Elect Three Campbellville Trustees

About 65 per cent of Campbellville's 148 eligible voters turned out on Saturday to the village's first election for trustees. The three candidates elected were Omer Van Sickle, Howson Lush and Ray Olan.

Mr. Van Sickle is returned to the position with the other two elected new men to the job.

Commenting on the election this week Mr. Van Sickle reviewed that Campbellville is designated a police village and if the positions of trustees are not filled the village reverts to a part of the township without the village status.

He noted an earlier nomination meeting called had not had sufficient attendance and a letter was directed to the village residents outlining the problem. At the second nomination meeting the attendance was the largest he could recall.

The jurisdiction of the trustees is mainly for sidewalks, and part of the roads in the village. Mr. Van Sickle pointed out noting some consideration might also be given to development of some facilities at the Campbellville pond.

The village trustees also serve as the Campbellville Hydro Electric Commission.

Exams Nightmares?

Organization Answer

School exams don't need to be nightmares, according to a communication from the American Medical Association received by the Health League of Canada.

Worst enemy of students is the feeling of fear. Most young people are not trained in methods of taking examinations, and remarkably few work out a really efficient system, despite the frequent occurrence of tests.

A feeling of preparedness can be achieved through consistent study during the school year, rather than a last minute boning-up, the communique stated.

Few Pointers

Here are a few pointers: Prepare for the test physically. This means enough sleep. Make yourself comfortable in the test room. Try to sit near a window in good light - loosen your tie and perhaps take off your shoes.

Before starting to write, check the entire exam so that you know and understand what you have to do.

Allocate your time wisely. By answering the easy questions first you will conserve time and energy for the hard ones.

Watch for these common errors which may cost you dearly: misspelled words, punctuation mistakes, sloppy writing, right answers on the wrong lines, correct answers with erroneous steps or processes, and puzzling abbreviations.

Above all, read over what you have written before you turn in your paper. Many errors can be detected in the final moments of a test.

Burlington Hires Area Dog Control Offers to Buy Park

BURLINGTON—Council Monday authorized the Oakville and District SPCA to take over dog control effective February 1. The SPCA now covers the dog control work in Oakville, Trafalgar, Milton, Acton and Georgetown. Fee for Burlington service was set at $6,000 a year.

Jim Green, present dog control officer, will be notified that his duties expire January 31.

The move to hire the society was approved nine to four in a recorded vote.

One of those in opposition was Councillor Lorin Laing.

"Mr. Green has done a good job for us," he said. "The thousand dollars we would save by him doing the job is just as good in our budget as in someone else's."

One More Employee

Under the agreement, the humane society will make morning and afternoon patrols and spot checks twice a week.

It will hire an additional full-time employee to make the service available.

Park Offer

An offer to purchase Lowville Park for $16,000 will be made to the County of Halton and the Halton Federation of Agriculture.

The purchase price will be divided among agricultural societies in Esquering, Trafalgar, Nassagaweya and Burlington (Nelson).

The Burlington (Nelson) society's share will be retained by the town and set up as a special fund for use only in Lowville Park.

Money for the park's purchase will be taken from the town dedication fund, subject to the approval of the minister of planning and development.

To 10,000 Drivers

Dear Sir or Madam:

Please accept my sympathy and regrets. A trying time lies ahead. You are going to be angry. You are going to feel both insulted and victimized.

You will probably be hopping mad. That will be your privilege. It will also be one of your remaining methods of getting about hopping. Because you are not going to be able to drive a car.

You are one of the 16,000 drivers in Ontario who, according to the estimate of the Department of Transport, are expected to have their driving privileges suspended in 1959, under the new Driver Demerit Points System. You are one of the people who are not willing, or not able to conform, to what the Province considers a minimum standard of safe behaviour at the wheel of a car.

As an individual who thoroughly enjoys the pleasures and convenience of motoring, I can appreciate the severity of your self-inflicted handicap. But as an executive of the Ontario Safety League I must express our deep satisfaction that you are to get such a powerful demonstration of the all-round benefits of keeping your driving performance within the law, and within the bounds of common sense.

It is going to sting in many ways when you have to spend three months in the passenger seat. I can only hope you derive some compensations. Such as an appreciation of some of the good points about public transport, and a realization that there is no actual hardship in having to walk half a mile occasionally.

We hope that when you are welcomed back again as a driver after a three months' rest, you will not feel bitter and that you will never again drive in a way that merits suspension. We hope you will understand that you have been kept off the roads as a protection, not as a penalty. The application of the Points System may hurt you personally, but it may save a life. Because of it there is a little less likelihood that you will be either victim or executioner in a senseless sacrifice on Ontario roads.

Yours sincerely,

F. H. ELLIS,
General Manager,
Ontario Safety League.

Inaugural Meeting Brings Back Past

BURLINGTON—Inaugural meetings always bring out reminiscing by former mayors. This year was no exception.

Former Mayor George Harris said he was interested to hear Mayor Lockhart say that Burlington's population had now reached 10,000. In 1922, the year he was mayor, the total was not quite 2,000.

A reference by Mr. Elgin Harris about knowing one of the present councillors when "the wore short pants" brought forward another story from Mayor Lockhart. He said that knowing people when they were young reminded him of Councillor Ted Smith, another former mayor, who was in Mr. Lockhart's first class way back in 1920.

Mr. Lockhart has spent a life teaching, finishing as principal of a school which takes his name, "John A. Lockhart."
