Rockettes Down Milton In Girls' Hockey Game

The Acton girls' hockey team better known as "The Rockettes" proved their ability to play the winter sport when they defeated the Milton Sports and Cycle team in Milton on Tuesday of last week with a 3-1 score. Coach Bob Cove of the home town, had the girls stepping high wide and handsome as they pranced over the ice surface in their figure skates. Stan Hatcher guarding the Acton goal, was master of all she surveyed and only a fluke shot evaded her pads and trickled into the corner. Team captain Sallie Dedels opened the scoring in the last period for the Rockettes, on a pass from Mary Hunter. In the second period Mary Lou Creighton and Ruth Landsborough teamed up and made their way through the Milton team and Ruth popped the rubber into the net on a pass from her teammate. Mary Hunter received a rink wide pass from team captain Stan Dedels and tucked up score number three for the locals.

Trophy Winners Chicago Wins Championship In Midget League Playoffs

Chicago won the championship in the Midget League of Minor Sports hockey on Tuesday evening of this week when they defeated New York 1-0. Total goals counted on the round with the result Chicago racked up five to New York's two. Vic Masters, manager of the winning team, had his players romping across the ice surface in great style as they attempted, to outmaneuver their opposition at every turn. On the other hand Eric Marks, manager of the losing team, had his kids keep a close eye on the Chicago marksmen as they hunted the winners to only one goal, scored by Rutley. At times the game became a little on the rough side and the referees were forced to hand out 10 penalties, with each team sharing equally.

Depicts Future For Y's Men

Victor Massey, an undergraduate at McMaster University, spoke to the Y's Men's club last Thursday evening. Mr. Massey, a native of the British West Indies declined to discuss the Caribbean situation but elected to philosophize on the state of our civilization 50 years hence. He carefully recapitulated the thought of mankind from Genghis Khan through Plato to Aquinas, Tolstoy, Hegel and Marx. Continued Progress When he had made his point that the trend in history has always been favorable to a rising standard of living, and that optimism was the only sentiment which man could rightly derive from what has gone before, then the speaker in the tone of the socialists painted a picture of continued progress in the arts and sciences and as well, a peaceful co-existence. The ultimate aspect was a community of nations whose security is guaranteed, the collective law enforcement bodies supported by a universal judiciary. C. Rognvaldson introduced the speaker as a fellow student and commended him to the members. Bill MacKay responded with the thanks of the members.
