Then the township representatives charged the by-law was unfair when it decreed the present 20 year debentures on the new schools would be paid on an equalized 1939 assessment figure, for Currie of Esquesing suggested Georgetown's assessment might grow by leaps and bounds, where the township's assessment was not expected to grow very fast. Deputy Reeve Archie Service of Nassagaweve said he would be pleased-topay for the debentures on a yearby-year assessment but not based on the 1959 figure.

Councillors agreed to have representatives of the five municipalities involved, meet with Department of Education officials this week to iron out the details on debenture payments. Meanwhile, letters are expected from the two hesitant councils.
