Launch Easter Seal Program To Assist Crippled Children

Over 1,500 Easter Seal envelopes were mailed out last week by Acton Rotary Club during their annual campaign to assist crippled children.

Heading the campaign this year is Rotarian Bill Pendleton, assisted by a committee. The chairman this week expressed his pleasure at the response the citizens of Acton have given during previous campaigns and urged everyone to support this year's campaign in the same manner.

During the past year, leading physicians and surgeons of hospitals specializing in orthopaedic services attended clinics held at strategic locations throughout Ontario for the benefit of crippled youngsters.

The out-clinic service provided by the far flung facilities of the Ontario Society for Crippled Children has developed under the closely related co-operation between the society and the 226 service clubs which each year conduct the Easter Seal campaign to finance assistance to help crippled children. In addition to helping finance the treatment of crippled children from their community, the service clubs help with the clinics by transporting youngsters and helping to provide accommodation for those who cannot return immediately.

The society and the service clubs organize the clinics under the medical committee which enrolls a volunteer specialist.

The latter includes literally every top specialist in the field of medicine and surgery which are necessary to the children's benefit.

Plans for clinics are laid well in advance. Through local offices of health, public health nurses and local doctors, the society's nurses locate and visit crippled children, report their needs and plan their attendance at a clinic. On a planned day children from hundred of miles around a community will gather. To meet them will be specialists in orthopaedic surgery and other branches of medicine, together with local doctors who diagnose their conditions and prescribe treatment.

If the latter can be provided locally, the local doctor then supervises it. If treatment is required in a big city hospital, arrangements are made for transportation and hospitalization by the society.

For the 1961 Easter Seal campaign, there is a minimum of $875,000 needed to carry on this and other services. Everyone is asked to respond to this great need by answering the message they have received from Acton Rotary Club.

Lions in Cancer Drive Eyeglasses Go to India

The Acton Lions Club held their twice monthly dinner meeting on Monday last at the Station Hotel. An almost hundred per cent turnout heard Lion Bill Tullon, past president of the Streetsville Lions Club, speak about the projects and method of operation of his particular club.

The summer Carnival committee, comprising Lions Ray Arbie and Jerry Ego, announced satisfactory progress to date, although detailed planning is still in the preliminary stages. The well known Brown and Crown amusements have been booked for the carnival which is to be held on Wednesday, May 31, and Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 1, 2, and 3 respectively.

Further club business was discussed and respective committee chairmen gave their reports.

Assist Canvass
Lion Bert Halliday will arrange canvassing teams in conjunction with the forthcoming Cancer Society drive which the Acton Lions will be assisting.

Lion John Bundell reported on the forthcoming Community night in and of the proposed new school for retarded children, which is being organized by the Acton Scottish Dance Club, and which the Lions Club, together with other service clubs, will assist.

Glasses for India
A parcel of eyeglasses collected in Acton over the last year will be despatched shortly on their way to India, announced Lion Peter Apillon. These glasses will be distributed free of charge after suitable modification, to the underprivileged citizens of that country. The Acton Lions Club wishes to thank all donors of eyeglasses who have made this possible, and hope for continued support in this rewarding project. Glasses may be left at E. T. Marks grocery store, Lamb Real Estate, both on Mill St., or with any member of the Acton Lions Club.

Helicoptel Service Yet?

Hotels, Motels, "Helicoptel", what next?

The men in the white jackets haven't started chugging us yet but by the sound of that first sentence, they might have a straight jacket ready.

Taken for granted are cars parked at hotels and motels but strangely enough few have seen a helicopter parked at a motel. Finally it has happened.

Two Toronto businessmen enroute to Armstrong Brothers gravel pit on the sixth line of Esquesing Tuesday noon glanced at their watches and realized it was dinner time. There they were stuck in the air with nary a landing strip in sight. Ed White and Andy Hudson of the Federal Employment of Canada Ltd. forgot to tell their wives to pack a lunch and the pangs of hunger had overtaken them.

"A lunch counter at the motel just ahead," sighs passenger Ed White as he tucks another notch in his belt. "Good" remarks pilot Andy Hudson as he dips the helicopter towards the clearing in front of the Cedar Springs Motel on number 7 highway, east of Acton.

Within a matter of seconds the two men were alighting from the plane as the whirling rotor blade still kicked up a bit of dust in the driveway.

Nothing New
The proprietor, Oswald Bertrand, and his daughter Giselle glanced out the window of the coffee shop and then turned up the burner under the coffee pot.

Just as cool as cucumbers. Unusual for the helicopter to pop in at your doorstep? Not to this couple. The helicopter and two men were familiar — they had been in for lunch before!

Frequent visitors in the area, the company representatives had stopped various times while motoring and on one other occasion in the helicopter.

New Face

During Corp. Ray Mason's holidays, Cons. Ron Dunlop of Dundas detachment of the O.P.P. is on temporary duty here.

Fete Mrs. Stark on Birthday Measles, Flu are in District

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Currie attended the funeral of their cousin, Mrs. Tennyson, Port Credit, Friday.

Sorry to report that Clarence McCready is a patient in Milton District Hospital. Many hope he will soon be improved.

Achieve Service, Ed Davenport and Lloyd May, Halton delegates to the Ontario Hog Producers' Association, were in Toronto last week for two days attending the meetings, also the banquet and presentation to Charles McMinis.

30th Anniversary
Best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Peddie who will be 30 years married on April 4.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Frost on the arrival of their chosen daughter.

Miss Kathleen Powters was hostess Friday night at her home for a miscellaneous shower to honor Evelyn Peddie, an April bride-to-be. Contests were enjoyed during the early part of the evening. About 20 girls were present and presented Evelyn with many useful gifts. The party finished with the serving of a lovely lunch.

Mrs. Wm. Stark (Margaret Chisholm), Milton, was pleasantly surprised on her 80th birthday. On Friday night, about 75 relatives and friends from Acton, Georgetown, Toronto and surrounding district gathered in Ligny school for a visit and a friendly game of progressive euchre. Mrs. Stark received a purse of money as a birthday gift. Many more happy birthdays to Mrs. Stark.

Edgar Howden and Douglas Robertson spent several days at the Purina research farm in St. Louis, Mo.

Mrs. Finlay Joyce taught school at Ligny for a few days while Mrs. Riddle was sick with the flu. There are quite a number of cases of measles and flu in the district, and we hope all will soon be feeling better.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Wilson were hosts on Monday night to the directors of Esquesing Federation of Agriculture and their wives for a social evening. Euchre was played, and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Bert Davidson for ladies' high, and Mrs. Roy Currie won second prize. Gent's high went to Chester Early and second prize and travel prize for lone hands went to Cliff Brown. Mrs. Denny Charles won the prize for holding two mines at a set time in the game. During a short business meeting, plans were made for a euchre party in Stewarttown hall in April. The evening closed with lunch.
