WHY THE SPINE?

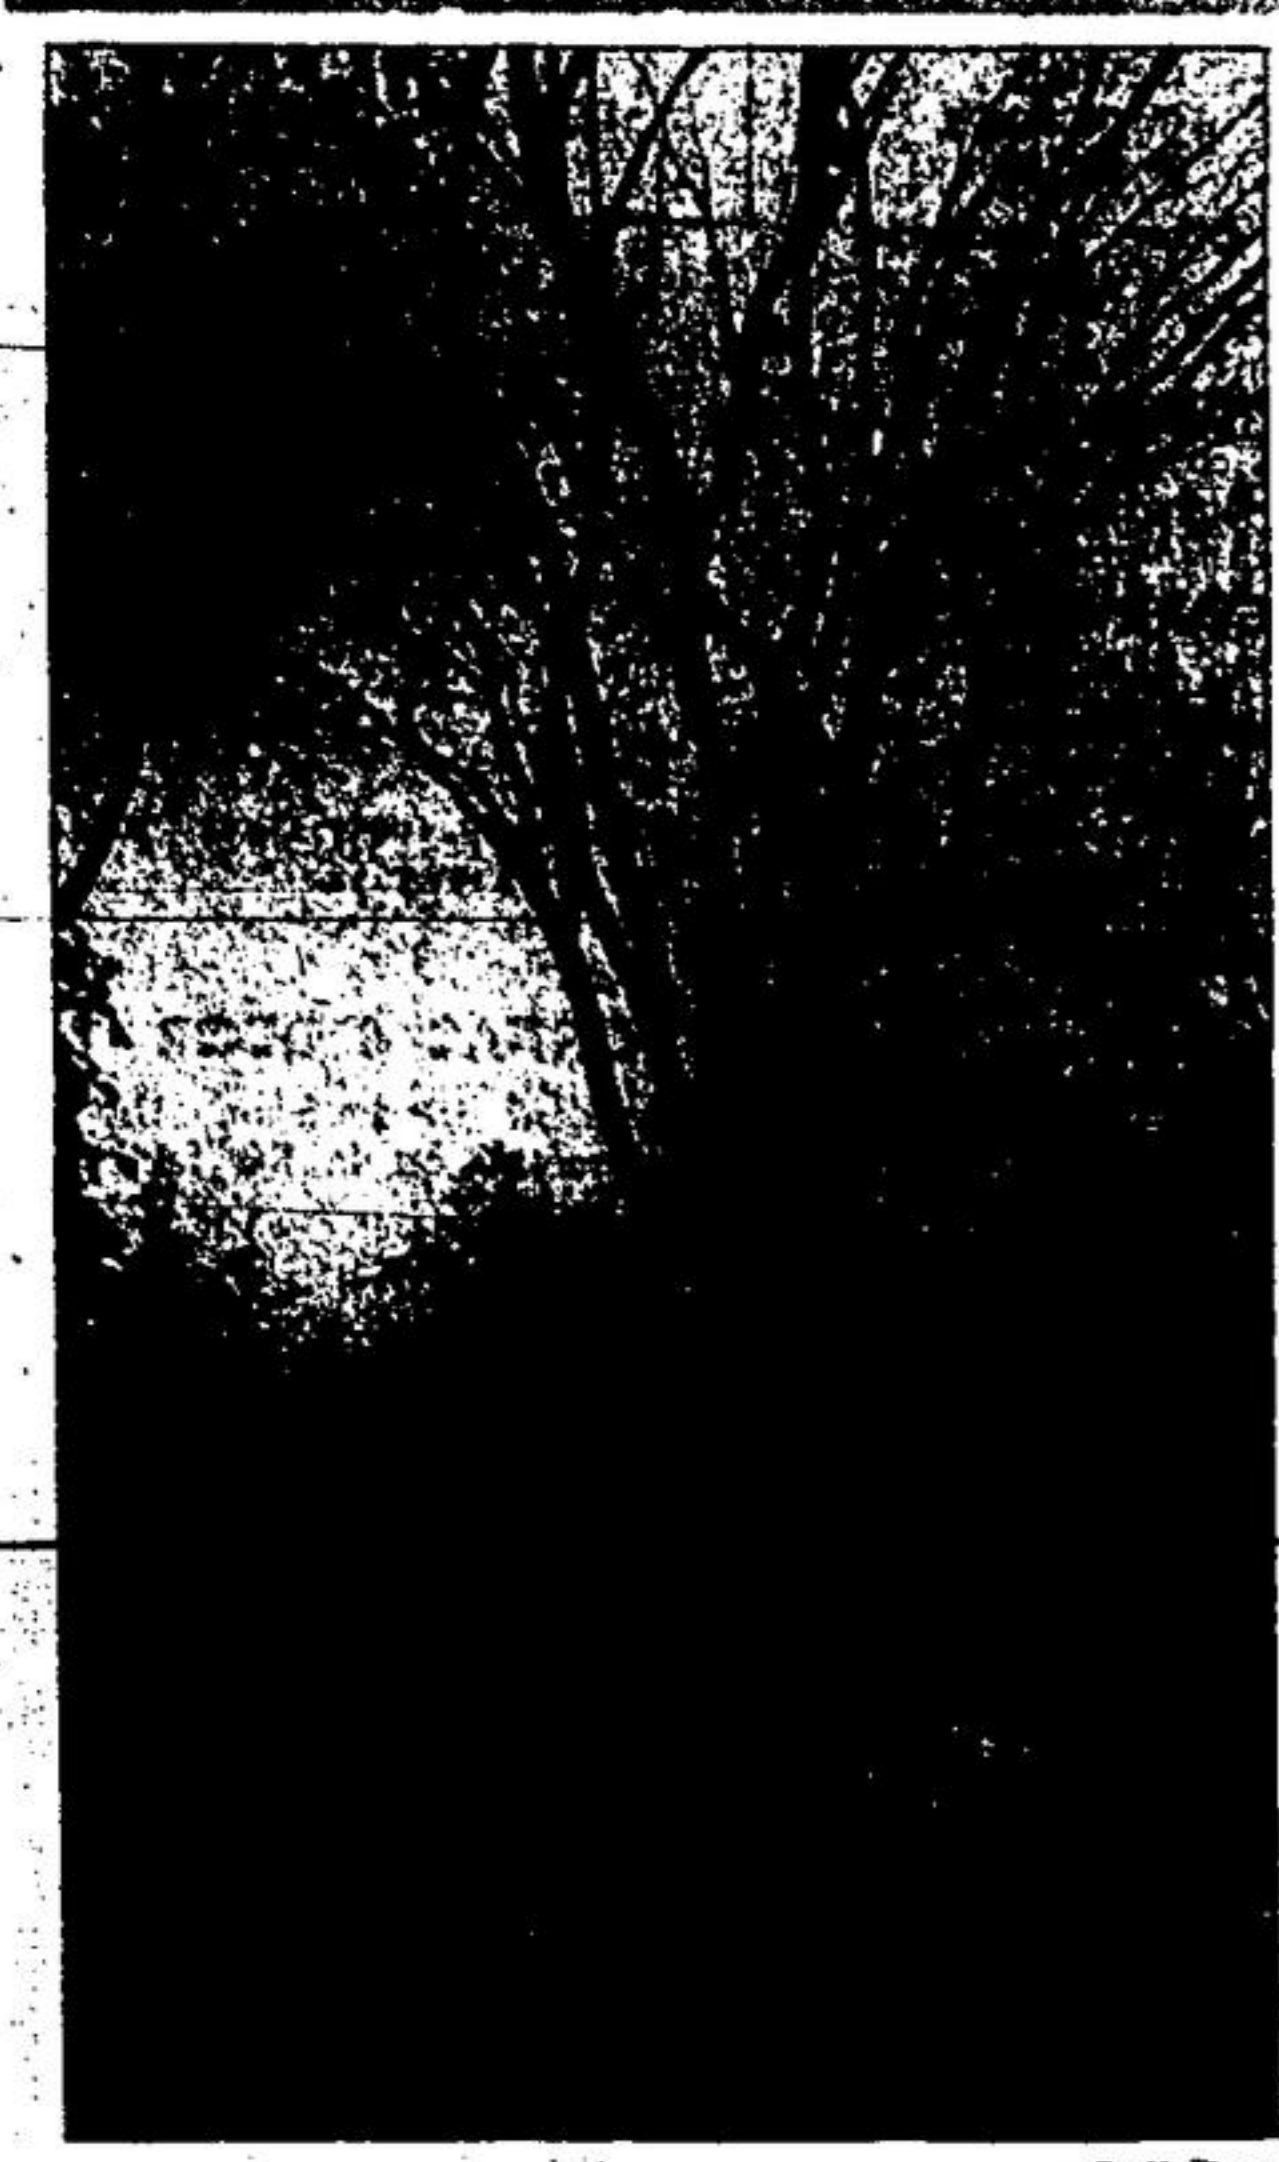

The person that can most easily understand that a house is in danger of collapse when its frame is out of line, or that the function of an automobile will prove defective and dangerous if its supporting structures are bent and distorted, and its movable parts out of alignment, can understand as well that bent and twisted body frameworks cause ailments through the entire body.

To the oft-repeated question, "Well isn't everyone's body and spine out of line?" we would answer, "Everyone whose spine is out of line is sick, to a greater or lesser degree, and he continues sick until these mechanical defects are eliminated."

The first requisite of health procedure is the maintenance of the mechanical integrity of the body—free from spinal defects and posture distortion in keeping with chiropractic principles.

The practice of Chiropractic is as broad as the nervous system which controls all organs, glands and tissue of the body. Therefore modern chiropractic is applicable to a wide variety of diseases which effect the human body and mind.

Research and study have revealed that if any two spinal bones are not in their exact relationship, the openings through which the nerves pass will be decreased, inflicting a pressure upon such nerves.

100-YEAR-OLD ELM which stood in the grounds at the Robert Little school was cut down this week as part of the clean-up of broken and dead trees. Lorne and Russell Johnson have been busy this week doing the work. Pictured above the elm tree, struck with an elm disease, is beginning to topple. Photographers on the scene grabbed a quick picture and ran for safety before the 60 foot tree crashed to the ground near the spot they had been standing.

A bold thief stole a power mower in broad daylight Wednesday from a station wagon owned by Morley Allen, Acton, while the vehicle was parked in the Station Hotel parking lot. Mr. Allen reported the incident to police around 6.15 p.m. but no trace of thief or mower has been found.

—Summer school for high school teachers concludes this week.
