Halton, Wentworth Inspectorates Changed, McNeil Takes New Area

The Department of Education has announced changes in the boundaries of Public School Inspectorates in Halton and Wentworth Counties. Effective September 1, Halton No. 4 and Wentworth No. 2 will include the towns of Acton and Milton, the village of Waterdown, and the townships of East and West Flamboro, W. L. McNeil, B.A., B.Ed., formerly Inspector in Halton No. 1, has been appointed Inspector in charge of this new Inspectorate.

R. F. Bornhold, B.A., M.Ed., will continue in charge of Halton No. 1 Inspectorate which will include the towns of Oakville and Georgetown and the townships of Esquesing and Nassagaweya.

Two Others
The Township of Trafalgar will remain as last year with L. L. Skuce, B.A., B.Ed., as Superintendent and W. K. M. Armstrong, B.A., M.Ed., as Inspector. In the town of Burlington, D. S. Lawless, B.A., M.Ed., continues as Superintendent with D. B. Deacon, B.A., and J. B. Mitchell, B.A., B.Ed., as Inspectors of Public Schools. J. D. Hogan, B.A., B.Ed., continues as Separate School Inspector, Burlington Division, with jurisdiction in the Separate Schools of all of Halton and Wentworth Counties exclusive of the city of Hamilton.

131 Grows to 900
It is interesting to note that the area covered by J. M. Denyes, in the years 1916 to 1931 when he was Public School Inspector in Halton and Wentworth Counties, included all of Halton County and the Townships of East and West Flamboro and Beverly in Wentworth County. According to Mr. Denyes' report in 1931, there were then 21 teachers in Esquesing, 10 in Nassagaweya, 16 in Nelson Township, 20 in Trafalgar, six in East Flamboro, five in West Flamboro, eight in Acton, 14 in Burlington, nine in Georgetown, eight in Milton, 14 in Oakville—a total of 131 teachers for one Inspector over the entire area. This September, there will be eight Inspectors covering approximately the same region with over 900 teachers appointed to take care of the large enrollment of children.

Probable enrolments in the two new Inspectorates next week is estimated at 8,800 students, an increase of about 200 students over last year.

Stress International Aspect During Rotary Dinner Meet

Tuesday evening appeared to be International night during the Acton Rotary Club's dinner meeting when a special welcome was extended to Gene Fairall of Urbana, Ohio, a dinner guest.

An interesting letter from a Cuban Rotarian was read by Fred Wright, international news control secretary, and was very much enjoyed by the members.

Fall-out Shelters

For use in case of emergencies, the club members scanned basement fallout shelter pamphlets distributed from the town office.

Rotarian Ken Hufford was welcomed back to the club after seven weeks sojourn with the Parry Sound Club. He presented the Acton members with a banner from the Parry Sound club and brought greetings.

It was noted during the meeting that the name of Charles

Mrs. M. Plester Gets Lions' $100

The $100 jackpot at the regular Lions club bingo in the Legion Friday was won by Mrs. M. Plester. The snowball jackpot, which wasn't won, goes up to $175 for the next bingo, a week tomorrow. Summer weather thinned the crowd but the event was again successful.

AD FACT No. 5

BY HENRY DEVEAU

Railway freight carried by railways operating in Canada in 1959 increased 8.4% to 164,809,587 tons from the preceding year's 152,051,381 tons, according to the DBS annual report on railway freight traffic. Newspapers play a big part in the advertising of goods and services and in creating the demand which results in the increased flow of merchandise and materials.

—Regular Sunday school commences again this Sunday in most churches.

—One advertiser reports having six phone calls by Friday evening to a small ad placed in last Thursday's paper.

—Stocks of flea powder for cats are dwindling fast in the stores in town. Seems this is the season for fleas.

—Now is the time to thin out or replant your perennial bed. Fall is the best time to move irises, peonies and delphinium.

—Don't forget to get your tulips and daffodils in soon.

—Fairy Lake is still a popular spot for bathers. The water has been exceptionally good this year.

—Many Actonians are visiting the Canadian National Exhibition this week.

—While the children are enjoying the last few days of holidays, the teachers have started already getting ready for them. Both public and high school staff are back to school early, preparing for the influx.

—Far hay fever victims, it's miserable weather.

—Roy Downs, who wrote the interesting article on Indian artifacts in this issue, is news editor of the Milton weekly newspaper, the Champion.

—Have you noticed more envelope salesmen than usual this summer knocking at doors? At least four separate deals have been offered.

—Totalling up just how many children will be off the streets and behind closed doors once school starts again, we were surprised to discover they number almost a quarter of the town's population. We checked with the town office and learn that although the last assessment set Acton's population at 4,240, officials figure it's up to 4,300 by now. And 1,212 of them will be back to their desks next week.

—Roofing is inching its way along the high peak at the new United Church. Shape of things to come is plainly visible to the many "sidewalk superintendents". It's hoped to have the new church open very soon.

—Do you realize almost one-quarter of Halton's population goes to school?

—Stores are displaying back-to-school articles as a reminder to be prepared. The ads this week are interesting and helpful.

—Members of Acton United Church viewed with interest a scale model of the new choir loft made by George Elliott. This model was on a table in the entrance of the Y on Sunday.

—The close proximity of the Free Press building to the Robert Little public school makes it possible to view the children taking a peek at the school before opening day Tuesday.

—Gladys are big and beautiful. District greenhouses have plenty of them for sale.

—St. John Ambulance Brigade plans a senior first aid course beginning September 14. The course will be under the supervision of Dave Penson.

—The largest crowd of the season attended Tuesday evening's softball game at the park.
