

Couple Exchange Rings At St. Alban's Saturday

Rings were exchanged in St. Alban's church in Acton on Saturday, April 23, by Marjory Ann Ware and John Edward Hufnagel. The Rev. H. B. Stockwell officiated at the afternoon ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert S. Ware of Acton, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Hufnagel of Alliston.

Pink and white snapdragons decorated the church for the occasion. White bows and white daisies marked the guests' places. Mrs. Frank Oakes played the organ and accompanied the soloist, John McHugh, who sang The Lord's Prayer and Wedding Prayer.

Traditional White Gown
The bride wore a floor length gown of silk organza styled with a fitted bodice in long torso style. The scoop neckline was gathered and embroidered with appliques. The appliques were repeated at the neckline of the full gathered skirt, worn over underskirts of tulle and tulle. The gown had brief shirred sleeves, and she wore long matching gloves.

A half crown of pearls held her circular illusion veil. Her pearls were the gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Two Attendants
Matron of honor was Mrs. Edward McHugh, Acton, who wore a gown of blue organza over tulle with a shirred bodice and bouffant skirt. The bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. George Ware, Acton, was her second attendant, wearing a similar gown in shrimp organza.

Both wore matching flowered headresses, and carried bouquets of pink roses and white carnations.

Edward McHugh acted as groomsmen, while the ushers were George Ware, brother of the bride, and William McHugh of Ottawa.

Guests attended the ceremony from Alliston, Toronto, Leamington, Milton, Ottawa, Guelph and Acton.

Turkey Dinner
Afterwards they were served a turkey dinner in Luxton Memorial Hall.

The bride's mother received wearing a two-piece seafum blue dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The groom's mother wore for the occasion a navy blue dress with contrasting white accessories, and a corsage of pink carnations.

Spring flowers decorated the tables, while the bride's table was centred by the traditional wedding cake.

During the reception a telegram was read from Mr. and Mrs. Matt Tyler and family of Phoenix, Arizona, wishing the bride and groom much happiness.

Trip to States

They will be making their home in Acton when they return. The groom is employed in the sales department at P. L. Robertson Ltd., Milton. Mrs. Hufnagel works at the Bank of Montreal, Acton.

MR. AND MRS. Hugh MacKay were married in Knox Presbyterian church April 9. The bride is the former Norma Sinclair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Sinclair. They are making their home in London.

Norma Sinclair, Hugh MacKay Exchange Vows at Knox Church

In Knox Presbyterian church on Saturday, April 9 at three o'clock wedding rings were exchanged by Norma Anne Sinclair and Hugh MacKay. The Rev. Andrew McKenzie officiated at the ceremony while Ted Hansen played the organ.

The church was decorated with white chrysanthemums with white satin pew ribbons. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Sinclair of Acton, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander MacKay of Walkerton.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Ronald Sinclair of Acton. She wore a ballroom length gown of embroidered net over white tulle, the bodice accented by front and back panels and tiers of net at the neckline. The bodice was fitted with the sabbina neckline outlined in embroidered net. She wore mittens to match. A pearl and rhinestone trimmed coronet held her fingertip length veil of silk net.

She carried a cascade bouquet of pink sweetheart roses with white stephanotis.

Sister Attendants
Mrs. Allan Holmes, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, wearing a bouffant ballroom length dress of yellow lace over tulle with short cap sleeves, accented by a cummerbund of pleated nylon. She wore a matching headress and mittens.

Another sister, Miss Sandra Sinclair, was bridesmaid. Her gown in the same style as the matron of honor, was of blue and she carried a cascade bouquet of yellow and white carnations.

Both wore drop pearl necklaces, the gifts of the bride.

Groomsmen were Donald MacKay, the groom's brother, while the ushers were Allan Holmes and Wayne Currie.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church for friends and relatives from Acton, London, Walkerton, Kincardine and Toronto.

For her daughter's marriage Mrs. Sinclair chose a dress of blue embroidered organza with pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother wore for the occasion a green silk brocade dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Among the guests were the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross of Kincardine and the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Albert McCutcheon of Acton.

The couple left on a trip to New York City. The bride wore a powder blue sheath dress with a beige coat, bag and shoes, blue hat and gloves, with a corsage of blue carnations.

They are making their home in London.
