United Church Concert Draws Parents, Friends — and S. Claus

Despite cold weather Friday, the annual Christmas Eve and Sunday school entertainment of the United Church was well attended by parents and friends of the young folks in the church.

Ross Gordon was chairman for the occasion. Proceeding the program hymns were shown on the screen and music was supplied by David Hesham at the console of the organ. The young folks did very well in their parts through the effort of their teachers who spent some time instructing their young charges for their numbers.

One particular number on the program was a class of girls under their teacher, Mrs. Gladys Hanna. They came on the platform in different make-ups in style as well as presentation of prayer. During the program Robert Lee, the superintendent, spoke briefly to the gathering.

At the conclusion of the program, Santa Claus put in his appearance to the delight of everyone, assisted by Sunday school teachers in the distribution of presents.

HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

By Dale Woodburn

The week before the holidays was the most exciting week of the school year so far, I think.

Wednesday night there was a skating party sponsored by the Boys and Girls Athletic Association. Although the night was quite cold there was a fairly good crowd of attendants. As most of the skating had been done on the pond near Rockwood so far most of them left for home around nine o'clock or so. At shortly after 10:00 the girls and bands then were served. Although it was cold, I for one enjoyed myself.

Christmas Dance

On Thursday night there was a dance at the school. It was the annual Christmas dance. The admission was free and many boys appear to have had a night of revelry before the "report" cards. This dance was held in the hall of the school. A live music was put over the public address system. The dance was sponsored by the Student Council.

The next day the students returned for school in the morning and we got our report cards. Well, is not!

In the afternoon the students gathered for the Christmas party. The program was led by Ross Smith, the president of the Student Council.

Opening the program was Mr. Hanson's annual playing of Jingle Bells. Most of the teachers and something in the program an Epiphany. A few students took part also. Mr. Cuddick and his Band Pipes led Santa Claus and to the rooms. The singing of Santa finished the party and the last term was officially over.

Everyone wished everyone else a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. Everyone then enjoyed
