OBITUARY

Spent Entire Life On Farm Homestead

Funeral service was held Friday afternoon for William Ross Stalker aged 74 who died at his farm home R.R. 4 Acton on Wednesday, December 10. He had been ill for several months. Rev. A. H. McKenzie of Knox Presbyterian church conducted the service at the Rankin-Shoemaker funeral home.

Many friends and neighbors paid their respects to a well-known district farmer who spent his whole life on the homestead where he was born. He was an only son of Scottish parents, John William Stalker and Ann Ross.

A member of Knox Presbyterian church, Bill Stalker attended Dublin school as a boy. Aside from farming his main pursuits were fishing and trapping. Although not active personally, he maintained a keen interest in provincial and federal politics.

He leaves three sisters, Annie R.R. 4, Acton, who lived with her brother, Jean (Mrs. Hazen Graham) of Georgetown, and Minnie (Mrs. Joe Findlay) of Toronto.

Pallbearers were A. M. McPherson, Jim Mann, Jack Graham, Glen Findlay, Russell Perry and Harvey Kirkwood. Interment was in Fairview cemetery, Acton.

This year instead of having the children exchange gifts the Student Council took up a collection which amounted to $50. This was given to the Sunshine School.

School is over for a few weeks after the party Friday afternoon so we'd say good bye until next year. Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.
