

Titus-Wilds

Vows at Knox

In a setting of multi-colored gladioli at Knox Presbyterian Church, Acton, Rev. Andrew McKenah heard the nuptial vows of Kathleen Norma Wilds of Acton and William K. Titus of Milton. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Wilds, 138 Main St., Acton, and the groom is a son of Mrs. G. Titus and the late G. Titus, 28 Charles St., Milton.

A ballerina length dress of white satin, fashioned on princess lines, was chosen by the bride. It featured a full skirt flowing from a wide pleated cummerbund, and elbow length sleeves of chantilly lace which also outlined the Sabrina neckline of the fitted bodice. Her headpiece was a cap of white feathers, and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white mums mingled with Stephanotis.

Single Attendant
Attending as bridesmaid, Miss Pat Campbell of Guelph was in a frock of yellow net over satin, ballerina length, and full skirted. A rounded neckline, cap sleeves and a cummerbund were features of the moulded bodice. A matching feathered cap completed the bridesmaid's ensemble, and her bouquet was chosen by the bride. It featured a full skirt flowing from a wide

Coon's Goons Jar H. Nicols' Pickles

By Ken Hufferd
It all started over a friendly cup of tea! Harry Nicols and "Coon" Vorey were spending a quiet afternoon, sipping cups of molong

For a reception at her home the bride's mother chose a royal blue sheath, with a corsage of pink carnations and navy accessories. Also creating the mirth of the groom was in navy and white accented by navy accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Ron Wilson of Milton was best man. Guests attended from Toronto, Milton, Hamilton, Galt, Guelph and Acton.

and their casual conversation turned to bowling and the relative merits of several Acton bowlers were discussed pro and con. Between sips, a spirited discussion arose as to who could pick a better team of six bowlers and in no time at all, wagers were made and the two men hastily left their cups of tea and started to round up bowlers for "Coon's Goons" and "Nicols' Pickles".

Strutting up and down the street of Acton like an eager beaver, Harry Nicols, the Main and Mill street clothing purveyor, rounded up what he thought was a choice aggregation of bowlers to carry aloft the banner of "Nicols' Pickles" in a victory winning effort.

Not to be outdone, "Coon" Vorey, the boss man of Acton Woodcrafts, became one of Alexander Graham Bell's busiest customers and lined up what he considered would be the winning team.

Support Bureau
Both Managers were fanning the cold war state of strategy into a roaring blaze and rumors of imports from Guelph, Toronto and points east, west, north and south were rife.

Came the time for being the foul line and at 8:30 on September 25 at the Acton Bowling Lanes, Harry Nicols, with a flourish and a fanfare of trumpets, announced his line-ups: Ardy Williams, Bill Williams, Leo McGiloway, Pete Turkow, Norm Murton and Harry himself.

Formidable Line-ups
This formidable array of bowling talent had the backers of "Coon's Goons" a bit dismayed and thoughts of hedging their bets started to edge into their minds. "Coon" Vorey, the "grey fox" of Main Street, was not dismayed however. For he had a couple of axes, or rather queens, up his sleeve when his starting line-up of Bill Johnston, Don Grein, Ches Peycha and "Coon" himself was found to also include Beryl Jordan and Gayle Hufferd.

The gamble of using the girls paid off because with Beryl Jordan hitting 242 and Gayle Hufferd coming in with 236 to back up Bill Johnstone's 228, "Coon's Goons" went out in front by 18 pins. Bill Williams 255, son Andy 218 and Harry Nicols' 208 topped the "Pickles" scoring.

Goons Take Lead
In the second game, Johnston 201, Don Grein 172, Jordan 232 and believe it or not, "Chief" Coon's 200, went out in front by 177 pins. Leo McGiloway 220, Norm Murton 236 headed up the Pickles' play.

"Nicols' Pickles" tried hard in the third and final game to overcome their deficit and with the "old pro" Norm Murton coming to life with a 256, almost pulled the cheaps out of the fire but disaster in the shape of headpins overtook the Pickles and the only score to back up Murton's play was McGiloway's 222.

Downcast and realizing that Coon will make life miserable for him, Harry Nicols is not taking defeat lightly and is talking about a return match to gain revenge. Perhaps the last word rests with Coon Vorey who, with a grin splitting his face from ear to ear, chuckles, quote: "We knocked those dills, sills and we'll meet 'em any time, any time," end of quote.
