

District parks were crowded on the weekend. There'll be a band concert in the park Sunday afternoon at 2.30. Crowds in the park on the weekend likely set another record, officials think. The old saying, "Make hay while the sun shines," applies to all farmers this week. Employees of the tannery at Huntsville have been in town looking for homes here. Restaurants are frequented by husbands left to their own devices, with their wives in the great northern outdoors. Friends were watching with interest when members of the Scottish dance club performed on Kitchener TV last Friday noon.

Minor fire in a Glitto Electric car sent firemen up to Glenlea subdivision Thursday afternoon of last week. Damage was slight. Crumbling steps at Knox church are being fixed this week. At the south entrance, it was found necessary to replace the cement completely, while the north steps are being repaired. Department of Highways workmen erected railway crossing signs at the Mill St. C.M.R. crossing yesterday (Wednesday) and new ties have been laid to level the track for crossing traffic. Holidays are over for the writers of the regular items on the Farm News page. They return with an account of today's county land judging competition and a warning to farmers to watch for grass tetany outbreaks.

Song, Mime, Dances By Clubbers on TV

The Scottish Country Dance "The High Road to Wigton" was performed by members of the Acton Scottish Dance Club, who appeared on CKCO TV Kitchener, on the new program "Noon Watch" on Friday, July 8. The dancers were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wilson, Mrs. Robert Buckner, Jack McGeachie, Mrs. R. W. Gardner, Laurence Doby, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Connal of Guelph.

"The Laird O' Cockpen" was presented in song and mime. Mrs. R. Buckner sang the narration with Mrs. Aileen Burnam. Guelph, at the piano. The cast as follows: the Laird, James McLaughlin; mistress Jean, Mrs. Andrew Horn, both of Guelph; stable boy, Jim Donnelly; maid, Pat Graham.

Explains Legend Jim Donnelly was spokesman for the group and explained that one legend about the reel of Tulloch says, that it originated on a wintry Sunday at Tulloch in Perthshire, Scotland. To keep warm while waiting for the minister, the congregation standing along the aisles danced reel steps and swung each other by the arms.

"The Reel of Tulloch" was danced by Mrs. Bill Wilson and Jack McGeachie, Mrs. R. W. Gardner and Laurie Doby.

Scotsdale Farm Manager Host To 4-H Clubbers for Judging

The third regular meeting of the Acton-Nassagaweya 4-H Calf Club was held on July 6 in the beautiful surroundings of Scotsdale Farm of S. G. Bennett, R.R. 1, Georgetown. A full membership and a good number of adults were in attendance. President James Aitken conducted the business portion of the meeting.

Club leader Nino Braida introduced Maurice Baker, farm manager and genial host of the evening, commented that Mr. Baker was the key figure behind the success story of the world-famous Scotsdale Shorthorn herd.

Judging Procedure Mr. Baker, using a class of senior heifers, gave detailed instructions on the procedure of judging beef cattle emphasizing the points which improve carcass quality. Each member then placed the class and trial seasons were taken by D. E. Jackson and Nino Braida. Mr. Jackson, associate agriculture representative, gave the official placing and reasons.

After the work sheets were taken up, the group inspected a battery of Scotsdale bulls with commentary by Mr. Baker.

Club vice president Russell Murray thanked the host on behalf of the club members.

Parliament Library Gives Info on Acton An Ottawa art dealer learned about Acton the hard way.

He noticed a picture in the Globe and Mail of the recent sketching trip held here under the auspices of the Five Counties Art Association. The picture was of sketching and the facts were sketchy... so he looked up the latest issue of the Free Press in the parliamentary library.

Growing more and more interested, he wrote to the Free Press this week and the letter has been forwarded to George Bowman, The Ottawa man, Harold Kelson, expects to have a studio for all sorts of art and handicraft work in Toronto.

Not Holiday Yet For Caretakers

It's summer holidays for the children — and for the teachers — but not for the school caretakers. They'll be busy almost all summer with their "summer housecleaning".

Tasks ahead of them at all three schools include dusting, washing, waxing floors, cleaning and waxing desks and other furniture. And housewives can imagine the hours of labor ahead for them in washing all those walls, and shining all those huge windows!

Power Interrupted Install Transformer

Acton Hydro workmen completed the installation of a new 50 KVA transformer to serve the Mill St. buildings from Adams to Steinbergs during a power interruption on Monday.

The interruption affected Willow St. north to Bower Ave. including properties on Mill St.

THREE SILVER DOLLARS go to Leonard Van Der Polder, who placed first in the nine and 10-year-old boys' race at the community picnic in the park Monday. Paul Nielsen gives him the prize with Dave Manes watching. Program included races, ball games, band concert, bingo and draws. All prizes were gleaming silver dollars.

Three New Members Named to Consistory Many Useful Gifts Opened at Shower

Last Sunday after the regular afternoon service the Christian Returned Church held a congregational meeting.

As P. Wierstra, who recently moved to Fergus, Henry Hazenberg and Edward Kamminga ended their three-year term, the congregation elected three new members to the consistory. Elected were John Kamminga for elder, Harm Dekens and Jake Kniken for deacons. Their terms will start in September.

Miss Sharon Brown, Guelph, assisted the bride-to-be in opening the many beautiful and useful gifts.

The guests took part in games after which a dainty lunch was served.

Friends were present from Stratford, Guelph, Toronto and Acton.
