mrs. R. Buckner, Mrs. P. McGrath, Mrs. D. Tarrant and Mrs. W. Wolfe who covered four of the five workshop procedures, committee work, program planning and school education.

Mrs. T. Weatherford, president of the Ontario Federation, in her opening address spoke of the tremendous surge of interest in Education and stressed that the aim and purpose of the Home and School movement was not amusement and recreation, which could be obtained outside the association, but rather that the program should be of the highest quality and investigate the needs of the parents, teachers and the community as a whole.

Mrs. E. G. Schafer, Visual Aids Chairman of the Ontario Federation, explained the value of visual aids in programs which lead to excellent discussions. She briefly outlined and showed the film "The Teens".

Mrs. P. T. Glauzitz, Treasurer of the Ontario Federation, stated that there were 150 Home and School Associations in Ontario. In explaining the structure she said that five or more associations can be affiliated to a council which in turn appoints a president. These council presidents make up a board of directors which meet three times a year. There are 10 of 11 Area Guelph is Area II-2 to which Acton hopes to be affiliated.

In this free and easy workshop Mrs. Glauzitz ended with a plea to keep in mind the dual function of Home and School, which is educational, and to seek out worthy students and perhaps help them to keep on at High School, by providing books or even a suit to boost some youngster's self-esteem. "Budget For A Bursary" was a suggestion.

The workshop to assist committee chairmen stressed the need for interest in the Home and School movement and the right attitude.

During this workshop the question arose on what can be done to enable mothers and fathers of young children to attend committees and H and S meetings? One town ship seems to have found the answer through the Y.W.C.A. where the girls are trained and do free baby sitting services on meeting nights. This not only encourages good citizenship but helps with future contacts for these young people when they are paid the regular rates.

Programs should be presented in a variety of ways - taking into consideration the needs of the community and the interests of all concerned and may include symposium, film debate, panel speaker etc. The publication "Parents" should have at least five minutes of each meeting to draw attention to the booklets and pamphlets of special interest - all of which can be obtained at cost price. There is also an excellent "Let's Continue Talking" and the books may be borrowed at each meeting.

The speaker of the day following the workshops was Dr. Margaret McCready, principal of Macdonald Institute. Her topic was "Women in Canadian Culture". She spoke of the impact of modernity, needed in our homes today, more and more to be an education in the use of automation, to be more actual design in our homes in the way of cultural understanding and home-making for families. Parents have a great responsibility in their children regarding education and ways and means are becoming more open in the way of business etc. We should ever be aware of the needs of the young mother in the difficult job she has of raising children, she said.

Principal in Speaker
The speaker of the day following the workshops was Dr. Margaret McCready, principal of Macdonald Institute. Her topic was "Women in Canadian Culture". She spoke of the impact of modernity, needed in our homes today, more and more to be an education in the use of automation, to be more actual design in our homes in the way of cultural understanding and home-making for families. Parents have a great responsibility in their children regarding education and ways and means are becoming more open in the way of business etc. We should ever be aware of the needs of the young mother in the difficult job she has of raising children, she said.

General, road and sheep accounts were passed for payment. Council instructed the Reeve to have the township solicitor draw up a by-law regarding the township community center at Hillsburgh.

Public school children get a holiday tomorrow (Friday) when the teachers attend a convention in Burlington.

Introductory measures pertaining for the election were taken at the meeting of Erin township council at Hillsburgh on Monday, October 6. Nominations will be received at a special meeting for reeve, deputy reeve, three councillors, trustees for school area No. 1 and school area No. 2.

All members of council were present with reeve H. L. Griffin presiding.

A deputat on of ratepayers from Mountain View subdivision was present and discussed with the council the street lighting of their tract, roads and drainage in the subdivision.

The trustees of the police village of Hillsburgh interviewed the Council regarding the proposed Hillburgh community centre. Welfare accounts for September amounting to $34.48 were paid.

Home and School Conference

On October 8 The Home and School Association held a Conference (Area II-2) at Knox Presbyterian Church, Guelph. It had been planned to give information and inspiration to all executive and members of Home and School.

Acton sent four delegates: Mrs. R. Buckner, Mrs. P. McGrath, Mrs. D. Tarrant and Mrs. W. Wolfe who covered four of the five workshop procedures, committee work, program planning and school education.

Mrs. T. Weatherford, president of the Ontario Federation, in her opening address spoke of the tremendous surge of interest in Education and stressed that the aim and purpose of the Home and School movement was not amusement and recreation, which could be obtained outside the association, but rather that the program should be of the highest quality and investigate the needs of the parents, teachers and the community as a whole.

Mrs. E. G. Schafer, Visual Aids Chairman of the Ontario Federation, explained the value of visual aids in programs which lead to excellent discussions. She briefly outlined and showed the film "The Teens".

Mrs. P. T. Glauzitz, Treasurer of the Ontario Federation